Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

This week (Monday, 6:30-8:00pm in the parish hall) we will begin a reflection on Pope Francis' encyclical Laudato si. My hope is that for those interested in connecting our faith with the environment we can reflect on a chapter each week. The first week will be an introduction that will set the stage for the six chapters. On our webpage there is a link to the document along with a few other resources. I will also have some printouts if you do not have access to the digital version. I think that here in Kentucky we are rather conscious of our environment since the weather changes so much and so quickly, and our land is generally so fruitful. Yet we do not want to take blessings for granted, and we would like to consider our own stewardship of our land and resources. I am looking forward to beginning this and hope to see you there.

Fr. Ken

Chrism Mass will be held at the Owensboro Sportscenter on Tuesday, April 16, at 6:30pm. The Sportscenter is across the street from Owensboro Catholic High School at 1215 Hickman Avenue. All are invited, but we especially encourage all the elect, candidates, and confirmandi to attend. They will be the most immediate recipients of the outpouring of God's grace through the oil that is blessed that evening.

We can ALWAYS use Mass Intentions. They are $5 each and will be said in a timely manner. We are happy to send an appropriate card to the person or family they are offered for. We also have birthday and get-well cards.

These 6 day candles will not fit in our votive holders due to the cross decoration, so we are offering them for home use for parishioners for $3 ea. They are made to be used without the glass holders and are the same size and price as our regular ones.

We only have what is on the bottom of the votive stand and the correct ones are on order. Please put your money in the stand. Thanks!

We extend our sympathy to the family and friends of Gladys Herman, who would have been 100 yrs old on March 30.

BULLETIN BITES

"But I tell you, if you do not repent, you will all perish as they did!"

Jesus was asked if the Galileans were sinners because they were slaughtered by Roman soldiers as they sacrificed in the temple. Jesus knew people believed a violent or tragic death was a sign of God's punishment for a sinful life. He mentions the incident of the people killed by the collapse of the Tower of Siloam and asks if they were greater sinners than others were who lived in Jerusalem? Jesus then tells the parable of the landowner who ordered his gardener to cut down a non-producing fig tree. The gardener pleads to give it another chance. Jesus is teaching the people, and us, that the manner of our death is not necessarily an indication of the good or evil we have done in our life, and our failure to be all God created us to be does not need to be permanent. We can always choose to use all of God's gifts to us to the best of our ability. We should reflect on the God who created us and who does not condemn us, we condemn ourselves. However, our Merciful God wants to forgive us, if we ask.
