Welcome to the Co-Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist

Our parishioners, the parish staff and I, as rector, hope that your visit to our church will be a prayerful time while at the Mayo Clinic or while you are visiting our city for any other reason. We encourage you to consider the Co-Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist as your church away from home. If we may serve you with any of your needs please do not hesitate to contact us at the Parish Center.

The Co-Cathedral of St. John the Evangelist Community is committed to proclaiming the Good News of Jesus Christ as we partner with the city and our neighbor, the Mayo Clinic. If you have recently moved to our city and desire to join the parish community, please find a form on our web page and register as a member. Together we pray that the Holy Spirit will lead us in being a welcoming Catholic community.

Catholic Looking for Hope.

As I typed the words into my Google search, I had to laugh to myself. I sounded like a classified ad in a newspaper. I had planned to get an idea for writing; instead my search results gave me row after row of why Catholics are hopeful. There is no guide that shares how to find true hope when you're lost in the sea of the world's problems, daily struggles, and personal battles. With each passing day, a new storm rises up, and I easily focus on the sorrow of war, the frustration of never having enough time, the impatience with myself for once again slipping on that Lenten resolution. Where can I find hope in this mess that is life?

This chaotic search for hope is not new. During the Lenten season, we revisit the story of Moses leading the Israelites through the desert in search of the promised land. The story does not depict a journey of ease. Between being chased by Pharaoh's army and traversing a desert, the Israelites' grumbling and loss of hope is admittedly relatable (see Exodus 16:2-3). Where is the hope that God's plan to lead them to the promised land will come to pass?

Even Jesus' disciples show wavering hope as we approach Easter. As they are faced with the capture and crucifixion of Jesus, the disciples turn inward out of fear. At Jesus' death, they retreat behind shut doors out of fear (see John 20:19). Here, they are faced with events that did not exactly go according to plan. Just like we are today. Is this man truly the Christ? And can He overcome the obstacles in my life?

In my own life, I have a tendency to look at the negative aspects of myself. I am not a go-getter. I am not wanting to spend my free time doing service. I can't make all my ideas reality. I become so captured in these negatives that I can't even begin to consider how Jesus desires to work beyond my limitations. The negative in our world appears to be so very present, and I appear so easily trapped in thinking about my life and the world through the bars of negativity and limits. Where is the hope?

In the face of this struggle is the reality of God. The readings for this weekend recall how exactly Jesus works beyond the impossibility of our messy negatives. The well-known gospel of the woman caught in adultery brings us face-to-face with the mercy of God at work in a space full of negatives. On one hand, we see the woman accused and shamed by her very human mistake. On the other, we see the insistence of the scribes and the Pharisees that this woman does not belong (see John 8:1-11). How does Jesus change the situation and enter into the open space left by the negative? How does our own negative space allow for Jesus to enter into our lives and change the situation?

Here is where I find hope. Not in knowing that the problems I see around me will work out, or that I will someday feel really comfortable talking to strangers, but in knowing that God has done great things for me and continues to work beyond my limitations (see Psalm 126). I have a beautiful opportunity in Lent to admit that I am lacking, but that in the absence of whatever I am lacking there is more and more room for God

CO-CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST

5TH SUNDAY OF LENT

to continue His creative work in me. How can I allow God into my negative space and overcome what seems impossible?

Hope allows us to reach for more. When I place my hope in the Lord, I might still have fear or uncertainty over myself, but I can trust that God wills the good to happen. When I come to St. John's, I think about how I can become limit-less through hoping in God and say yes to an act of service at mass, yes to saying hello to a stranger, yes to signing up for a service project. Things might not go quite as I think they should. I can hope, though, that things will go how God desires.

SPIRITUAL DIRECTION

Have you ever wanted deepen your relationship with God or enrich your prayer life? Spiritual direction is an opportunity to talk with another spiritual seeker who is academically and experientially trained to support and guide others as they negotiate their spiritual journeys. Katherine (Kate) Piderman, a friend of St. John's, is a certified spiritual director with specific training in Ignatian spirituality and the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius. Her background includes chaplaincy and research at Mayo Clinic and parish ministry. If you would like to learn more about spiritual direction with Kate, please contact her at kmpiderman@gmail.com. Focus and frequency of meetings will be discussed. In person (at SJE) or video meetings can be arranged. There is no charge for this ministry but donations are accepted.

*Other spiritual direction opportunities in Rochester, include those at Assisi Heights, Riverseasons, and Heritage Farm.

LAUDATO SI LENT WITH THE IGNATIAN SOLIDARITY NETWORK

The Laudato Si Action Platform (LSAP) is Pope Francis' guidelines for implementing "Care for Our Common Home". Our Lenten reflections lead us to action on behalf of our common home and all life. LSAP Goal 5 is Ecological Education. This goal invites us to rethink our classes and programs in the spirit of integral ecology in order to foster ecological awareness and transformative action. How are parishioners invited to reflect on ecological issues during mass, through programming, and in our faith development classes with students? Who might we invite to collaborate with us as we plan programming that invites members of our community to explore our local ecosystem? May our community be infused by the Spirit with the gift of creativity, working together to imagine new possibilities and ways to better care for our planet and all who dwell upon it.

LSAP Goal 6 Ecological Spirituality springs from a profound ecological conversion and helps us to "discover God in all things", both in the beauty of creation and in the sighs of the sick and the groans of the afflicted, aware that the life of the spirit is not dissociated from worldly realities. This week we are invited to consider how we can promote and integrate ecological spirituality into our parish life and community. How does our community connect with the current realities surrounding us—"both in the beauty of creation and in the sighs of the sick and the groans of the afflicted"? As we work to better care for our common home, may our hearts be open to find God in all things, both in beauty and in suffering, so that our lives and action may affirm the dignity and value of all creation.

#MERCYINMOTION CAMPAIGN-BURY THE DEAD

"Therefore, stay awake! For you do not know on which day your Lord will come. Be sure of this: if the master of the house had known the hour of night when the thief was coming, he would have stayed awake and not let his house be broken into. So too, you also must be prepared, for at an hour you do not expect, the Son of Man will come" (Mt. 24:42-44). This week, answer Christ's call to Bury the Dead by 1) Praying for the Holy Souls in Purgatory; 2) Fasting from gossip, swearing, and cruel words; 3) Attending the funeral of someone who might not have many friends or family. For more ideas on how to put Christ's Mercy in Motion this Lent, visit www.ccsomn.org/mercyinmotion.
