Musical Musings

By Dominic Duray, Director of Music & Liturgy

The “Prayer of St. Francis” was written centuries ago by St. Francis of Assisi himself. The text is very poetic, either listing sufferings that are each followed by ways to heal each other in each of them, or by listing things that we do that lead to us receiving gifts back. This prayer is set to music by Sebastian Temple, who wrote the music in the twentieth century.

I decided to get quite creative with my arrangement for this piece. Much of the song is in a quasi-tango rhythm, meant to sound like a Latin American dance or folk song, somewhat as a homage to Sebastian Temple’s treatment of the music. The music gradually increases its volume, arriving loudly at the third verse. In the second verse, the music stops for a couple beats just after the word “darkness.” It’s a little word painting; darkness is nothingness in sight, and there is the nothingness of music just after we sing that word.

With the third verse, even though we start it loud, we get softer midway through. The text shows us why. As we start to sing about being “consoled, as to console,” we get softer. The rest of the piece is full of this intimate text, even ending with the phrase “And in dying that we’re born to eternal life.” So the dancing rhythms stop by the middle of the third verse, we get softer, and the harmonies get more pentatonic (pleasant sounding cluster chords). The resulting sound is a softer, more intimate feel that invites contemplation and reservation at the end of the piece.

SEEKING PARISH PASTORAL COUNCIL CANDIDATES

The Christ the King Parish Pastoral Council is now accepting applications and nominations for upcoming openings.

Members serve a three-year term, with the option of an additional term, and attend monthly meetings on the third Wednesday.

If interested, scan the QR code to apply.

For questions, or to nominate someone you think would be a good addition, please contact Parish Council Chair Ted Murphy at Councilchair@ctk-indy.org or Vice Chair Lisa Zainey at Councilvicechair@ctk-indy.org.
