Losing a Sense of Sin

One definition of sin is “the closing off of one’s heart.”

Persisting in sin is to turn inward and away from God. Pope John Paul II said of the person who closes themselves off in sin: “It makes it impossible for that person’s conversion and the remission of their sins.”

In other words, the closed off sinner has put themselves outside God’s mercy. Not forever...but until something changes.

We need to pray always for a radical sincerity and true humility that we may face up to our faults and sins, putting ourselves back into a position to receive God’s generous mercy.

In today’s culture, too many have lost their sense of sin. Consequently, they are losing their sense of God. Unnatural behavior, contrary to Divine law, is now treated as a normal course of things in films, television, in the press, and sadly, in our public schools.

Lifestyles that are unhealthy and morally wrong are constantly pushed into the mainstream culture. Marital infidelity, other sins of purity, lying, cheating, overindulgence of (fill in the blank) and other dangerous behaviors are called “alternative choices” and “relative” behaviors. People often say the behaviors in question are not really hurting anyone.....but they are.

They hurt the soul of the sinner and be clear...they hurt God also.

God gave true meaning to everything human. Many choose to think of sin according to principles that leave no room for God at all. Ours has sadly become a “paganized” environment, where the rules of self pleasure reign.

This type of culture has a lot in common with the world of the first Christians when you stop and think about it. They were called to transform the world... and so are we!

So how do we begin to transform a culture?

We must begin with ourselves. We need regular, honest, contrite confession. We have to acknowledge our own sinfulness. Our sins separate us from God... so we must begin there.

Second, work on those closest to us. Our families, our friends and those who look to us as examples. We help no one if we don’t call a sin, a sin. Pray for the right words and the right time to help others break the bonds of sin. Ask the Holy Spirit for guidance. Encourage them and don’t be afraid to model behavior. Don’t nag and don’t judge...but be honest.

One of the most courageous things I ever saw was at a men’s club meeting years ago where a man openly discussed his online pornography addiction. His witness caused a couple others to share their similar issues and they helped another get help from an organization that specializes in breaking the bonds of that sin. That took real guts. It wouldn’t have happened without the first “mover”.

Dear Friends,

St. Agnes Parish is currently participating in Block IV of the one by One campaign along with 46 other parishes within the Diocese. This campaign will have a positive impact on the lives of children, clergy, and families across the Diocese of Green Bay and allow all parishes, including ours, to address important local needs.

St. Agnes Parish will benefit from one by One and has a goal of $805,000. Of this amount, 50 percent will remain at our parish to meet locally identified needs.

Please join your fellow parishioners at a reception
after the 8:00 and 9:30 Masses

this weekend to learn more about the campaign and how you can participate.

After the 4:15 and 11:00 Masses

this weekend there will be one by One parish team members available in the narthex to talk about the campaign.

You can bring the materials you've received to the reception. If you want to discuss your contribution to this campaign, this is a great opportunity to do so!

May God bless you and your loved ones abundantly.

Don't be afraid to stand up against things you know are wrong. Talk about confession and the power of it in your own life, when the opportunity arises.

Don't be afraid to have your kids mad at you about social media usage, their choices of friends and entertainment. Arguing about going to Mass is not limited to your household, believe me. It takes energy and a willingness to not be liked at times, raising teenagers. I've been there. It takes prayer, persistence, and more prayer. There are no shortcuts.

I received a compliment from a friend of one of our kids, recently...coming back in his thirties. He said, "we didn't really like you in high school. We thought you were too strict, but now I know you loved us enough to have us not like you." A weird compliment but a good one, I thought!

Don't be afraid to put yourself "out there. You don't want to regret the chance to save someone who doesn't know what sin can do to them. Love them enough to take the risk.

May God bless you.

Deacon Greg
