Annual World Environment Day was celebrated June 5th. This year’s theme is “Raise Your Voice for Nature”. It helps to emotionally connect to nature in order to be passionate about protecting and preserving our planet… We eat, drink, breathe, live in direct correlation to how we care for creation.

Today as we celebrate the gift of the Body and Blood of Christ let us pray for those who are hungry, malnourished and starving.

Is there a family you know who needs assistance? Please call the Society of St. Vincent de Paul so that together we can help those who are hungry.

LIVING FAITH
We know that with the Covid-19 Pandemic you have not been able to pick up a “Living Faith” Daily Catholic Devotions booklet. We would be happy make them available to you individually if you call to make arrangements or if you would like one mailed to you. Please call the office and leave a message to let us know. Thanks.

Solemnity of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Christ

Today’s solemnity was first called Corpus Christi, which is Latin for “the Body of Christ.” People in the Middle Ages wanted a joyful day to celebrate Jesus’ gift of the eucharist. They created today’s feast at a good time of year for processions and street fairs and other outdoor events.

The processions on this day were fantastic. In many towns the streets were lined with flowers. Often flowers and herbs were arranged into pictures and intricate designs. The bread of the Lord’s Body were carried outdoors under a canopy. Bands played and many people joined in singing hymns of praise. These processions still take place in some towns in Latin America and in Europe.

Today, many Christians think that the best way to celebrate Jesus’ gift of the eucharist is to put heart and soul into celebrating the eucharist well. That way every Lord’s Day is a feast of the Body and Blood of Christ.

Corpus Christi is one of the most Catholic of days, an expression of our faith in the real presence of Christ in the Blessed Sacrament. And yet, this celebration is also outward looking, carrying the liturgy out of the church and into the streets. We come together in all our diversity and we celebrate our unity. As Pope Benedict XVI has said, “The Eucharist is a public devotion that has nothing esoteric or exclusive about it . . . we did not choose to meet one another, we came and find ourselves next to one another, brought together by faith and called to become one body, sharing the one Bread which is Christ. We are united over and above our differences of nationality, profession, social class, political ideas: we open ourselves to one another to become one in him” (Homily for Thursday, May 22, 2008).

Bread, Cup, Body, Blood

Bread and wine become the Body and Blood of Christ during the Eucharistic Prayer at Mass. The Holy Spirit works this miracle in the presence of the faithful, who join the priest’s prayer in silence and song.

Belief in the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist is central to Catholic faith. In the past, some have doubted this belief, but the Church has always responded with unwavering conviction, founded on the Bible. “This is my body. . . This is my blood” (Matthew 26:26-28). “The bread that I will give is my flesh for the life of the world” (John 6:51). “My flesh is true food and my blood is true drink” (John 6:55). “The one who eats this bread will live forever” (John 6:58). “As often as you eat this bread and drink this cup, you proclaim the Lord’s death until he comes” (1Cor 11:26).

The word bread in these Scriptures does not diminish our faith that the bread is the Body of Christ. The liturgy also uses “bread and cup” to refer to the Body and Blood of Christ. The third Memorial Acclamation has us sing, “When we eat this Bread and drink this Cup.” Eucharistic Prayer IV prays for “all who partake of this one Bread and one Chalice.” The first Eucharistic Prayer for Masses with Children offers “the bread that gives us life, and the cup that saves us.” The Lamb of God accompanies the Fraction of the Bread. Some of our hymns also refer to bread and wine, but in the context of the Mass, the meaning remains true to Catholic teaching. What we eat and drink is the Body and Blood of Christ.

Greetings from Mary Sue Reutebuch Director of Christian Formation: Family and Youth Programs

Like so many, I am angered and deeply upset by the death of George Floyd. I am so grateful to have our Catholic Faith to turn to and be guided.

On June 2 the Bishops of Wisconsin sent out a letter with an inspiring message acknowledging these traumatic times. They write, “We encourage everyone to examine any attitudes of racism within themselves or others that contribute to a culture of disrespect of the dignity and rights of every human person.” I also took these words to heart, “We support and join with those who speak out against injustice and applaud efforts to peaceably protest against the murder of George Floyd and others who have been struck down by prejudice and abuse of power.”

This message moved me to put on a mask and take part in a peaceful protest in front of our State capital in Madison. It was there that I met Regina. It is Regina I will never forget.

Regina is a 80 year old African American woman who had seen it all. She wore a shirt that said, Jesus Weeps, Martin Luther King Weeps. Do You Weep? Through her mask, we walked and she told me her story. Regina marched in several protests in the 60’s. She said, “Honey, as long as I can walk I will protest. It’s important to let God know we are watchin out for all his children.” Amen Regina!

Greetings from Holly Cerveny, Principal of St. Joan of Arc

With all the heartache and challenges in the world today, we experienced a bright spot at St. Joan of Arc Parish School. On the last day of school every year, Fr. Mike blesses the students into their new grade as only Fr. Mike can do—with a LOT of water!

This is such an important part of the closure of our school year, I was determined to make it happen. Through quite a bit of coordination and the work of many hands, we had an end of the year blessing that was unlike any we’ve done before, but it was so special and unique!
Students and parents snaked through our parking lot in one long car parade, each waiting their turn for their blessing as a family from Fr. Mike and Ms. Ellen.
Along the way, teachers waited with waves hello
and water shooters
to add to the fun!
