Our mission is to love God and neighbor by prayerfully celebrating the Sacraments, generously serving others, and intentionally engaging in lifelong faith formation.

Called & Gifted Workshop

God is calling you to a unique purpose in life, a work that only you can do. He has gifted you with charisms or spiritual gifts to carry out that work. Have you asked yourself lately is this all that there is? Have you felt restless and unsettled in life, wondering what you should be doing? Are you at a place in life where you are assessing what to do next?

On Wednesday evenings, January 5-February 9, join Firstfruits Women's Center in Elm Grove for their Called and Gifted workshop. You will begin to discern what your charisms are and where God might be calling you to use them.

Check out their website for more details and to register: firstfruits.info/events.

We welcome Rosalind Fillingner to the Church as she celebrates the sacrament of baptism. May the seeds of faith grow always stronger in her heart and may our prayers support her parents & godparents in their responsibility of raising her in the Catholic faith.

Friends,

Did you know that sixty years before Christopher Columbus set sail for the New World, Pope Eugene IV condemned the practice of slavery in the newly colonized Canary Islands? Following the teaching of St. Paul and several Church fathers, His Holiness ordered that any Catholic had just fifteen days to fully liberate all persons held in bondage. A century later, Pope Paul III described anyone holding slaves to be "allies of the devil" and subject to automatic excommunication. Three centuries after that, in 1962, in one of the premiere sees of that New World, Archbishop Joseph Rummel excommunicated three Catholics who were public leaders of segregationist movements in Louisiana.

While the history of the Church is not without cause for criticism nor need of asking forgiveness, from the words of Jesus, and the call of St. Paul for Philemon to release Onesimus from slavery and love him as an equal, on through countless popes, right to modern day bishops and activists the Church universal has stood squarely against all vestiges of racism and slavery. Our contemporary struggles with matters of race, human dignity, and justice should make perfectly clear that there remains significant work to be done.

The Bishops of the United State are succinct about the challenge: "Today, racism continues to exist in our communities and in our parishes. Racism is what makes us see the "other" with suspicion or to attribute negative characteristics to an entire group of people. This evil manifests itself in our individual thoughts, and also in the workings of our society itself." By this, it is not meant to say that all people are racist. That is a personal accusation often separate from the underlying concern. What the admission does do is make a clear call for all members of our Church to learn the tenets of our centuries old Catholic Social Teaching.

There are seven themes throughout our Catholic Social Teaching:

- Life and Dignity of the Human Person
- Call to Family, Community, and Participation
- Rights and Responsibilities
- Option for the Poor and Vulnerable
- The Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers Solidarity
- Care for God's Creation

These themes flow from our history of standing up to a world which may not wish to respect that every person is made in the image and likeness of God. These themes hold more depth of thought, call for more introspection, and cause more acts of Christlike charity and love, than do all the slogans and signs of the last sixty years.

On Monday, January 17th, we will have the national civic recognition of the historic impact of Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. As part of this there may be justifiably uncomfortable challenges as well as unfounded criticisms. We as Catholics can engage the challenging topics of race and justice with the great benefit of our Catholic Social Teaching. But to do this well, we must always be open to continued study and learning.

To learn more about the Seven Themes of Catholic Social Teaching, <https://www.usccb.org/beliefs-and-teachings/what-we-believe/catholic-social-teaching/seven-themes-of-catholic-social-teaching>

Blessings to all.

THANK YOU

for your generosity

Thank You, St. Monica Parishioners for your generous Giving Tree donations and continued support to the Ladies of Charity Milwaukee. Although the Covid pandemic has provided many challenges, we have provided 700 students with clothing and expect to return to our full ministry in the new year. Your generous support helps us fulfill our mission to serve the Milwaukee children in-need.

Please visit our website at <https://locmilwaukee.com> for additional information about our organization.

Thank You and May God Bless You, The Ladies of Charity Milwaukee
