CONVERSATIONS ON the Journey

It wasn't until I was "older" that I realized that we are members of a Bible Church. While in the process of finding and owning my faith, I searched for what the Catholic Church teaches and what beliefs are required of Catholic Christians.

Part of my search included reading the Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC).

I say we are a Bible Church, because I discovered that the CCC contains literally thousands of scripture references. There are 2,865 paragraphs in the CCC and there are even more scripture references.

One way to learn Church teachings as you read the Bible is to look in the CCC's Index of Citations under Sacred Scripture. There you will find where the Church's teachings are referenced for the scripture you are currently reading.

This weekend's scripture readings at Mass reference 20 paragraphs in the CCC, and those 20 paragraphs contain 49 references back to the Bible, sayings from Saints, or from Church Councils.

Some paragraphs in the CCC contain references to multiple scripture passages.

Question: What kinds of things can I learn from the CCC?

Answer: The CCC is divided into four primary areas, each an important area for growing closer to Christ.

1. The Profession of Faith | The Creed – what we believe and why.
2. The Celebration of the Christian Mystery | The Seven Sacraments.
3. Life in Christ | Our Vocation and The Ten Commandments.
4. Christian Prayer – includes a thorough study on the Lord's Prayer.

Grow closer to Christ and learn more about the Catholic faith by using your Bible and CCC together.
