Daily Mass Tapings

First Corinthians and the Stewardship of Social Media

"Love is patient, love is kind ..." As familiar as these words are, they never seem to stray into the territory of becoming trite or silly. At their core they communicate a truth about us and about our Creator that never fails to inspire.

But despite the fact that you've probably heard it at many weddings over time, First Corinthians isn't just for newlyweds. It wasn't written for married folks. It's for every single one of us, in every state of life and every social situation, in every country and culture and language across the globe.

Which means that First Corinthians is even for the online world. It's for Facebook and Twitter and Instagram and all the other platforms I'm forgetting (there seems to be a new one every day, doesn't there?).

A sense of division — whether rooted in politics, culture or anything else — is growing in our world, and it's never more obvious than when we observe interactions online. It is far easier, after all, to remember what love is when a human being of flesh and blood stands before us. When all we see is an avatar or a profile picture on a screen — especially accompanied by an opinion with which we vehemently disagree — even the most loving Christians can throw First Corinthians out the window.

As everyday stewards we know that we are charged to be not only gracious but grateful. We receive others but we also give thanks for what they bring to us — even if that's an opportunity to "strive eagerly for the greatest spiritual gifts."

So before the next time you post anything online, I suggest giving First Corinthians a read — and remember, love never fails.

The Creed Adult Formation Series Begins!

As we begin our study of the Creed, we consider the words, "I believe." What does it mean to say that you believe? What do you believe in? Is our belief in God ultimately rational or a wish fulfilling fantasy as many modern atheists would say? Join Michael Federman, Director of Christian Formation, at 6:30 PM on Tuesday, February 1st in Turner Hall to explore these questions and what science can and cannot tell us about God.

A Reflection from Dcn. Matthew Ferch

The second takeaway I received from my retreat is the necessity for us to live and believe the kerygma of Christ in our lives. The kerygma refers to the basic Gospel message. That is: Christ (second person of the Trinity) was incarnate, suffered and died on the Cross for our salvation, he rose from the dead, and now sits at the right hand of the Father in Heaven. We trust and take advantage of that salvation that Christ offers. We hope that we may rise again on the last day. We wish to be with Christ for eternity in Heaven. We must not only truly believe and internalize this message, we must also share it. However, more on that later.

Second, we must continue to live our baptismal roles of priest, prophet, and king. Christ was priest by sacrificing himself and offering his body and blood for us to eat. Christ was a prophet by teaching the Good News about God's love and salvation for all. Christ is king because he rules Heaven and Earth for eternity. When we are baptized, we take on those roles of priest, prophet, and king. We are priest by offering up the sacrifice of our hearts and our lives at each Mass when the priest himself is offering the Body and Blood on behalf of the people. We are prophets because we are called to share the Gospel to the whole world. We are kings because we are called to share in Christ's kingship. We are called to exercise authority and dominion over which has been entrusted to us. However, this is done with an attitude service and humility. So, let us continue and recommit ourselves to living our baptismal call.

Ushers Still Needed

Recently we welcomed new members into our Usher Ministry. However, we are still in need of ushers, particularly at the 9:00 AM Sunday Mass.
