Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

It is time for the parish to have an administrative assistant to take on some of the work that Vonnie did before her passing. Presently Retta Colbert is attending to the bookkeeping with me but there is need for attention to many other matters here in the parish. I have spent a lot of time discerning and preparing for a transition over the past month or so. One thing that will be different is that the parish office will be at the hall. The hall is not being used for religious education at this time so we are using the kindergarten room at the moment as an office. Having the parish office there facilitates independent work on the part of an administrative assistant and volunteers since they can come and go within a public place on their own schedules. It also facilitates public engagement since the office can be approached as a public place, and it presents the face of the parish, not just of the pastor. Furthermore, if I am sick, then office work becomes problematic if it is in my residence. There are many other considerations as well, and to make this work properly there will likely need to be modifications and such to the hall. I realize that this may feel like something new to this parish, but it is one of the only parishes in the diocese that has recently had the parish office in the rectory. I look forward to having an office in the hall that can facilitate ministries and public engagement so that we can fulfill our mission as a parish together.

Fr. Ken
