Fr. Eli Gieske's Message

Dear Parishioners,

Happy Feast of the Holy Family! Since one of our parishes is under the patronage of the Holy Family, this is a very special day for us. I pray you and your family are enjoying this Christmas season. We have much to be grateful for.

The Church celebrates this Feast of the Holy Family on the Sunday after Christmas in order to emphasize the importance of the family as a critical building block of our faith and our society. There are a lot of challenges to living as a family in our day. The Christian model of family is viewed by many as an outdated concept. Today, people aren't always aware of the benefits and the natural goods that come from a traditional family. Many of us have been affected by difficult marriages or troubled family relationships. Therefore, we may not always trust that the traditional Christian formula of a Mother Father and children is really the best way to raise a family.

When we have experiences of abuse, divorce, constant fighting or anger in our families, that tends to negatively impact our perception of what a healthy family ought to look like. None of our families are perfect, and we shouldn't let the imperfect be the enemy of the good. I think for some young people today, they are afraid of making mistakes... What if I choose the wrong spouse... What if I can't care for my children like my parents cared for me...? Family relationships don't automatically become loving and healthy. We are formed by our family experience, and so if there has been trauma or difficulties in our past family tree, that is going to have an impact on us. We've experienced so many problems in our family units... and now it's causing difficulties which seem to be overwhelming the natural stability that family is meant to bring.

When an earthquake disrupts a human city, it takes time to rebuild and bring order back. If another earthquake strikes again before order has been reestablished it will cause even more destruction. The systems of human society can't keep up with the forces of nature. In some sense we are experiencing this in the human family currently. There have been so many disruptions to family life, and so many families have been negatively impacted, that we can't find that stability we need for families to be healthy and to flourish.

I think we can all see this if, we are honest, and we look at where we are and what our past has been. What can we do? For those who are married... I think we need to make our family relationships a priority. Parents need to make tough decisions to create a home space that is family oriented. We have to avoid becoming just a group of people who live in the same space. Find ways to develop family relationships and patterns that bring you and your children together. Cut out anything from your home that undermines this effort, and don't allow outside activities to drive the flow of your family dynamics. This is counter-cultural and so it requires intentionality.

If you are a young person, looking to get married someday... Allow yourself to be formed in virtue and basic self-sacrifice now, so that you will be able to continue that pattern when you are married. You might need to spend extra time preparing for marriage or healing if you have had experiences in your family or your life that have negatively impacted you. None of us is beyond help, but each of us needs to be honest about our past if we want to form healthy relationships... especially with a future spouse.

If you are a grandparent or an aunt or uncle. Invest in that generation that is raising children, give them a hand, and support them. The rebuilding of the family will happen slowly and with diligent and intentional people living in healthy ways, and seeking holiness together. During this Christmas season, take time to be with your family and grow in love for one another.

In Christ,

-Fr. Eli

Mass Prayers & Readings

VOCATIONS PRAYER:

Almighty Father, we beg you for an increase in religious vocations and holy marriages in our diocese. Help us to be generous in our response to Your call. Choose from our homes those who are needed for Your work and strengthen us with the courage to say “yes” and to follow You. Help us as a diocese, as a parish, as families to encourage and foster vocations to the priesthood, permanent diaconate, and consecrated life. We commend our prayers to our Patroness, Mary, Queen of the Rosary, and ask this through Jesus Christ our Lord.

FIRST READING:

Sir 3:2-6, 12-14

God sets a father in honor over his children; a mother's authority he confirms over her sons. Whoever honors his father atones for sins, and preserves himself from them. When he prays, he is heard; he stores up riches who reveres his mother. Whoever honors his father is gladdened by children, and, when he prays, is heard. Whoever reveres his father will live a long life; he who obeys his father brings comfort to his mother. My son, take care of your father when he is old; grieve him not as long as he lives. Even if his mind fail, be considerate of him; revile him not all the days of his life; kindness to a father will not be forgotten, firmly planted against the debt of your sins—a house raised in justice to you

RESPONSORIAL PSALM:

Ps 84

Blessed are they who dwell in Your house O Lord.

SECOND READING:

1Jn 3:1-2, 21-24

Beloved:

See what love the Father has bestowed on us that we may be called the children of God. And so we are. The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him. Beloved, we are God's children now; what we shall be has not yet been revealed. We do know that when it is revealed we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.

Beloved, if our hearts do not condemn us, we have confidence in God and receive from him whatever we ask, because we keep his commandments and do what pleases him. And his commandment is this: we should believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another just as he commanded us. Those who keep his commandments remain in him, and he in them, and the way we know that he remains in us is from the Spirit he gave us.

GOSPEL:

LUKE 2:41-52

Each year Jesus' parents went to Jerusalem for the feast of Passover, and when he was twelve years old, they went up according to festival custom. After they had completed its days, as they were returning, the boy Jesus remained behind in Jerusalem, but his parents did not know it. Thinking that he was in the caravan, they journeyed for a day and looked for him among their relatives and acquaintances, but not finding him, they returned to Jerusalem to look for him. After three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the teachers, listening to them and asking them questions, and all who heard him were astounded at his understanding and his answers. When his parents saw him, they were astonished, and his mother said to him, “Son, why have you done this to us? Your father and I have been looking for you with great anxiety.” And he said to them, “Why were you looking for me? Did you not know that I must be in my Father's house?” But they did not understand what he said to them. He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was obedient to them; and his mother kept all these things in her heart. And Jesus advanced in wisdom and age and favor before God and man.

NICENE CREED:

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father; through him all things were made. For us men and our salvation he came down from heaven, (all bow through "and became man") and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man. For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.
