From the Pastor's Desk

Praised be Jesus Christ! The year 1991 stands out, at least to me – that's the year I graduated from high school. It's also the year the movie "The Doors" came out. I saw maybe five minutes or so of that movie and chose to stop watching because it was not a portrait of happiness. Say what you will about Jim Morrison (he was the lead singer of the band) – he certainly was talented, though God knows he had his demons. Beyond his music, he's famous for a quote that seems to surface on a regular basis, namely "Whoever controls the media controls the mind." Who, you might ask, controls the media? Fair question, one that we might ponder from time to time.

Regardless of who controls the media, Scripture gives us very solid advice that is as relevant now as it was when Saint Paul wrote it in the first century: "Do not conform yourselves to this age but be transformed by the renewal of your mind," (Romans 12:2). When I was a kid there was a "Turn off TV" campaign that was endorsed by the Bishops of the United States. As you can imagine, it wasn't all that popular with us kids, but my parents sure thought it was a step in the right direction. I can still hear my Dad complaining about all the terrible things they were putting on TV, and that was many years ago. I think it's safe to say that Dad probably never heard of Jim Morrison, but he instinctively knew that too much exposure to the media was dangerous to one's spiritual health. Isn't it amazing how intelligent our parents become as we get older?!

We're living in a time of extraordinary division, which is somewhat ironic because we're more "connected" than ever thanks to social media and the multiple ways of plugging into it. Just bring up the topic of COVID vaccines, and we immediately feel passionate or defensive or a lethal combination of both. Friendships have ended and families have suffered seemingly irreconcilable differences because of the diverse opinions raging around this volatile topic. While it might be easy to blame the media and use it as the scapegoat that exonerates our guilt, the fact is that we're being sorely tested and more often than not, being found wanting. What can we do?

A friend recently passed along a beautiful article that gave some wise advice about how to navigate the volatile waters of virus, vaccines, and vituperation. Here is the best part:

Harden Not Your Heart: On Contempt, Compassion, and Vaccines by Emily Stimpson Chapman.

Here are some suggestions about who those people are and for whom you can pray.

If you are raging at people who want you to get the vaccine, pray for...

1. Those with compromised immune systems;
2. Parents of children with compromised immune systems;
3. Parents of high-risk children who can't get a vaccine;
4. Those who work with sick children or immuno-compromised children;
5. Those who've watched their loved ones or little ones struggle with respiratory illnesses in the past;
6. Those who have spent the past 18 months caring for the sickest of the sick;
7. Spouses and children of those who have spent the past 18 months caring for the sickest of the sick;
8. Those who have lost parents, spouses, children, or dear friends to the virus;
9. Those who have watched loved ones fall severely ill or battle Long Covid;
10. Those who themselves are battling Long Covid;
11. Those with anxiety disorders.

And if you are at an absolute loss as to why someone wouldn't want a vaccine, pray for...

1. Parents of vaccine-injured children;
2. Parents who lost a child after they received a vaccine;
3. Those who have suffered adverse reactions to past vaccines;
4. Those who had an adverse reaction to the Covid vaccine;
5. Those who have witnessed someone close to them have an adverse reaction to a vaccine, Covid or otherwise;
6. Those who have had bad reactions to pharmaceuticals of any kind (and parents of children who have bad reactions to pharmaceuticals of any kind);
7. Those who have been trying desperately to conceive (or not conceive) and fear that the vaccine will interfere with that;
8. Those with clinical anxiety disorders;
9. Historically persecuted peoples whose parents, grandparents, and great-grandparents were lied to by the government and used in medical experiments;
10. Those who have been most hurt by their government's reaction to Covid and have lost trust in the State;
11. Those who feel they cannot in good conscience benefit from vaccines or pharmaceuticals manufactured using the cells of aborted human persons.

A very helpful meditation, one that we might have to engage on a regular basis so that we realize that the only true enemy of human nature is the devil. He loves to divide and conquer. The way to fight back has never changed: shout louder, be more obnoxious, and do whatever it takes to damage the enemy's credibility – I hope you recognize this as the absolute worst way to engage spiritual battles. While it is a method that is frequently used, it leaves a lot of hurt and unforgiveness in its wake. Jesus said some demons can only be driven out by prayer and fasting. These are not easy practices for us. But they still work. People who fast and pray become like Jesus, Who still loves this world. If we don't, then there's work to do.

A much more edifying movie than "The Doors" is "Seven Days in Utopia" starring Robert Duvall. At one point Duvall says grace before dinner and it's a beautiful prayer, one that reminds us of what's most important in life:

"For food in a world where many walk in hunger, for faith in a world where many walk in fear, for friends in a world where many walk alone, we give you thanks Oh Lord." Amen!

Your friend in Christ,
Father Martin

September 12, 2021 - 24th Sunday in Ordinary Time

We need to get our bearings straight and properly lay life's cornerstone. Otherwise, the rest of our journey will be skewed, and our judgment clouded. We can recall Jesus' famous rebuke of Peter, "You are thinking not as God does, but as human beings do." Even he, as one of Jesus' closest friends struggles with understanding things and grasping the big picture. Pierre Teilhard de Chardin (1881-1955) a renowned and learned French Jesuit priest often has these words attributed to him: "We are not human beings having a spiritual experience. We are spiritual beings having a human experience." Whether they were actually from his lips, they certainly mimic his thought. These wise words orient us and capture the essence of who we really are.

Many people consider spirituality an option. It is no wonder that they come to this conclusion when they predominantly define themselves using human terms and concepts. Immersed in this world view, they struggle finding any semblance of God because God does not work according to human expectations! This is especially true when suffering and death enter life's picture. If we are only human beings having a spiritual experience, then we wrongly expect our spirituality to serve us as we desire. The human expectation is that my spiritual life is something that is useful in avoiding pain, hardship, and death, not something that gives the courage to live through it!

So, when we protest and get upset with God because our journey is becoming difficult, painful, treacherous, disappointing, and even pointing us toward death, Jesus rebukes us as he did Peter and gently reminds us how to see. It is God who inspires and opens hearts to see truth and beauty. In God, the true meaning of things is understood, and we receive a depth of insight and understanding that is not found following purely human paths. It is not our task to understand God, as God is beyond human understanding. Ours is the joyful privilege of simply resting in God's presence simply because God is God and we are who we are. As spiritual beings having an exciting and adventurous human experience, it is in our DNA to do so. Through prayer we can let go and let be. This is how we lose our lives but then save them.

Adoration Angels: Have you noticed the new Angels that gaze upon Jesus in our Tabernacle? Thanks to a generous parishioner, these Angels were donated to help us focus on Jesus. The goal of every parish is to help people receive God's love – the Angels remind us to turn to the Lord and He will do everything for us. By the way, another generous parishioner built the Tabernacle stand so that the Angels would be looking at Jesus and not at each other. There's a spiritual lesson in that too!

Volunteers are the Heart of Hospice

Hospice volunteers can make a positive difference in the time patients have left on their journey. In the case of being a hospice volunteer, you are one who accompanies another on their journey at the end of life. This is not only a ministry to the dying, but also one of the most sacred journeys that you will ever take with another person.

Give a piece of your heart and become a trained Hospice Volunteer. For a small amount of time, you can make a BIG difference in someone's life. Aspirus Comfort Care & Hospice Services are in need of loving and caring individuals to work with terminally ill patients and their families. There are many opportunities available. To become an Aspirus Hospice Volunteer or to find out more information, please call Aspirus Comfort Care and Hospice Service's Volunteer Coordinator at 715-847-2424 or toll free 1-866-331-2467 or visit our website www.aspirus.org/volunteers.
