A Reflection on the Gospel

And to another he said, "Follow me." In every moment of every day, in every circumstance and experience, God is calling us. We can easily get distracted and not hear it or simply ignore it, pretending it wasn't even heard. When we do hear it and favorably respond, there are some conditions that must be met. Jesus makes it clear that once we say yes to his invitation, we must stay focused and forge ahead. We cannot keep looking behind or worry about unfinished business. There are some tasks, and discipleship is one, that require our full devotion.

There are many "masters" vying for our attention. We need something or someone to give us direction. Human nature requires it. Our motives and actions reveal what has our allegiance. It is tempting to give ourselves to masters that lure us with intriguing promises. When given the choice between a "master" that promises worldly success, abundant wealth, status, privilege, and security versus a "master" that asks for self-sacrifice, hardship, suffering, ridicule, and death, to whom do we go? While the promise of immediate pleasure is enticing, there is always a catch. For all that secular masters can promise, they always keep us looking behind, checking on ourselves, second guessing choices, calculating options, and being slaves to excessive worry. Our guard can never come down. Only one master really promises life: Jesus Christ. Hearing his call, we either trust him or we don't.

Saying yes to following Christ does come with a risk. But it also comes with the brightness of future hopes and dreams. There is no need to keep looking behind. Sins are forgiven and regrets serve no effective purpose. God is not there. He's moved beyond all that stuff. God is in the today and the tomorrow and what he can continually do with our daily affirmation to follow Him. All we need to do is be obedient. St. Gianna Molla is credited with saying, "The stillness of prayer is the most essential condition for fruitful action. Before all else, the disciple kneels down." Begin with prayer. We will not only hear God's call but find the courage to trust that He will guide us where we need to be. God uses us in the most ordinary of ways through the simple daily expression of our lives.

A Note from Father Max-

Thank you to everyone who stayed back after Mass last weekend to help clear out the sanctuary and the nave of the church in preparation for the Lighting Project which began this past Monday. We are truly 'blessed' here at Blessed Sacrament with many dedicated parishioners who share of their time and talent especially when a need arises. Let us remember to keep Mike Catich and his team of electricians in our prayers over the next few weeks for their safety. As a reminder, there is no Adoration over the next few weeks.

If you have a service member in your family and their address has changed or to add them to the list please call the parish office at 630-897-1029 or email psecretary@blessedsacrament-na.org.

This address list is kept confidential and will only be used to send out greeting cards four times a year.

“One of the most admirable effects of Holy Communion is to preserve the soul from sin, and to help those who fall through weakness to rise again. It is much more profitable, then, to approach this divine Sacrament with love, respect, and confidence, than to remain away through an excess of fear and scrupulosity.”

- St. Ignatius of Loyola

CATHOLIC CHARITIES of the Diocese of Rockford has the enviable role of being the Church's face-to face presence in the lives of the region's neediest people. What some may see as obligations or inconveniences, Catholic Charities sees as opportunities to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, and comfort the afflicted. The challenge is to provide the diverse financial, material and geographical resources to accomplish those objectives.
