Next Bulletin Deadline

April 8 for the April 20
bulletin (Easter)

The Gospel of John this Sunday includes one of the more thought-provoking episodes in Jesus' teaching career. He is asked whether a woman caught in adultery should be stoned to death. Knowing the Pharisee's desire to entrap Him with the question of punishment according to Mosaic law, Jesus deftly turns the question of justice around on them by asking each accuser to honestly look at their own sins before casting the first stone. Every accuser walks away, perhaps some of them grumbling. Imagine the stunned bystanders and the shock and relief felt by the accused woman. Jesus wants us to understand deeply that God's law and His love are interwoven. He leaves us with a powerful lesson on mercy. Jesus doesn't ignore the sin but neither does he join the mob in a violent attack. His mercy wins out.

What a beautiful teacher He is for us. As teachers in the Religious Education program here at St. Agnes, we strive to make Sacred Scripture and Sacred Tradition come alive for our students so they will hunger for more spiritual growth throughout their lives. Fr. Rocky from Relevant Radio has a line about religious study that we like: "If you learn it, then you can live it. And if you live it, you will love it. And if you love it, you will never leave it." We are blessed to have dedicated individuals responding to the call to teach our children, though we could always use more help.

Please keep our Confirmation students and our students making their First Communion in your prayers. We all need your prayers and in return we will pray for you.

Please note the summer programs we offer for children and teens. We are teaming up with area parishes on Vacation Bible School. This summer it will be hosted by St. Joseph Parish during the week of June 16. Our service mission camp, F.I.A.T. (Faith In Action Today) will be here July 28 – 31. We could use volunteer help or financial donations with both programs so please reach out to us at 920-494-6450.

Finally, this is a good time to hand in your registration for your children's religious education classes next year. The fee goes up after June 30.

God bless,

Donna Schuld

DID YOU KNOW?

There are Standards for the Distribution of Holy Communion

- The faithful have the right to receive Holy Communion from the Eucharist consecrated at the Mass they are attending. When necessary, Eucharist from the tabernacle is retrieved only by a priest or deacon. Only with the express permission of the bishop may a lay minister do so.
- The Minister of Holy Communion says, "The Body of Christ," or "The Blood of Christ" as the communicant approaches. The communicant responds, "Amen." The minister presents the consecrated host or the chalice, which should not be exaggeratedly elevated, to the communicant.
- In the Diocese of Green Bay it is a common pastoral practice for the Ordinary Minister of Holy Communion (bishop, priest, and deacon) to impart a blessing to those who come forward in the Communion procession with hands crossed and who are not receiving Holy Communion. The Extraordinary Minister may say, "May God bless you," or "Receive Jesus in your heart." This prayer is offered audibly and is not accompanied by the gesture associated with a blessing.
- The Communion line is not a time for conversation by the Minister with the faithful nor to question another's readiness or orthodoxy to receive the sacrament, although a simple question such as "Are you Catholic?" or "Have you received your First Communion?" could be asked to determine a person's readiness.
- Conversations regarding appropriate reception or issues with receiving Holy Communion should ordinarily take place before or after the Eucharistic liturgy, not during the distribution of Holy Communion.

Feast of Divine Mercy

This official feast of the Catholic church was originally requested by Our Lord in the 1930s and was revealed by Him to St. Faustina. On this feast day, He wishes to pour out all His tender mercy upon us and promises us great graces! In His revelations to St. Faustina, Jesus asks us to:

- Sincerely repent of our sins
- Place our complete trust in Him
- Go to confession, preferably before the feast
- Be merciful to others through our actions, words and prayers on their behalf
- Pray for sinners

Fifth Week of Lent

Loving God,
You have heard my complaints, my impatience.
Sometimes I become frightened
when I move away from you.
Guide my heart back to you.
Help me to think beyond my own wants and to desire only to do your will.

Thank you for the many blessings in my life and for the ways I feel your presence.
