From Bishop Kettler: Statement on Recent Shootings in the U.S.

Once again we find ourselves grieving as a nation for victims of mass shootings. The sad frequency of these incidents doesn't diminish the shock we feel in the face of such brutality. As people of faith, we pray for all those killed in recent days in Ohio, Texas and California, and we mourn with those who now bear the sorrow of losing loved ones to such senseless violence.

Our prayers are acts of solidarity with those impacted by the shootings. Prayer also gives us an opportunity to reflect, listen and discern how God may be trying to move our hearts. Prayer in the wake of tragedy can help spur us to take actions that bring healing, renewal and reform to our society.

After much prayer, I have come to believe there is no single cause for the proliferation of mass shootings, and there are no simple solutions. We must be committed and courageous on several fronts if we hope to diminish the level of violence in our society.

These efforts should include comprehensive background checks and further limiting access to military-style weapons and high-capacity magazines; devoting more resources to mental health services for those at risk of committing violent behavior; calling out racism and other attitudes that dehumanize and make violence easier to perpetrate; and abstaining from the extreme violence that is so prevalent in much of the media we consume which, I fear, numbs our moral consciousness.

We also must elevate our national discourse, including on social media. As a user of Twitter, I'm appalled at the meanness and demeaning language I often see when it comes to politics and religion. Words turned into weapons also do lasting damage. It is possible to vigorously debate ideas while remaining civil in our conversations.

So, please keep praying. Pray for healing. Pray for wisdom about how best to reduce violence in our society. And then please be a part of the solution by taking actions that will make our communities safer for everyone.

SEAS Update III

This is just a quick update to affirm the plan to begin our school year at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton School on Wednesday, September 4. While this is a few days later than the other CCS elementary schools, those days will allow us to be ready with a safe and nearly-complete restoration after the July 4 accidental fire in the southeast vestibule and the consequent smoke and soot damage throughout the building. We do not plan to add those days at the end of the year.

ARTICLES FOR THE BULLETIN

Articles must be in your Parish Office by noon Monday.

Fr. Tom continued from page 1

There will be a few changes in the school routines for a short time while the last classrooms are completed, those closest to the fire area. Kelly will inform you of those adaptations. Again, we assure our families, faculty and staff, and all those who visit our building (including our valued Bouja customers and crew) that all air quality and hygiene measures will be assessed and inspections passed before we resume occupancy.

Again, thanks to all of you for your support and prayers, and to our partners at ServiceMaster and Catholic Mutual for addressing this unexpected situation so swiftly and competently.

The Latin motto of the Carthusian order, founded in France by St. Bruno in 1084, is Stat Crux Dum Orbis Volvitur: "The Cross stands while the world turns." That ancient saying comes to mind as the crucifix at the site of the fire remains on the wall, covered with soot but unharmed. It is a remarkable witness to God's protection and grace. May that sign inspire us in our needs, whatever they might be.

Fr. Tom

ACC PLANNING COUNCIL UPDATE

The most recent meeting of the ACC Planning Council was held on July 30. The five sub-committees provided updated background information from the six parishes of our ACC. New statistical information around parish services, historical attendance, make-up of parish members, communication methods, physical plant sound/lighting features and input method processes from parish staff and members were discussed. The basic data collection process for the sub-committees is nearly complete. Next steps will include getting feedback, suggestions and wishes from all parish members as we move forward to develop short/long-term goals and achievement time tables for the new ACC. The identity name/logo for the ACC and how we develop that was also discussed along with weekly Mass messaging provided via digital methods. Finally, the parish pastors indicated that with three weekend Masses being said from each along with support from retired priests, current Mass schedules can be met. However, the ACC development process should include a thought process on what we will look like in 5-10 years out. The next full meeting will be August 20 with follow-up feedback forthcoming.
