Gospel Reflection 13th Sunday in Ordinary Time

And to another he said, "Follow me." In every moment of every day, in every circumstance and experience, God is calling us. We can easily get distracted and not hear it or simply ignore it, pretending it wasn't even heard. When we do hear it and favorably respond, there are some conditions that must be met. Jesus makes it clear that once we say yes to his invitation, we must stay focused and forge ahead. We cannot keep looking behind or worry about unfinished business. There are some tasks, and discipleship is one, that require our full devotion.

There are many "masters" vying for our attention. We need something or someone to give us direction. Human nature requires it. Our motives and actions reveal what has our allegiance. It is tempting to give ourselves to masters that lure us with intriguing promises. When given the choice between a "master" that promises worldly success, abundant wealth, status, privilege, and security versus a "master" that asks for self-sacrifice, hardship, suffering, ridicule, and death, to whom do we go? While the promise of immediate pleasure is enticing, there is always a catch. For all that secular masters can promise, they always keep us looking behind, checking on ourselves, second guessing choices, calculating options, and being slaves to excessive worry. Our guard can never come down. Only one master really promises life: Jesus Christ. Hearing his call, we either trust him or we don't.

Saying yes to following Christ does come with a risk. But it also comes with the brightness of future hopes and dreams. There is no need to keep looking behind. Sins are forgiven and regrets serve no effective purpose. God is not there. He's moved beyond all that stuff. God is in the today and the tomorrow and what he can continually do with our daily affirmation to follow Him. All we need to do is be obedient. St. Gianna Molla is credited with saying, "The stillness of prayer is the most essential condition for fruitful action. Before all else, the disciple kneels down." Begin with prayer. We will not only hear God's call but find the courage to trust that He will guide us where we need to be. God uses us in the most ordinary of ways through the simple daily expression of our lives. ©LPi

ST JOSEPH RELIGIOUS EDUCATION CAN CHANGE THE WORLD

Nelson Mandela once said, "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world."
 We agree completely, and ask, are you ready to change the world? If so, we know where you can start.

First, cut out of your life the sarcasm and hateful vitriol of the world that surrounds us. Then, fill your life daily with an enhanced Catholic faith, brimming with prayer and gratitude. And finally, share that faith with others.

Religious Education is for everyone, from the very young to the very old. Some may be called to teach our children on Sundays. Others may be called to serve during Mass. Many more are called to live their lives as an example to others. No matter your calling, live your faith as a means to educate others, and change the world!

If you want to learn more about volunteering in the classroom, contact Director of Religious Education Lisa Sachs at 815-678-4720.

Pro-Life Quote of the Week

"I have been pregnant three times in the past five years, and am presently in my seventh month. I am now 'showing,' so that all can see the presence of life within me. And I feel it very strongly now: a kick here, a squirm there. But even in the first month, with fatigue, sometimes nausea, and other hallmarks of early pregnancy, a mother knows something is different. That difference is the presence of life, manifesting itself—if just to Mom alone."
— Meredith Berkman, former abortion supporter, quoted in the New York Post

In the 14th century, the custom developed of carrying the Blessed Sacrament in a procession after the Mass on Corpus Christi Day, as a public profession of the Catholic faith, in the real presence of Christ. We upheld the same tradition last weekend, in splendid fashion, after the 10:30 Mass. Thanks to everyone who participated.
