Concerning Love (Part 2)

Last week I wrote about the Greatest Commandment, both my inspiration for emphasizing it and how I have researched it. I have been inspired these last few years by St. Bonaventure and recently I have investigated the Abbey of St. Victor (the Victorine Fathers), who dedicated much of their own writing on the matter.

When I wrote about St. Bonaventure last week, he made two major points:

- 1) God is the source of love and the perfection of love, and so we can only progress in love in Him and through Him.
- 2) We need to take a serious account of ourselves and our love, which is to say: to what extent do I actually love others?

Much of what inspired Bonaventure was St. Augustine, but he was also influenced by the Victorines, who likewise reflected on Scripture and Augustine.

Hugh of St. Victor writes of love, "When [love] moves in a disorderly fashion toward those things which it should not, it is said to be cupidity [greed]; but when it is ordered, it is called charity. ... When [love] is bad, great evils come forth; and when it is good, such good things come forth!"

Order is the keyword here. The classical understanding of "order" is what we might call priorities today. What can be prioritized? Hugh claims that it can be desire, thoughts, and pleasure.

We hear a lot about meditation and mindfulness today. I suppose there is not anything inherently wrong with meditation, but my critique of the modern form of it is that it is ultimately selfish in nature. We focus on ourselves; we look to find ourselves; we acknowledge ourselves. For my own part, this is only a piece, a stone, in the whole structure of meditation. In meditation, we can become aware of our desires, thoughts, and joys. Yet, through what method do we examine, criticize, refine, and realize these things? Modern meditation offers no certain criterion; it is left to our own judgment. If our judgment is flawed, however, what good does it do for the blind to lead the blind?

God has provided for us the Greatest Commandment: "Love the Lord your God with all your heart, all your mind, all your soul, and all your strength... and the second is likewise, "love your neighbor as yourself."

Our religion is not a self-focused enterprise. It is never my faith, but always ours. God has called us to be holy, but he has called us to be a "holy nation, a royal priesthood, a people of his own" (1 Pet 2:9).

Next week, we will look at how from the starting point of the Greatest Commandment we can order our desires, thoughts, and joys at the suggestion of our forefathers. Meditation and contemplation can be the tools of our growth in love.

Fr. Matt

2021 Annual Catholic Appeal: Announcement Weekend (January 30th-31st)

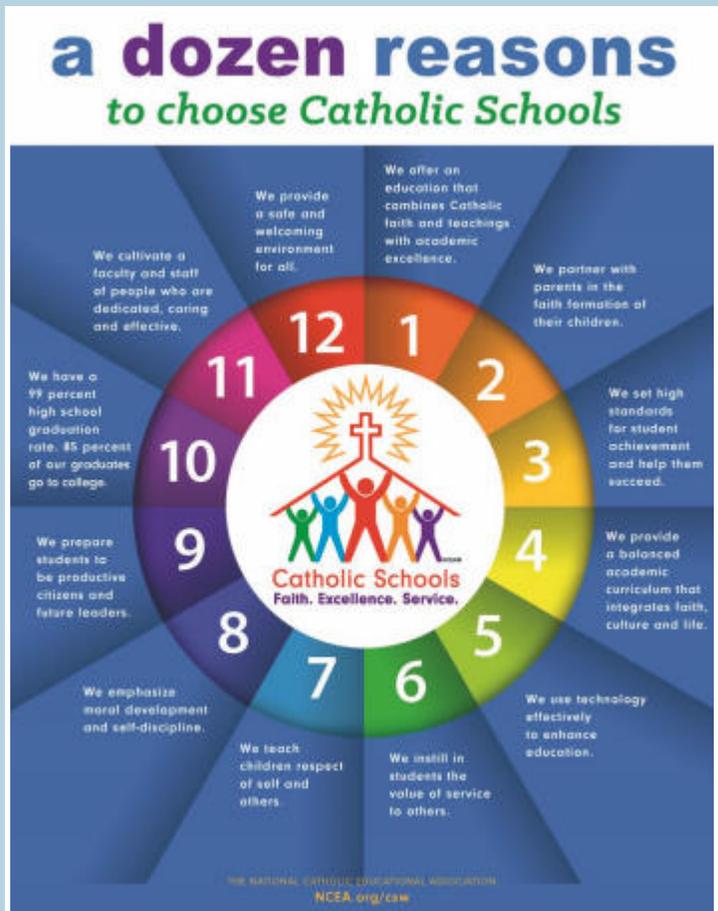

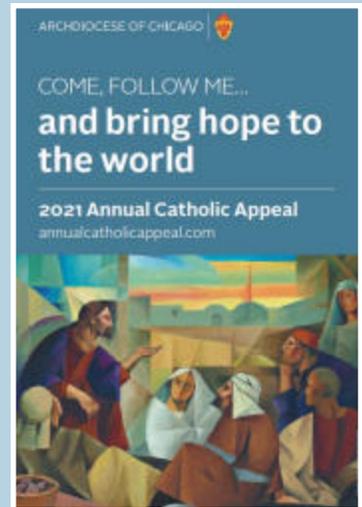

Please Make Your Gift to the 2021 Annual Catholic Appeal
Come, follow me ... and bring hope to the world.

Many families in our parish will be receiving the Annual Catholic Appeal mailing from Cardinal Cupich. On behalf of those served by the ministries, parishes and schools who receive funding from the Appeal, we thank you for your gifts. Please return your response as soon as possible.

The Annual Catholic Appeal offers a wonderful opportunity to answer Jesus' call to "Come, follow me ... and bring hope to the world." This is especially important during these trying and challenging times. Many in our parishes are affected financially by the pandemic, and we encourage giving at all levels to support this initiative.

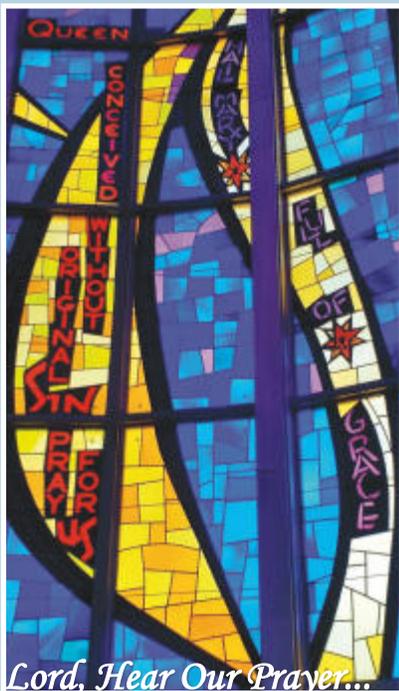

In addition to providing for ministries and services throughout the Archdiocese, the Annual Catholic Appeal funds services in our own parish.

When we financially support the work of our parish, our Archdiocese and the Catholic Church throughout the world, we experience a feeling of deep gratitude, especially when we contemplate God's many gifts to us personally. By sharing our wealth through gifts to the 2021 Annual Catholic Appeal, we demonstrate our commitment to the Church and to each other.

Please join our parish family in prayer ...

Live The Liturgy: Inspiration For The Week...

Most of us are not trail blazers. Throughout history though, there have been many folks who tirelessly and persistently pursued the promptings of their hearts without giving any care to what others thought or trends dictated. Jesus is one of them. St. Teresa of Calcutta and St. Francis of Assisi are examples of others. The rest of us are people who take a more measured look at things, want to test the waters, and take our time choosing what path or person to follow. We need credible witnesses of faith. We need the Moses people in our lives to show us by word and deed who God is and what integrity and a purpose-driven life looks like. They are the pointers to truth, who even though they struggle themselves, seem to embody an unspoken timeless wisdom that just sounds and feels right. Jesus taught with this same type of authority and caught the attention of the greatest of skeptics. They were astonished. Even though we need our human prophets we can also be somewhat prophetic ourselves by putting integrity and conviction behind our embrace of the Gospel. Perhaps much to our surprise, we all have the power to be a credible witness. Are you willing to give it a try?

Gospel Meditation - Encourage a Deeper Understanding of Scripture

Most of us are quiet people who desire to live a good and holy life, promote the values and mission of the Gospel as best we can and desire to one day inherit the surprise of life eternal God promises to us. We are not trail blazers. We are simple people who want to do the simple things of life well. But there are others who left a more profound impact along the way of the paths they walked. Folks like Dorothy Day, Martin Luther King, Thomas Merton, Gandhi, St. Teresa of Calcutta, and many others left lasting impacts and legacies. Like Moses, they show us by word and deed who God is and what integrity and a purpose driven life look like. They show us how to be holy. We need Moses people like these to give us inspiration, hope and an example of holy living.

We do not need to do what they did or even mirror their relationship with God. Each one of us is God's special creation, with a purpose and soul known only to us. We need to learn how to open up and bring, without compromise, our soul-ness to life. We know when someone is authentic and centered because they always point to truth, even though they struggle and sin themselves, and they embody an unspoken timeless wisdom that just sounds and feels right. Jesus taught with this same type of authority and it astonished many who listened. We do not need to move mountains, advance a cause, write books or become notable. All we have to do is become credible witnesses of the faith we profess. Moses people can teach us how to do this.

St. Oscar Romero was an amazing man and a Moses figure for sure. He saw God in the burning bush and brought the flame of Gospel faith to the poorest of the poor, challenging the evils of the society in which he lived. He was tireless and persistent. He must have gotten very close to the problem because it cost him his life. He suspected it would. St. Romero said, "When we leave Mass, we ought to go out the way Moses descended Mt Sinai: with his face shining, with his heart brave and strong to face the world's difficulties." We can learn from this wisdom. If we allow the power of the Mass to truly transform us, we will leave that holy encounter changed. Our face will shine, and we will have courage. We can then bring what we have received to life's challenges. That sounds doable, doesn't it? Because of the example of our simple holiness, people will be amazed.

Everyday Stewardship – Recognize God in your Ordinary Moments

Embracing Change in Christ...

It's officially one month since we popped the champagne, toasted 2021 and wrote down a list of resolutions. This is usually the time when we start to take a good, hard look in the mirror to assess what we have done – or have not done – with the first month of this brand-new year.

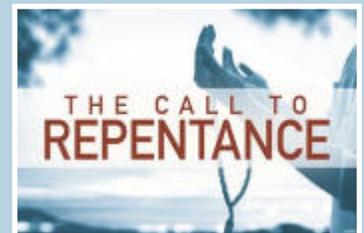

New years can be scary, can't they? Full of promise, sure, but also full of room for failure. Full of space for our old baggage, old fears and the continuation of old mistakes.

The same can be said of Christ, and the new life he offers us, if we are brave enough to accept it. Opportunities like that can be intimidating. In that moment, we might find ourselves like the man with the unclean spirit crying out: "What have you to do with me, Jesus of Nazareth? Have you come to destroy us?"

Jesus is a comforter of the afflicted; he is a consoling figure, but he is also a challenging one. Sometimes we have grown attached to our afflictions. The idea of correcting bad habits or forming new ones is frankly terrifying to us. We have a voice deep inside who sees Christ and his invitation to repentance, and it cries out in fear: "I know who you are!"

When we live in the present, disavowing the baggage of the past or fear of the future, we submit ourselves to the promise of redemption. Let us be brave everyday stewards and invite Christ's healing power into our lives. We won't regret it – I'm sure the demoniac never did.
