TRYING NEW FOODS IN TIMOR-LESTE

Timor-Leste has the highest rate of child malnutrition in Asia, and many children suffer from stunting, which makes a big impact on a child's growth and future. Home gardens and fishponds are helping families provide better nutrition for their children. What do you eat to stay healthy? What can you do to ensure children have enough food to thrive?

THE EUCHARIST AND SIN

By Colleen Jurkiewicz | Nov 28, 2020 | Featured, Local

The Real Presence

Note: This is the fourth in a five-part series on the Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Eucharist.

It's not uncommon for a priest to hear, in the confessional, a penitent express frustration that, despite frequent reception of Holy Communion, they are struggling with overcoming habitual sin.

"Oftentimes, they will despair of their inability to conquer these vices and they will speak about how even though they engage in a variety of spiritual practices and receive Holy Communion — maybe even daily — they do not seem to receive the effects of that spiritual growth. It doesn't seem to transform their moral life; it doesn't seem to help them grow in virtue," said Fr. Stephen Buting, associate pastor of Lumen Christi Parish in Mequon.

But the fact of the matter is that the Eucharist is never unable to deliver graces. It is simply that we are sometimes not able to fully receive them.

Fr. Buting explained that receiving Communion strengthens the infused moral virtues — prudence, temperance, fortitude and justice — as well as the theological virtues of faith, hope and charity.

However, it does not "substitute or replace our own natural growth in those virtues."

"It's filling up our spiritual capacity to perform these virtues, but if there's no natural habit underneath that virtue, then a lot of times it acts more like rainfall on a bone-dry field or desert," he said. "It runs off instead of sinking into the ground, because the ground doesn't have the receptivity, in that moment, to receive that and be transformed by it. It just kind of sloughs off before it really has an impact."

Which is why the Eucharist is not a magical pill for the easy cure of all sins. It is, rather, an instrument by which a multitude of grace is made accessible to those who will avail themselves of it.

It's not so unlike the sacrament of marriage. A Catholic couple who has vowed to love and honor one another all the days of their lives will not find it easy simply because they made that promise in front of a priest. But having entered into that sacrament in the Catholic Church, they can draw upon the graces poured out by the Holy Spirit to nourish and sustain their relationship even if it is subjected to unimaginable strain.

So it goes with the Eucharist. "How do we avoid situations of sin, how do we manage our emotions in the midst of occasions of sin? We expect on a spiritual level that we'll be able to rise above our natural state, but grace builds on nature, and so we can ask God to strengthen our natural habits in addition to infusing those virtues within us on a supernatural level," said Fr. Buting. "Both are absolutely necessary and both are key components for overcoming those tendencies to habitual sins that we can often fall into."

"If we are struggling to stay out of sin, and are resolved to fight temptation as best we can, then the Eucharist becomes a great help," said Fr. Michael-Joseph Paris, OCD, a Carmelite priest serving at the Basilica and National Shrine of Mary Help of Christians at Holy Hill. "As Pope Francis has reiterated, it is a remedy for our weakness, not a reward for our virtue. It strengthens us and gives us courage to let go of what only seems to satisfy, and to find the exhilarating freedom of living authentically as a child of God."

REAL PRESENCE REFLECTION

During Lent, we will be sharing a five-part series of articles published in The Catholic Herald on the Real Presence of Jesus in the Eucharist along with parishioner reflections on this topic. A link to the articles can also be found on our website, Facebook page, or directly at <https://catholicherald.org/>

"When we receive the Eucharist, we also find ourselves transported spiritually to the foot of the Cross." (Jurkiewicz, What Does the Eucharist Accomplish in Our Souls)

And kneeling at the foot of that cross I experience different emotions and regularly tears. At times, the emotion is immense gratitude for dying on the cross for me, and knowing I am one of His beloved. Some Masses, tears of joy appear as thoughts of my deceased dad fill my mind and heart and I know Dad's soul is with me at Mass. I have also experienced a feeling of helplessness as I ask Jesus for wisdom on handling a situation in my life. The beauty of Jesus being both God and man is that He experienced all of these emotions and He welcomes them all. The intensity of these thoughts and emotions have grown as my faith in the Catholic Church and my belief in the presence of Jesus in Holy Communion has grown. This growth did not happen overnight. I increased my time in prayer. I also began studying the Mass and why Catholics say certain words at Mass. One book, I recommend for study, is The How-To Book of The Mass by Mike Dubruiel. I have a copy I would love to lend you. Give me a call at the Parish Office. Getting closer to Jesus through the Eucharist might seem like a challenge, but ask God for His help and the rewards will be great. God Bless.

Susan

Heavenly Father, thank you for sending your Son to earth and for the gift of the Eucharist. May we never be ashamed or too proud to lay our problems, sorrows, and joys at the foot of the Cross. Amen

Susan Casleton is a member of the Real Presence of Jesus in the Eucharist team whose hope is to strengthen the Eucharistic faith of St. John the Baptist Parish members.

What's Left to talk about?

We are ending our monthly communication about the projects involved in our one by One Capital Campaign. The weekend of March 20/21 Dan Roarty will be sharing the proposed renovation ideas for our parking lot, playground, and Ministry Center. Besides being a historical building with thousands of emotional connections, the Ministry Center is used on a daily basis by the school, parish, and community. Our plan is to restore and revitalize this space. Dan will be discussing these three at a high level as there is a lot of information to share.

There will be infographics coming within the next several weeks to share more of the information. We invite you to ask any questions you may have after Mass. Sarah Wulf, Bill Wulf, and Dan Roarty will be available to answer any questions you have.

If you are unable to make it to Mass, you can contact Sarah Wulf at swulf@sjbh.org.

EUCCHARISTIC MIRACLES OF THE WORLD EXHIBIT VATICAN INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION

Beginning Saturday, March 20 our parish will host a display of recorded Eucharist Miracles of the World. The exhibit will be available for viewing in the Narthex from March 20 - March 30

This display will contain an extensive assortment of photographs and historical descriptions and presents some of the principle Eucharistic Miracle's that have taken place throughout the ages in various countries of the world and have been documented and recognized by the Church. Everyone is encouraged to spend some time viewing the 30 panel display and become aware of these awesome miracles.

It is indeed true that the most important and astounding miracle is the one that takes place whenever the Eucharist is celebrated, during which Jesus Christ is truly present in a Sacramental way with His Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity under the appearance of bread and wine.

Everyone is invited and welcome to witness this magnificent exhibit which has been endorsed by Bishop Ricken. Donations will be taken to allow more parishes to enjoy this display in the future.

Lenten Formation Night:

Real Presence—God's Gifts of Himself

Do you believe that Jesus is truly present at Communion? How would you answer that question? Maybe you don't know the answer or maybe you believe but don't know how to articulate an answer.

Join us for two nights to discover the answer to this question and so much more. Each night will consist of a video, short talk, and time for Q&A. We will use this program, 'Presence', to get to the heart of the sacrament. Even if you feel you have a great understanding of these free gifts of God's life and love, God is exhaustive and so are his mysteries. We can always dive deeper.

All nights will run from 6-7pm in the Church, will be live streamed, and are for everyone.
Dates include March 22 and March 29.

God is tirelessly pursuing us; to be in relationship with us. The sacrament of the Eucharist, is one way in which God communicates his very life and love to us. How do you respond to this great gift of himself?
