ST. JOAN'S/ST. CATHERINE'S READS BOOK CLUB

This is a true story about the author, William Kamkwamba, who was born in Malawi. In this African country, magic not science ruled. William was able to go to a boarding school, but a nation wide famine left his family unable to pay his fees, so he had to drop out of school. But William had a desire to help his family farm with bringing it electricity and water, and this is his story. We will meet on July 19 to discuss The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind: Creating Currents of Electricity and

Hope you will join us for the discussions. Questions, call Mary Miller at 262-567-9306, leave a message. We meet at the Waukesha State Bank, Fowler Room downstairs. The bank is next to Chili's, off Hwy 67, near I-94. We meet at 10 a.m.

Today as we celebrate the feast of the Ascension we are reminded that Christ's saving work on earth continues through his disciples... and now through us.

When we give to the poor, God indeed pours his love, peace and joy into our hearts, into our lives and into the hearts of those who are poor.

Heartfelt Gratitude from Mary Sue

Dear Friends,

Nine years ago, I accepted the position as Director of Christian Formation here for the clustered parishes of St. Catherine of Alexandria and St. Joan of Arc. Serving the children, youth, and families beside inspiring and dedicated colleagues has been one of the greatest spiritual gifts I have known. My heart is full of gratitude.

That said, in the past year, I have felt a pull towards a return to my roots in administration within Montessori education. It was not an easy decision, but after much thought and prayer, I accepted a position as Principal in a Montessori School not too far from our Whitewater home.

Each person we love leaves a mark on us. We forever become part of one another, affecting each other in ways that often continue to unfold for years. Each one of you has blessed my ministry here because all of you together are what makes the living and breathing Body of Christ. This is a truth I will forever treasure!

Together with Christ, we have done deep, loving, remarkable work. And in doing so, we've created space for new opportunities and insights to take root and flourish. My final prayer for all of you is to be open and ready for the next Director who will bring another light of Christ for you to embrace and cherish.

Along with my husband Tim and my son Jeremy we offer sincere love and gratitude for each of you.

May you share and live the love of Jesus ever more fully and fiercely into the world.

Love and Blessings,

Mary Sue

SEVENTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

An Intimate Union

God who dwells among us,
 we are grateful for the life
 you share with us,
 a life of shared union
 with your Son, Jesus, our Lord,
 and the Holy Spirit who guides us.
 Give us hearts that are open to
 your love,
 and the courage to share that love
 even in the face of rejection.
 May we, like Jesus, grounded in
 your love,
 seek unity with our brothers
 and sisters.
 Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Jesus' Prayer for Us

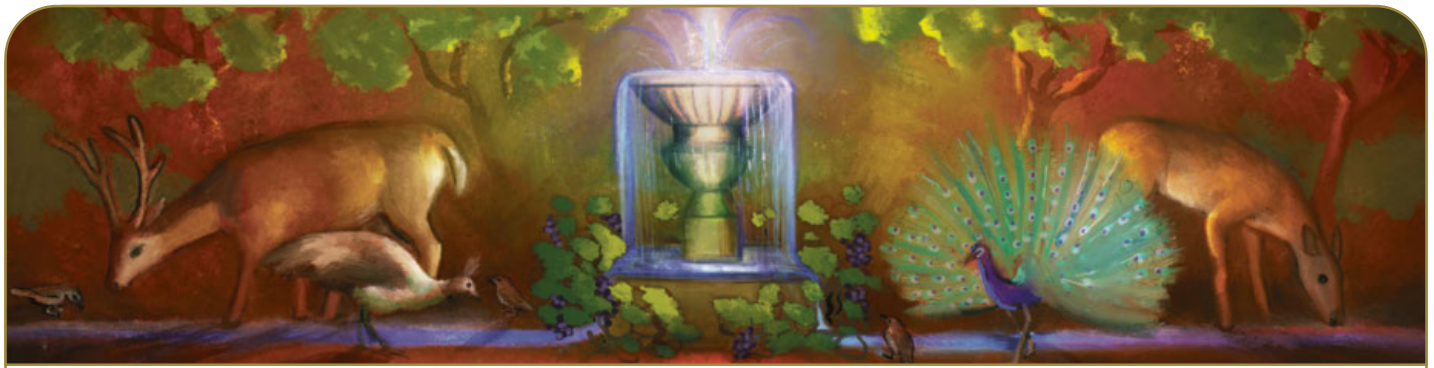

Today's readings: Acts 7:55–60; Psalm 97:1–26–7, 9; Revelation 22:12–14, 16–17, 20; John 17:20–26. In today's Gospel, Jesus expresses a desire that the Father love his followers just as he loves his Beloved Son. He prays: "That the love with which you loved me may be in them and I in them." This prayer is for us as well as the disciples two thousand years ago. Jesus wants us to know the depth of God's love in every moment of our lives.

Jesus' prayer to the Father is not just that followers be embraced with love but that they be brought into a union with God. He implores "that they may also be one. As you, Father, are in me and I in you may they also be in us."

In this prayer we see Jesus' desire for unity with all of God's children.

When life is most challenging, it is good to remember that Jesus prays for us to know and believe in God's love. These prayers assist us in witnessing to our friends and community that God is near. The gift of Easter is that we know and believe that the darkness of this world has no power over us, that sin and struggle will never have the last word. As we await the celebration of Pentecost, the coming of the Holy Spirit, are you willing and open to witness to the joy of the Gospel to a world so in need of God's love and mercy?

THIS WEEK AT HOME

Monday, May 30

Take Courage

Jesus tells his disciples, “In the world you face persecution. But take courage, I have conquered the world.” When we spread the Gospel, we do so knowing that Jesus has gone before us, and that his persecution, death, and rising, offer eternal life. We do not face the trouble in our lives by ourselves; our faith reminds us that we are never alone. Today’s readings: Acts 19:1–8; Psalm 68:2–3ab, 4–5acd, 6–7ab; John 16:29–33.

Tuesday, May 31

Blessed Encounters

Today we celebrate the Feast of the Visitation of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Once Mary hears about her cousin Elizabeth being with child, as she is herself, the Gospel tells us she travels in haste to be with her. Elizabeth’s greeting was both a comfort and affirmation for Mary. Today remember and pray in gratitude for the people in your life who, in times of challenge, support you. Today’s readings: Zephaniah 3:14–18a or Romans 12:9–16; Isaiah 12:2–3, 4bcd, 5–6; Luke 1:39–56.

Wednesday, June 1

What Is the Truth?

For his disciples and for us, Jesus prays, “Sanctify them in the truth.” The prayer commits us to being and saying what is true. Pray for the grace to know the truth in your life, and to be a witness of what is true—that is, every human being is created in the image of God and deserves to be treated with respect and dignity. Imagine a world that recognizes this truth. Today’s readings: Acts 20:28–38; Psalm 68:29–30, 33–35a, 35bc–36ab; John 17:11b–19.

Thursday, June 2

Being One

What would our world look like if we believed that we are all called to be one as Jesus is with his Father? In and through our baptism, we are united with God and others in our faith community, and because of this union, we are to be a witness to others. How would striving for unity with all Christians change the way you pray, the way you live, and the way you make present God’s love in our world? Today’s readings: Acts 22:30; 23:6–11; Psalm 16:1–2a and 5, 7–8, 9–10, 11; John 17:20–26.

Friday, June 3

God Is Good and Kind

One of the songs from the musical Godspell was adapted from today’s Psalm 103 “Bless the Lord, O my soul.” The song and psalm remind us to remember the goodness and kindness of God. When was the last time you paused to thank God for something good in your life? When have you felt God’s abundant kindness in your life? Today’s readings: Acts 25:13b–21; Psalm 103:1–2, 11–12, 19–20ab; John 21:15–19.

Saturday, June 4

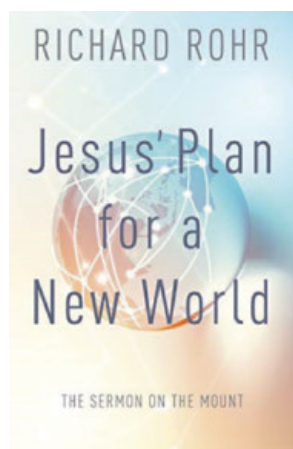

Stories to Guide Us

Scripture is a living, breathing revelation of God’s life with humanity. Stories in the Bible are rooted in a certain time and place. But each of those stories holds a truth that is still relevant today. In our living out of our faith we continue to breathe life into the words of Scripture. Take some time soon to sit down with Scripture, discover the stories of our ancestors in faith, get to know Jesus better, and embrace the challenge of discipleship. Today’s readings: Acts 28:16–20, 30–31; Psalm 11:4, 5 and 7; John 21:20–25.

Greetings from Mary Sue Reutebuch
Director of Christian Formation: Family and Youth Programs

Looking for a few books to read this summer?
 Here are a few suggestions from me to you....

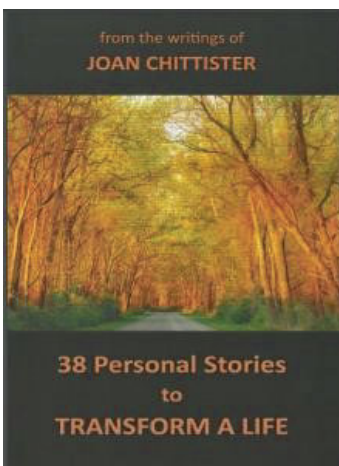

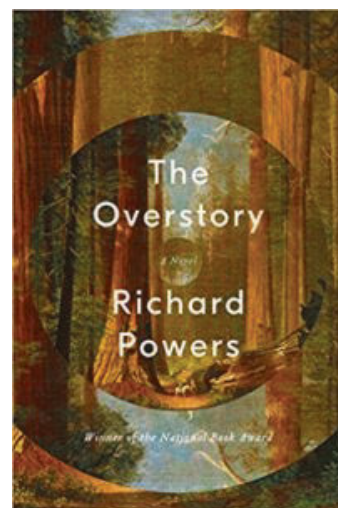

Spiritual Challenge!

Jesus' Plan for a New World—When Jesus talked about the Kingdom of God, he was talking about an utterly different way of relating to human society as we know it. He was talking about a new world order. Fr. Rohr states, "For all the talk of a new world order, it's simply the old world order. The 'New World Order,' or the 'Reign of God,' is the heart of the New Testament."

A New Look at Our Connection with the Natural World!

The Overstory, winner of the Pulitzer Prize in Fiction, is a sweeping, impassioned work of activism and resistance that is also a stunning evocation of—and paean to—the natural world. From the roots to the crown and back to the seeds, Richard Powers's twelfth novel unfolds in concentric rings of interlocking fables that range from antebellum New York to the late twentieth-century Timber Wars of the Pacific Northwest and beyond. There is a world alongside ours—vast, slow, interconnected, resourceful, magnificently inventive, and almost invisible to us. This is the story of a handful of people who learn how to see that world and who are drawn up into its unfolding catastrophe.

Authentic and full of Life Lessons!

What is a life made of other than the moments, the lessons, the surprises that become our stories? From the Writings of Joan Chittister: 38 Personal Stories to Transform a Life, Sister Joan shares dozens of the meaningful, challenging, and poignant memories that shaped her into one of the beloved spiritual writers and leaders of the twenty-first century!

Greetings from Mrs. Holly Cerveny Principal of St. Joan of Arc School

Dear Friends,

We were so excited to share in celebrating the First Communicants from our school in a special Mass as part of the school day. To end that same liturgy, we had a favorite annual tradition, the May crowning of Mary. Inside our church, our image of Mary holds the child Jesus. Our students learned that when Mary and Jesus are together, it is Jesus who is crowned first and then Mary.

Each year our second graders serve as the honor court and then we choose students from our 7th and 8th grades to be the ones that do the actual crowning of Jesus and Mary. This year, Jesus was crowned by 8th grader Peter Miller, and Mary was crowned by 7th grader Sarah Koehn. The two students then shared the honor of crowning Mary outside of our school building as the entire school community prayer Hail Mary together.

Please enjoy these images of our school First Communicants (minus two that were ill) and of the May crowning.

Easter Blessings!

Holly
