From the Pastor's Desk

Praised be Jesus Christ! And Happy Mother's Day! Of all the videos I made over the past three years, the most favorably received were the ones about my parents. After my surgery last year, it was touching to watch my Mom read the many thoughtful comments that were shared after her appearance on the weekly video. It reminded me of the time I had my parents come to Aquinas High School for the opening all-school Mass. I invited them up front at the end of the homily and before I even had a chance to introduce them, the whole student body melted with sounds of recognition. The students immediately saw the family resemblance and they knew my Mom and Dad without any prompting from me. That's a moment I continue to treasure because it showed how much we have in common with each other. That day, the students realized that I was like them: that I too had parents and maybe even had once been their age.

I'll be driving home on Sunday evening to see my Mom and I am grateful that I will be able to stay for two nights (Father Eric Mashak is going to offer the 8:00 a.m. Mass on Tuesday). Many of you will be doing something special to show your Moms how much you love them. Just down the street, Dairy Queen posted a funny sign that says, "Cake tastes better than flowers: Buy an ice cream cake for Mother's Day." There are many ways to say "I love you" to our dear Moms, but I suspect most Moms prefer a warm hug and hearing the words, "Thank you for being such a good Mom to me."

Of all the gifts I received from my Mom over the years, one of my favorites is the love for reading. Mom taught me how to read and she always went out of her way to make sure I had access to good books. To this day, Mom and I read a lot of the same books and then compare notes about what we liked and disliked. Recently I came across a list titled, "23 Books That Everyone Should Read At Least Once in Their Lives." Besides the asterisk at the bottom of the list that claimed reading my weekly column is also highly recommended (I'm making this up), here are the book titles with their respective authors:

To Kill a Mockingbird by Harper Lee
The Lord of the Rings by J.R.R. Tolkien
The Great Gatsby by F. Scott Fitzgerald
1984 by George Orwell
Pride and Prejudice by Jane Austen
The Book Thief by Markus Zusak
Jane Eyre by Charlotte Bronte
Animal Farm by George Orwell
Gone with the Wind by Margaret Mitchell
The Catcher in the Rye by J.D. Salinger
Charlotte's Web by E.B. White
The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe by C.S. Lewis
The Grapes of Wrath by John Steinbeck
Lord of the Flies by William Golding
The Kite Runner by Khaled Hosseini
Of Mice and Men by John Steinbeck
A Tale of Two Cities by Charles Dickens
Romeo and Juliet by William Shakespeare
The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy by Douglas Adams
Wuthering Heights by Emily Bronte
The Color Purple by Alice Walker
Frankenstein by Mary Shelley
Dracula by Bram Stoker

Well, how many of them have you read? If I told you how many I've read, that would appear vain and my Mom would be disappointed. For the record, there are a lot of great books on this list. A former librarian shared a list of his 100 favorite books and I've been chipping away at that for the past year or so. Reading is my retreat from the world because in stories so many of our struggles get worked out. Jesus knew how effective stories are to explaining life and its many mysteries. He told His parables because He wanted us to discover that our own personal stories are contained in a much larger narrative. As we celebrate Mother's Day, it's good to remember that our entrance into the world enhanced (hopefully) the story of our parents. Our lives, like the great books that have been written, are full of stories that impart lessons and point to Someone who thought enough of us to include us in His remarkable tale of light and darkness, victory and defeat.

Whether you are an avid reader or not, the truth is that we're all affected by great stories. Our lives pour out into others' lives, and we are affected when we hear the sincere telling of someone's heroism. As we got older, my Dad got better at praising Mom. He would compliment Mom in front of us, saying nice things like, "Your Mother did more for you than I did. She did all the cooking, cleaning, and even sewed a lot of your clothes when you were little (we had matching outfits in one family Christmas picture). Besides that, she did all the shopping and most of the chores, both morning and night." Mom had her hands full with us, but she'd be the first to say that she received a lot of help from God.

As we thank God for the gift of motherhood and pray for our own Mothers this weekend, one of the most touching family scenes is at the end of the fantastic movie "La Vita é Bella" (Life is Beautiful). Without spoiling too much of it, the final scene shows a reunion between little Joshua and his dear Mom. The movie is a compelling story of the power of love to accept suffering and embrace sacrifice, all for the good of the children. To all the Moms who have lived heroically their noble vocation, we salute you with our gratitude and we thank God for you with our prayers. Our stories are forever woven into your hearts, your bodies, and your souls.

May God bless us with love and gratitude for all that our Moms have meant to us!
Your friend in Christ,
Father Samuel Martin

May 14, 2023 - 6th Sunday of Easter. Gospel Meditation - Father John Muir

My dad was adopted as a baby. It's a big part of my family's story. His birth mother placed him in a Catholic orphanage not long after birth. A young couple longing for a baby strolled among the bassinets. My father, then only a few months old, looked at the husband and smiled. The man said, "That's my son." They took him home and the family grew. This moment of adoption was a wonderful truth they celebrated even when my dad was a young boy. They told him, "You're even more special than the other children, because we chose you to be our son." My dad's eyes well up with tears of gratitude whenever he tells the story, even eighty-three years later.

What is your story? Do we think or act like unwanted orphans? Who do we believe ourselves to be? As we continue to ponder Jesus' resurrection, we hear him say to us this Sunday, "I will not leave you orphans." God doesn't leave us alone like spiritual orphans. The power that raised Jesus from the dead is the Holy Spirit, who is also called the Spirit of Adoption. He chooses us to be His children, to share God's life forever. He gives us a future filled with hope.

We are not orphans anymore! This Easter, that's the story we should share with others. It's the true story we are living right now.

Summerfun Raffle Tickets

Last Notice - May 14th!
We'll have to hand deliver to your homes.

Please pick up your Summerfun envelope at the entrances of church. They have your name and address on them. Inside is this year's information letter and tickets.

Please help us by taking any family members, neighbors or friends to them. This will help the committee from driving to your home and hand delivering them!

A big THANK YOU for all who volunteered their time, talent, and treasure toward the renovation of the Holy Name House. Your response was amazing, and we truly appreciate your generosity in all areas. We are in the process of scheduling painting, cleaning, laying flooring, and some light landscaping.

We will be painting every Saturday in May, starting May 6th, after the Saturday morning Mass and continuing throughout the day. If you have a few hours to give on a Saturday, please feel free to stop by and grab a paint brush. We will have supplies available for use. If Saturdays don't work for you and you still want to help, please give Betty Thompson a call at 925-216-2668 and she will be happy to coordinate a time during the week, day or night. Or you can grab a house form from one of the displays at the church entrance and you will get a call.
Thank you again for your service!

Lord, You send out Your Spirit to touch the hearts of all people, so that they may believe in You and in Jesus whom You sent.

Look kindly on all candidates for Confirmation as they listen to Your voice. Open their hearts to Your Spirit and bring to fulfilment the good work that You have begun in them.

As we prepare these children for Confirmation, make each of us an instrument of Your love. Teach us to appreciate what is holy in others, and be patient with what we do not understand.

Deepen our faith in the Gospel and help us to pass it on by our example. We pray that You will continue to guide us and sustain us. Amen.

Eucharistic Revival - A Minute with Jesus

Eucharist means thanksgiving

When we receive Jesus, we want to receive Him sincerely and thank Him for the total gift of Himself to us. When receiving Holy Communion, we receive the gift of Jesus Christ and then we give heartfelt thanks to God for this tremendous blessing. This thanksgiving is the only proper response, for through this gift of Himself in the celebration of the Eucharist under the appearances of bread and wine, Christ gives us the gift of eternal life with Himself in Heaven.

Let's pray this right now and every day this week: Jesus, help me to have a grateful heart, most especially to our Heavenly Father, to You and to the Holy Spirit

This week read how St. Peter speaks words of thanksgiving for all that God our Father has done for us through Jesus Christ in 1 Peter 1: 3-9.
