Gospel Meditation

St. Oscar Romero said, "Aspire not to have more, but to be more." These powerful words provide the perfect framework for a conversion oriented Lenten experience. God is giving us this Lenten sign to stop being concerned about what you have and focus on who you are. This requires that we create a desert space and listen more attentively for God to reveal His presence. It is all so wonderfully simple on the one hand and so incredibly challenging on the other. The message is simple: love God, neighbor, and self. Those simple words make great sense, but we struggle translating them into reality. Our attachments, compulsions, obsessions, addictions, routines, and busyness all anchor us to the "idol of the self," keeping us mired in our compulsive need for self-aggrandizement. It's not about us!

God vowed, long ago, to nurture, sustain and protect the relationship He has with His people. He called us into being, nurtures us in being, and sustains us in being. Without the Loving Divine Presence, all life would cease. Once we slow down a bit and clear away some of the clutter, we can see how the journey of our life is unfolding. We can see what brings us in and out of tune with God's love and how we can better imitate God's loving fidelity in our relationship with Him. In short, we will see our myopic short sightedness and figure out how we can better share the Divine Fire within with others. Lent isn't just about giving stuff up for forty days and indulging again at Easter. We need to push things much farther and wrestle with the question of how we can be more. "Being more" means becoming more fully alive and in touch with the holiness of life and the divinity that lives in and empowers all beings and things. It is realizing that the "quality" of our presence is crucial to being an effective witness and herald of God's unconditional love.

The illusion we have bought into causes us to believe that the wrong things and systems matter. We tirelessly fight to keep things the way they are, to return to the former ways of doing things or restore some nostalgic fantasy memory of "life in the good old days." Lent isn't about maintaining what we have or returning to something that is gone. It's about becoming something new. It's about being more focused, centered, convicted, and grounded so that we can be a person who truly loves and treasures being made in the image of God. The secret to Gospel living is not found in accumulating anything for ourselves, even merit points for heaven. Gospel living means learning how to live with less so that others can live with more. The thought of permanently giving something up makes us feel uncomfortable. Truth often does. ©LPi

THE KERYGMA EXPERIENCE

SELF-GUIDED ENCOUNTER & CONVERSION

Week 6 of 6 Processing

From now through February 21, the St. Patrick Voice will publish a self-guided program called, "The Kerygma Experience."

Core Gospel Framework

The most basic form of the kerygma contains the following five elements:

1. Creation - God is love and has created me for a relationship with Him.

2. Fall - I have broken my relationship with God by my sin.

3. Redemption - Jesus restores my relationship with God through his life, death, resurrection.

4. Salvation - Jesus invites me to trust him, to turn from sin, and to give my life to Him.

5. Re-Creation - Jesus has poured the Holy Spirit into my heart to bring me to new life in His Church and sends His Church on mission so that others can experience that new life.

Processing the Kerygma Experience

"The subject of proclamation is Christ who was crucified, died, and is risen: through him is accomplished our full and authentic liberation from evil, sin and death; through him God bestows 'new life' that is divine and eternal. This is the 'Good News' which changes man and his history, and which all peoples have a right to hear." - St. Pope John Paul II, Redemptoris Missio #44

It has been said that we need to hear the kerygma (or core message of the Gospel) proclaimed as the kerygma many times in order for it to take root in our hearts. This may be your first time hearing this message or it may be a message that you know well and have heard many times.

During this experience, you may feel a great sense of joy, peace or sadness or points of resistance or obstacles. Acknowledge how you feel. Don't be afraid to confront these obstacles, God already knows them and will help you through them. Take time to give thanks for the opportunity to hear the Gospel in this way.

- As you reflect upon the overall experience, what thoughts come to mind? What did you feel?
- Which movement of the kerygma was the hardest for you? Why?
- Which movement of the kerygma was the easiest for you to relate to? Why?
- What insight came to you through this experience that was new or different for you?

Close your reflection time with prayer:

Christ has no body now but my body, No hands, no feet on earth but my hands, my feet, It is my eyes with which he looks compassion on this world. Christ has no body now on earth but my body. (Adapted from St. Theresa of Avila 1515–1582)

What is the Kerygma

Kerygma (kuh•rig•muh) is a Greek word which means "proclamation". More precisely, in the Christian context, it focuses on the proclamation of the Good News, or "Gospel", of Jesus life, death, and resurrection. In other words, Jesus came to save us and the message we proclaim is about Him. As disciples, we should be able to tell the saving story of Jesus' life in a simple manner that can be understood by all.

Reflection Question of the Week

First Reading
God promises Noah to use a "bow in the clouds" (a rainbow) as a sign and symbol of His divine pledge to never again allow a world-wide flood to devastate the earth. This is the Bible's first recorded covenant between God and humanity. What do you think of when you see a rainbow? ©LPi

This Week

Who Are You?

To find clues as to the meaning of life, we first look at ourselves. Who am I? Is there more to me than matter? Is there more to us than meets the eye? We talk with neuroscientists, psychologists, composers, and artists to examine the mystery of you. If you're just a body, then satisfaction in life should come from tending to simple bodily needs. Fill your stomach, be comfortable. But there's more to you then that. You are material and immaterial. And that unseen part of you craves for so much more. As C.S. Lewis once said, "If we find ourselves with a desire that nothing in this world can satisfy, the most probable explanation is that we were made for another world."

Benedict the Moor

Benedict the Moor was born a slave near Messina, Italy. He was freed by his master, became a solitary, eventually settling with other hermits at Montepellegrino. He was made superior of the community, but when he was about thirty-eight, Pope Pius IV disbanded communities of solitaries and he became a Franciscan lay brother. He cooked at St. Mary's convent near Palermo. He was appointed against his will, superior of the convent when it opted for the reform, though he could neither read nor write. After serving as superior, he became a novice master but asked to be relieved of his post and returned to his former position as cook. His holiness, reputation for miracles, and his fame as a confessor brought hordes of visitors to see the obscure and humble cook. He died at the convent, was canonized in 1807, and is the patron saint of blacks in the United States. The surname "the Moor" is a misnomer originating from the Italian IL MORO (the black.) His feast day is April 4th.
