A MESSAGE FROM OUR PASTOR

Happy Mother's Day!!!

Like everyone else, on this weekend I remember my own mother. She passed away 18 years ago. On various occasions, I shared how influential my mother was in my own vocation journey. As I remember how her faith life impacted my own, I can never fully describe just how strong an influence she was and how her life helped me to hear God's voice calling me to this way of life.

My mother was born on July 22nd, 1927. Since she was born on the Feast Day of St. Mary Magdalene, she was given the name Maria Magdalena. To her family and close friends, she was known as Nena – a common nickname for those named Magdalena. As she grew older, others began addressing her as Aling Nena as a sign of respect as was customary among Filipinos ("Aling" refers to an older woman oftentimes considered as a respected person who has gained wisdom through the years). To the family and extended relatives, she was generally known as "Nanay" which is an affectionate name for a mother similar to mom or mommy.

My mother was raised in a very strong and religious Catholic family. She was one of 7 siblings. She lived through World War II. During the Japanese occupation of the Philippines, she and her family spent virtually the entire time hiding in remote areas for fear of being captured by Japanese soldiers who were very unfriendly to the Filipinos of the time.

After she got married to my father, they were blessed with 5 children – 4 boys and 1 girl. Again, coming from a strong Catholic upbringing, it was my mother's wish and hope that there would be a priest in the family. It was actually a prayer that she inherited from her own mother. It was my grandmother who had always prayed for a priest in the family but, sadly, she did not live to see the day. At my mother's funeral, one of her oldest nephews – my cousin and godfather – praised my mother as the one who helped to fulfill the dream of having a priest in the family.

So, how exactly did my mother influence my vocation? Before I answer that question, I preface the whole conversation with the honest admission that no one ever brought up the idea of the priesthood to me as a child. Even though we faithfully went to Mass every Sunday, I never grew up personally knowing any of the priests in our parish. Oftentimes, vocation stories would start off by recalling the priest who extended a personal invitation or had a direct impact on the journey. Priests would encourage young boys to consider the priesthood – those that they may see might have the potential to have a vocation. However, I never had that close interaction with the priests of my home parish so they would never have had the chance to ask me.

When people ask me about my vocation story, I truly give much of the credit to my mother. At the same time, though, she herself never brought up the idea to me. It was only months before I was ordained a priest when she finally shared with me that it had been her prayer that at least one of her 4 sons might consider the priesthood. She never brought up the idea to me. Still, she was the strongest influence in my vocation.

How? I give credit to my mother because she was the one who taught me to pray. As a result of her influence and example, I grew up with a strong prayer life both as a family and personally. I shared on various occasions that my mother had the expectation – almost demand – that the family gather every night to pray the rosary. We did that without fail. As my siblings grew older and started moving off to college, it was usually my mother and I who continued the nightly rosary. When I myself went off to the seminary, my mother continued that habit with my father. Without that prayer life that I learned from my mother, I honestly do not think I would have ever heard God's call nor had the confidence to give it any thought.

As I grew older, the way I prayed changed. As I entered my teenage years, I would copy my mother's habit of praying with various holy cards and devotions from prayer books. It was a method of praying that had spoken to my mother since her own young years. Not having any other example to follow, I imitated her method. It spoke to me for many years.

Of course, now that I am much older, I do not pray in the same way as I did when I was a child or even as a teenager. My prayer life then was strong but it simply consisted in reciting prayers from rote memory and having a list of intentions which oftentimes included requests for help in school work, etc. I still use some of those devotions and prescribed prayers. But, my prayer life now is much different. Like many others, I feel like my prayer life had matured as I also grew in maturity. However, one thing has remained constant. I must give credit to my mother who again taught me to pray.

When life was difficult, she would always remind me to turn to my relationship with Jesus. She herself had doubts and struggles. Even on her deathbed, she admitted to me that she was frightened of dying. But, she never gave up on her relationship with God because she knew that God was the only one who would never fail her. As I remember her on this Mother's Day weekend, I find myself full of gratitude once again for the gift that she shared with me.

As we remember our own mothers this weekend, they may even have been the ones who taught us to pray. A lot of times, we might even consider it to be the job of the mother to teach the children how to pray. However, in the Jewish custom in which Jesus himself grew up, it has always been the job of the father to teach the children how to pray. Regardless of who it was in our lives that instilled that discipline in us, let us together give thanks to God for the influence given to us by our own mothers.

Of course, there are some mothers who may not have given us a good example. They still deserve our prayers for without them, we would never have entered into the world. For all our mothers and those who have been like a mother to us, let us show them gratitude for whatever impact they may have had on our lives and celebrate the grace that God has given us through them.

Peace,

Faithful. Billie

*Whoever has my commandments and observes
them is the one who loves me.
And whoever loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and reveal myself to him.*

- John 14:21

What do we see when we examine our lives to see how we have lived out this greatest commandment, the one Christ cares most about? It appears that we are doing pretty well at first glance. Generally, we are polite and kind. The ability to be nice is one of the greatest achievements of our society. It is an achievement. Civility, consideration, kindness, and politeness are effective ways of loving one another - Christ did the same.

How deep does it really go? A second glance, however, reveals plenty of room for improvement, especially in our language. People love to talk about other people's failures in our society. There is a lot of scandal and detraction. There is much to be done to make the society more loving and forgiving. Jesus was full of mercy and compassion, more eager to forgive people's faults than to broadcast them. When we gloat over others' failings, we are doing the exact opposite. Christ thinks well of us. Christ speaks well of us. Christ sees the good we can do and the saints we can become. He keeps the sins and failings in the confessional. He never spreads them around. We cannot always control our spontaneous thoughts. Our fallen, selfish nature will often fixate on the speck in our neighbors' eyes even when we still have a log in our own eye but we can always control what we say about others.

Let us show Jesus our love for Him by speaking well of others, just as He spoke well of his enemies on the cross, when He prayed: "Father, forgive them, for they do not know what they are doing." If we make an effort to love Him in this way, He will help us. If we persevere, He will, as He promised, reward us.

COMPENDIUM of the Catechism of the Catholic Church
Part One - The Profession of Faith
Section Two - The Profession of the Christian Faith
CHAPTER ONE I Believe in God the Father
The Symbols of Faith

50. What does it mean to say that God is almighty? 268-278 God reveals himself as "the strong One, the mighty One" (Psalm 24:8), as the One "to whom nothing is impossible" (Luke 1:37). His omnipotence is universal, mysterious and shows itself in the creation of the world out of nothing and humanity out of love; but above all it shows itself in the Incarnation and the Resurrection of his Son, in the gift of filial adoption and in the forgiveness of sins. For this reason, the Church directs her prayers to the "almighty and eternal God" ("Omnipotens sempiterne Deus...").

51. What is the importance of affirming "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth" (Genesis 1:1)? 279-289; 315 The significance is that creation is the foundation of all God's saving plans. It shows forth the almighty and wise love of God, and it is the first step toward the covenant of the one God with his people. It is the beginning of the history of salvation which culminates in Christ; and it is the first answer to our fundamental questions regarding our very origin and destiny.

52. Who created the world? 290-292; 316 The Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit are the one and indivisible principle of creation even though the work of creating the world is particularly attributed to God the Father.

53. Why was the world created? 293-294; 319 The world was created for the glory of God who wished to show forth and communicate his goodness, truth and beauty. The ultimate end of creation is that God, in Christ, might be "all in all" (1 Corinthians 15:28) for his glory and for our happiness.

OUR PRAYER LIFE

TODAY'S READINGS AND REFLECTION

First Reading: Then they laid hands on them, and they received the Holy Spirit. (Acts 8:17)

Reflection Question: We hear how through the prayers of Peter and John the Holy Spirit descended upon those Samaritans who believed in Jesus and were baptized. Can you think of a time when your prayers were answered?

Psalms: Let all the earth cry out to God with joy. (Ps 66) Or Alleluia.

Second Reading: For Christ also suffered for sins once, the righteous for the sake of the unrighteous, that he might lead you to God. Put to death in the flesh, he was brought to life in the Spirit. (1 Pt 3:18)

Reflection Question: Peter taught his community to be prepared to defend their faith with gentleness and reverence even in a hostile environment. Have you ever had to explain what you believe to someone arguing with you?

Gospel: "If you love me, you will keep my commandments. And I will ask the Father, and he will give you another Advocate to be with you always, the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot accept, because it neither sees nor knows him." (Jn 14:15-17)

Reflection Question: Jesus assured his disciples, "I will not leave you orphans; I will come to you." When do you experience Jesus' presence in your life?

PRAYER TO ST. ISIDORE

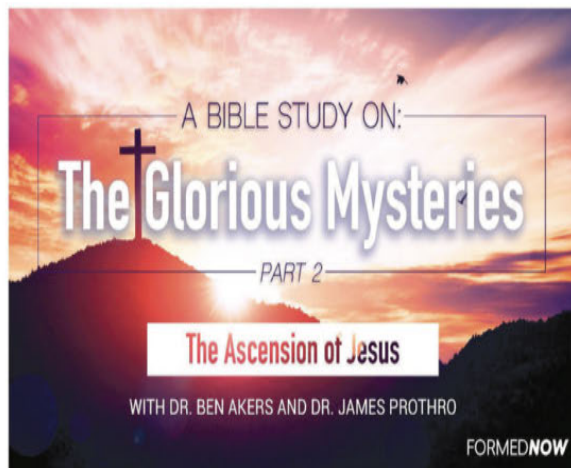

Almighty God, You gave to man the opportunity to harvest the good things of Your creation and to build up Your Kingdom. By the prayers and holy example of Saint Isidore, inspire us to be diligent in our laboring and to have trustful hearts that rely totally on You. Through the intercession of Your faithful servant St. Isidore, help all who sow and labor in the fields to be rewarded with plentiful harvests. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, Your Son, who lives and reigns with You for ever and ever. Amen.

Blessing of Mothers on Mother's Day

During the season of Easter, what a great time to remember our mothers and ask for God's blessing on them. It is God who ultimately gave us life. It is through God's unselfish love--mirrored in our mothers' willingness to associate their love with God's and take the risk to love us into life--that we have the opportunity for life. We remember our mothers this Mother's Day with much love. Let us pray for each of them:

God our heavenly Father, you give to each the ability to share your generative love. Bless those women in our lives who mirror your love and bring forth life through their willingness to risk bringing new life into this world. Help us to show them our gratitude for the gift of life and the gift of a mother's love. May our life-giving God continue to bless them and show them his unfailing love. We ask this through Jesus, God's Son and our brother. Amen.

Our moms, grandmas, step-moms, foster moms, godmothers, aunts, sisters, friends, cousins, in-laws, and in a very special way, our moms in heaven. You all have helped to make us who we are today. Thank you! God bless you!

CARE FOR CREATION

"Praise be to you my Lord, through our Sister, Mother Earth, who sustains and governs

Plant Trees.

They clean our air, protect our drinking water, provide food and habitat for animals. Studies show they even improve our mental health. Trees also absorb the CO2 that contributes to global warming and release oxygen back into the air. In one year, an acre of mature trees absorbs the amount of CO2 produced by a car driven 26,000 miles.

Planting trees also helps prevent soil erosion, increases land fertility and can add value to your property. Trees that provide shade can also significantly reduce your energy bills. When selecting trees, choose native types to support local wildlife. Spring and fall can be good times to plant.

Did you know? The Society of St. Vincent de Paul is the oldest charity in the Chicago area.

SVdP Chicago provides a number of greatly needed services to needy families and individuals in our community, including the very basics for human dignity such as food, shelter, and clothing. Additional help with utility bills, rent, transportation, medical expenses, and even emotional and spiritual support transforms lives. More than 800,000 community residents in Cook and Lake counties are served each year; people who wouldn't have had anywhere else to turn to for help without The Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

Who would think that the challenge to a 20-year-old college student and his friends would be the spark that ignited the world in service to the poor? Yet God had a plan ...

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul was founded in 1833 by Frederic Ozanam, a 20 year-old college student at the Sorbonne University in Paris. In an answer to a challenge from a fellow student to Frederic and his fellow Catholics, "What do you do now (to do good works)?", Ozanam and fellow students set out helping the poor and oppressed in the neighborhoods of Paris, taking them bread and clothing while sharing friendship and concern. The Society is named after St. Vincent de Paul whose life mission was devoted to helping the underprivileged. This patron saint of Christian Charity alerted the world to social problems in the 1600's.

Frédéric chose the 17th-century priest St. Vincent de Paul, known as the Apostle of Charity, as patron of the Conference. Frédéric's faith was very important to him and it guided him throughout his life. He was known to be a very humble and compassionate man. These traits enabled him to successfully assist many people in need and laid the foundation for the Society to spread throughout the world. As the Society grew, its members established volunteer groups in parishes. These groups became known as conferences. 1857, the first Conference in Chicago began at St. Patrick Church.

Today we have over 2,000 members serving Cook and Lake counties and The Society is active in more than 150 countries with over 800,000 members around the world. More than 12 million people in the United States are helped annually by The Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

St. Julie SVdP hosted the Annual District X Mass of Fellowship on May 3rd. There they honored several members from various parishes who have been steadfast and dedicated volunteers.

It was a fabulous evening of prayer and gratitude!

Our thanks to Fr. Mike Foley, Fr. Tirso and Deacon Ed for celebrating such a wonderful Mass with us. Our Music Director John Ligda did an outstanding job of providing just the right music. We thank you for your splendid gifts!

Thank you to the St. Julie Baking Ministry. Honestly, we could open up a St. Julie Bakery with your delicious desserts! Folks were going up two and three times. You truly outdid yourselves. Thank you!

The St. Julie SVdP Conference is just plain amazing. They come together and good things happen in God's name. You all are the Hands and Feet of Christ here at St. Julie and in our community.

Thank you for seeing Christ in all of us.

ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

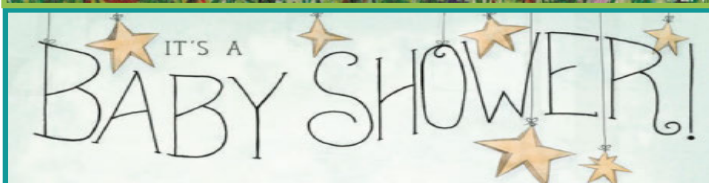

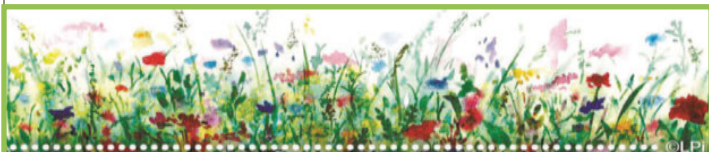

LEGACY PLANNING

Whoever has my commandments and observes them is the one who loves me. Whoever loves me will be loved by my Father, and I will love him and reveal myself to him. (John 14:21)

As stewards of our faith, you can express your gratitude for God's gifts and help ensure that God's good work on earth continues by considering a charitable gift annuity. When you establish a charitable gift annuity with the archdiocese, not only will you receive fixed payments for life, but you can designate our parish as the remainder beneficiary.

You can schedule payments according to your financial needs, and enjoy immediate and future tax benefits, including a federal income tax deduction for a portion of your gift, if you itemize. Also, a portion of each annuity payment will be tax-free (through life expectancy). The funds remaining after your lifetime will support our parish or school – as designated by you.

CATHOLIC REFLECTION OF THE WEEK	RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS
My dad was adopted as a baby. It's a big part of my family's story. His birth mother placed him in a Catholic orphanage not long after birth. A young couple longing for a baby strolled among the bassinets. My father, then only a few months old, looked at the husband and smiled. The man said, "That's my son." They took him home and the family grew. This moment of adoption was a wonderful truth they celebrated even when my dad was a young boy. They told him, "You're even more special than the other children, because we chose you to be our son." My dad's eyes well up with tears of gratitude whenever he tells the story, even eighty-three years later. What is your story? Do we think or act like unwanted orphans? Who do we believe ourselves to be? As we continue to ponder Jesus' resurrection, we hear him say to us this Sunday, "I will not leave you orphans." God doesn't leave us alone like spiritual orphans. The power that raised Jesus from the dead is the Holy Spirit, who is also called the Spirit of Adoption. He chooses us to be His children, to share God's life forever. He gives us a future filled with hope. We are not orphans anymore! This Easter, that's the story we should share with others. It's the true story we are living right now. — Father John Muir ©LPi	For some time, I have worn a brown scapular. If you don't know much about this devotional practice, here is a very quick-and-dirty version, greatly lacking in detail: it's two little pieces of brown cloth, connected by a cord and worn around the neck beneath one's clothing. One of the cloth pieces depicts Our Lady of Mount Carmel appearing to St. Simon Stock, and the other piece — the one that is sometimes visible at the nape of my neck — depicts Our Lady's "scapular promise:" Whosoever dies clothed in this Scapular shall not suffer eternal fire. This reflection is not about the brown scapular, but let me just quickly say that, while I believe the scapular promise, I do not view the scapular as a get-out-of-jail-free card, and neither does the Church. I don't wear it for the purpose of avoiding eternal fire. I wear it as a reminder to myself of my Marian consecration and as an act of humility and prayer. I have sometimes cringed at the thought of how it looks to the person standing behind me in line at the coffee shop, should they happen to glimpse my scapular and read its brazen promise. We don't go in for talk of hellfire and salvation in polite society these days. I wonder if they think I'm a crazy person. I wonder if I should try to tuck the scapular back down below my collar. Sometimes I do. But more often than not, I take a deep breath and decide that it's okay for me to feel self-conscious and trust that, if God wants to use this moment for His glory, he will — and if He doesn't, all I've lost is the esteem of others, which isn't worth that much to begin with. I've always heard it said that if you do Christianity right, the rest of the world should think you're just a little bit weird. -- Colleen Jurkiewicz Dorman "...the Spirit of truth, whom the world cannot accept, because it neither sees nor knows him." — John 14:17 ©LPi
LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK: If we love Christ, we will keep his commandments, and the world will not accept us. But we are not left orphans — God sends us an Advocate. Come, Holy Spirit, and renew the face of the earth! ©LPi
WHY DO WE DO THAT?
Question: The Bible says that Jesus condemned gambling, but I notice that so many parishes have them at festivals and other events. What's correct? Answer: Although Jesus speaks of our relationship with material wealth and the very human struggle with greed, the gospels do not include any specific instructions related to gambling. At the same time, the Church is very sensitive to the needs of those who might struggle with an addiction to gambling, and pastoral care should always be offered to those who struggle with this reality in their life. While it is true that many parish or school communities include gambling or games of chance in festivals and fundraisers (e.g. bingo, roulette, ring tossing, dunking booths, etc.), there is nothing inherently wrong these sorts of events, given they are played fairly and within the limits of reason are not morally objectionable. As the Catechism of the Catholic Church reminds us: "Games of chance (card games, etc.) or wagers are not in themselves contrary to justice. They become morally unacceptable when they deprive someone of what is necessary to provide for his needs and those of others" (no. 2413). ©LPi
