Praise the Lord! Just a heads up...if you get an email from me that is a gmail.com address it is NOT from me and delete it as soon as possible. There are predators out there that prey on peoples' kindness and they use priests in particular as targets to try to get someone to wire money or purchase a gift card.

Speaking of kindness, I would like to again express my gratitude to many who have offered prayers for me during recovery as well as those who have provided sustenance along the way. I have my second follow up with the surgeon on the 16th and by the 19th I may be allowed to begin doing strength training. Things are progressing well and continued prayers are appreciated. I have an entirely new appreciation for so many that undergo surgery.

The Gospel reading for this weekend gives us an understanding of how Jesus is sought by others for healing. The particular line in the scriptures of the people pressing against Him is a remarkable insight for us to ponder. Maybe there was some shoving and pushing going on in this scene. There are many vying to get closer and in effect pushed others away. Often times we may lean into something rather than Someone. We can easily "press the issue," so to say and try to barrel our way through a particular ordeal or a specific suffering. This is common in our lives. Sometimes we must press on and endure what may come our way. However, that may become intolerable at some point and time. We may be pressed with impending deadlines, a certain apprehension about a conflict that must be resolved between a family member or a friend. Peter's exclamation is very poignant. He declares, "Depart from me Lord, for I am a sinful man." When we feel pressured or have been pressed in our lives, Peter's statement offers us an answer to our need. We can simply express our shortcomings to the Lord. We can make an honest and forthright statement about our own condition. In this way, we move toward Jesus without pressure or being pressed into Him. Rather, we are gently pressed close to His heart of love. We inevitably receive a consolation or a keen insight into truth and are finally healed in His proximity. Now & Forever!

Fr. Quentin A. Mann

WORLD DAY OF THE SICK

February 11

God of hope and healing,

Be with those whose bodies
burn with fever,
rage with pain,
struggle for breath,
cry out for limbs that used to be,
or crave addictive substances.

Be with those whose minds and emotions face the wait of a diagnosis, wrestle with the choices for treatment,
adapt to a life altered by chronic illness,
recover from abuse,
or push against the encroaching clouds of dementia.

Be with those whose spirits are exhausted by the quest for health doubt the existence of love question the fairness of life or stare into the face death.

Cool the fever,
bring balm to the pain,
ease the fight for air,
adapt the body for new ways to move,
and calm the cravings.
Ease anxiety and fear.
Build trust in your everlasting love and care.
God of all, hear our prayer.
Amen.

(Said to her twin, St. Benedict.)
