The Second Sunday of Lent presents us with the powerful story of the Transfiguration of Jesus. In this passage from Luke 9:28-36, we see Jesus, in the company of Peter, James, and John, ascend a mountain and undergo a dramatic change in appearance. His face shines like the sun, and his clothes become dazzling white. As the apostles witness this profound event, they also encounter two figures—Moses and Elijah—who represent the Law and the Prophets. The voice of God the Father then speaks from the cloud, saying, “This is my Son, the Chosen One; listen to him.”

The Call to Encounter Jesus in His Glory

The Transfiguration is not just an extraordinary event; it is a moment of revelation. It reminds us that Jesus is not only the humble teacher who walked among us but is also the glorified Son of God, who shares in the divine nature. In this moment, the veil is lifted, and the disciples are granted a glimpse of Jesus' heavenly glory. For Peter, James, and John, this experience would have been both awe-inspiring and overwhelming. They are left in wonder, unsure of how to respond.

In our Lenten journey, this moment of glory serves as a reminder that Jesus is not simply a figure of the past but is also alive, full of light and glory, present in our midst today. Just as the disciples were invited to behold his glory on the mountaintop, we too are called to seek an encounter with Christ in the ordinary moments of our lives.

The Invitation to Listen to Jesus

The voice of God the Father commands, “Listen to him.” This is a simple yet profound invitation. In a world filled with distractions, noise, and competing voices, Lent calls us to quiet our hearts and listen more attentively to the voice of Jesus. We are invited to pay attention to his words and his actions in the Gospel, to learn from his example of humility, love, and sacrifice. The Father's directive to listen is not a passive suggestion—it is an active call to be transformed by Jesus' teachings and to live them out in our daily lives.

The Role of Suffering in the Transfiguration

While the Transfiguration reveals the glory of Christ, it is also significant in the context of Jesus' upcoming suffering and death. Immediately after the Transfiguration, Jesus speaks to his disciples about his impending passion (Luke 9:43b-45). The glory of the Transfiguration is not meant to overshadow the suffering that Jesus will endure; rather, it prepares the disciples to understand that suffering and glory are inseparable in God's plan for salvation.

In our own lives, we too experience moments of joy and peace, as well as suffering and trials. The Transfiguration reminds us that the presence of God is with us in both, and that ultimately, God's glory will shine through even our darkest moments. Lent invites us to embrace both aspects—recognizing Christ's glory and accepting the challenge of walking with him through his suffering.

A Call to Transfiguration in Our Own Lives

Lent is a time for personal transformation. Just as the disciples witnessed Jesus' transformation on the mountain, we too are called to undergo a transformation in our hearts during this season. The invitation is to let Christ's light shine in the darkness of our lives, to allow ourselves to be transfigured by his grace. Whether through prayer, fasting, or almsgiving, we are invited to make space for God's transformative work in us.

Let us remember that this season is not just about self-discipline, but about opening ourselves to the glory of God, which can heal, renew, and change us from the inside out. As we continue our Lenten journey, may we listen to Jesus with open hearts, trusting that he will lead us to the glory of the Resurrection.

Mission 2911

(recite this prayer daily; in support of our parish strategic plan.)

We ask you, Oh Blessed Virgin Mary to intercede on our behalf so that St. Simon the Apostle parish and school can continue to be a source of evangelization, service, and witness of God's love to the world. Through the help of God's grace, may we continue to thrive in offering high quality education, catechesis, moral development, and personal spiritual growth to our children, faithful parishioners, and to visitors near and far. May St. Simon the Apostle parish and school be a source of welcome and invitation to follow the Lord's will wherever He may call. We ask you almighty God to fill Fr. Hogan, the St. Simon the Apostle leadership team, and the Archdiocese of St. Louis with wisdom and understanding to help discern God's plan for all of us. May we be receptive and cooperative to the Lord's promptings and respond therefore in courage and faith. Amen.

Missionary Discipleship:

Missionary Discipleship – Start with the End in Mind

St. Paul reminds us today that “our minds are occupied on earthly things. But our citizenship is in heaven.” Before we start a project, we usually visualize the end result and make the proper preparations to achieve the desired result. Successful companies do this all the time. They plan, prepare, adjust and allocate resources to achieve the goal. Dr. Stephen Covey says “starting with the end in mind” is one of the habits of highly effective people.

Maybe we should apply this concept to our relationship with the Holy Trinity. Too many of us set our sights too low, we don't reach for heaven! Starting with the end in mind doesn't make things any easier, but it does keep us focused on the end goal – heaven. God has given each of us a plan. Be open to what God is calling you to do and invite others to do the same.

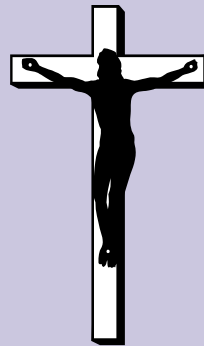

Living Water Bible Study

All are invited to come and join us each week as we gather together to glorify God by diving deeper into the upcoming weekly Sunday Mass readings, led by Deacon Mike Brancato. The group will meet on Tuesday evenings from 7:00 - 8:30 p.m. The meeting will be in the St. Joseph Room.

If you cannot work an entire shift, coming late after work is certainly an option. Children are always welcome to volunteer, if accompanied by a guardian. The only place we have a restriction is Hope Lodge, where volunteers must be 18 years or older to protect the transplant patients.

Monetary donations are available. If this is a better option for you, please make your checks payable to St. Simon, and drop off or mail to the church office at 11011 Mueller Rd, 63123. Please note "Community Outreach" on your envelope and in the memo line. You can also donate through the Online Giving button on our parish website @ www.stsimonchurch.org. Your monetary donations will be added to your year-end statement from St. Simon church.

If you have further questions or need help to get signed up, please contact Diane Colona (314-488-1911) or Ken Goeddel (314-494-6290) and we would be more than happy to assist or sign you up. Your support in this parish outreach endeavor is greatly appreciated.
