PASTORAL PONDERINGS

A weekly column, shared with parishioners, by members of the Pastoral Staff.

Deacon Scott Wiese, Director of Administration

Redeeming Administration

With any new endeavor, we build on the foundation and structure laid by those who came before. So, it is with much gratitude and humility that I take on the role of Director of Administration here at St. Joseph Parish and School, building on the work of my predecessor, Jay Frymark, and our Parish Director Brenda Cline, and working to carry on the long tradition of wise and thoughtful stewardship that have been the hallmark of our parish for many, many years.

My wife Jenny and I are long-time parish members and I've been a deacon since 2012. But you might not know that my professional background is in accounting and finance. I earned an accounting degree from St. Norbert College, passed the CPA exam, and started my career with Johnson Controls in Milwaukee. My time with the company took me into management roles, and included moves for me and my family to Cape Canaveral, FL and Alpharetta, GA. Since then, I've held finance and accounting management positions with manufacturing, service, and distribution companies in the area. Most recently, I was Operations Controller for a division of Toshiba in West Allis.

So, basically, my whole career has been in Administration. Quite often, we view "Administration" as a necessary evil! We're the ones who make you fill out paperwork, keep track of receipts and spending, report time, and prepare budgets (ugh!). We make you jump through hoops and take you away from doing the things you love to do.

Take heart, Administrators! We play a vital and important role! As a parting gift, Brenda Cline gave me a book and a reading assignment. The book, Redeeming Administration by Ann Garrido, outlines the spiritual habits of administrators in Catholic parishes, schools, and other institutions. Here is my takeaway. First, administrators have broad vision. We see the big picture of an organization, but we also know all the things that need to come together behind the scenes so the organization functions well. Second, administrators create and maintain an environment in which the organization can freely and creatively carry out its mission and vision. With broad vision and creativity, we share in God's mission to build up his Kingdom.

I look forward to the opportunity to bring my passion and my vocations together in a new level of service to St. Joseph Parish. We have so many good things going on in the parish and school: a wonderful, dedicated staff; passionate volunteers; a top-notch school; generous parishioners; and lively prayer, worship, and sacraments. I pray that I have that breadth of vision, to help create and facilitate an environment at St. Joseph Parish where we can be The Hands of Christ, Open to All.

Important to Note ... The north doors to the church will remain locked. Please use the main canopy entrance off the parking lot. Thanks.

Please accept our deep gratitude for your generosity to the Love One Another Campaign! Planning for the future, especially during the past couple of years, has been a challenge. Our faith community, though, remains undaunted, resting in the assurance of God's grace. Together, we move forward.

As of January 13, we have raised $1,218,090, or 76% of our $1.6M goal! St. Joseph Parish will realize 60% of fulfilled pledges. The first quarterly disbursement from the Love One Another Trust is scheduled to arrive in mid-February.

Prior to the campaign, you may recall we formed a committee of parish leaders to evaluate and prioritize our capital needs. This extensive effort, along with your goodness, has us poised to begin discerning responsible, mission focused spending of campaign funds. All monies spent from the campaign require proxy approval by the Archdiocese. We look forward to sharing the progress with you!

We Are Called To Be

The Hands of Christ...Open to All
From Human Concerns
By Sandy Michalski

Hometown Hopes

Luke emphasized the fact that he thoroughly researched and verified the story we hear today about Jesus' teaching in the synagogue at Nazareth. Thus far, Jesus had been well-received in many areas by those He taught. He decided it was time to bless His family and hometown friends with the grace of His sacred instruction. We see this week that when Jesus said "Today this Scripture passage is fulfilled in your hearing," all of those in attendance looked at Him intently and expectantly. They spoke highly of Him and were amazed at His gracious words. But wait! We're getting ahead of ourselves. This story is continued next week and has a surprising, somewhat disappointing ending.

For this week, suffice it to say that Jesus' preaching was welcomed and respected by all who were fortunate enough to hear Him. He was driven by the Holy Spirit to boldly proclaim the kingdom. He came from a humble background, born of lowly and meek parents, raised in a small, inconspicuous town. Yet, inspired by the Spirit, He was able to spread God's word far and wide, win many over to the gospel of love and forgiveness, heal the sick, raise the dead. This is how amazingly powerful the Spirit is. This same Spirit is available to inspire us to live and spread God's kingdom here on earth and to help each other to gain God's kingdom in heaven. So this week's gospel and our faith and our lives: To be continued.

*Lord, give us the strength and courage to proclaim
Your gospel through our thoughts, words and actions.*

The Small Change Initiative will continue this weekend. The Creation Care Team has many great ideas to help us in the stewardship of our precious planet. Please stop by to visit with the team after Mass.

SCHOOL SCENE

By Nick Buchholz

Middle School Literature & Language Arts Teacher

The sixth grade class recently finished reading Rick Riordan's The Lightning Thief— a tale of a hero's quest in the world of Greek mythology. Students are now tasked with analyzing the story in three formats: novel, film, and musical. They will focus on the "author's purpose" of each format and examine how the story transforms based on how it is conveyed to the audience.

The seventh grade class is contemplating the cost of a utopian life while studying Lois Lowry's The Giver. Students are analyzing the sacrifices required to achieve a utopian society, and they are recognizing how quickly an established society can regress into a dystopian one. Recently, students interviewed one another to see what theoretical job they would be given if they were in the protagonist Jonas' utopian community.

The eighth grade class is diving into Yann Martel's metaphorical novel Life of Pi. It is a spiritual parable about a boy who is lost at sea. No matter the age, it is a complex novel with challenging subject matter. Keep the eighth graders in your prayers.

Lastly, both seventh and eighth grade have begun their deep dive into the various Greek and Latin roots that lurk everywhere within the English language. Their first list of root words focuses on elements of the universe.
