

ST. PATRICK BULLETIN

June 12, 2022

“MOST HOLY TRINITY:

GIVE ME SELF-KNOWLEDGE & SELF-AWARENESS”

Last week I alluded to four hidden types of pride that prevent us from having healthier relationships with God, neighbor, and self. For nothing is more destructive to our relationships than the selfish pride that goes before every sin. Jesus, meek and humble of heart, make our hearts like unto Thine. May true humility of heart open us to know the life and love of the Most Holy Trinity in imitation of our beloved patron (St. Patrick).

1. Pride of Superiority/Authority:

This is the typical narcissistic, angry, entitled type of pride, manifested by an overbearing, critical, argumentative attitude. It often seeks to selfishly control others and to gain power and status.

- Do I have a superior attitude or belittle others?
- Am I inclined to be bossy?
- Do I speak ill of others (gossip)?
- Am I irritable or do I insist on having the last word?

2. Pride of Timidity:

Pride of timidity is a type of self-love and self-hatred. While it seems to be the opposite of pride, pride of timidity is actually an inverted form of pride because it is motivated by a real desire for human respect.

- Am I self-conscious and easily embarrassed?
- Do I compare my talents with those of others, exaggerate my weaknesses, or hide my talents?
- Am I so afraid of mistakes as to not try at all?
- Do I stay with the crowd—be it right or wrong?

3. Pride of Sensitivity:

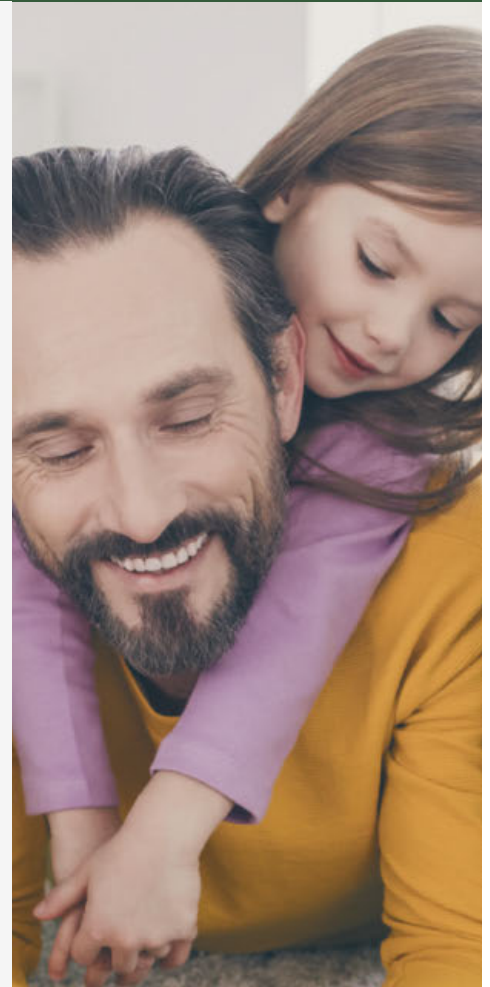

This type of pride is quite similar to the pride of timidity, and results from our self-love being wounded. St. Jane Frances de Chantal clarifies: “Must you continue to be your own cross? No matter which way God leads you, you change everything into bitterness by constantly brooding over everything. For the love of God, replace all this self-scrutiny with a pure and simple glance at God’s goodness.”

- Am I distrustful and often ready to accuse others of being unjust or unfair to me?
- Am I unable to laugh at myself?
- Am I moody and do I brood about injuries, whether real or perceived?
- Do I carry grudges?

4. Pride of Complacency/Vanity:

Like pride of timidity, complacency/vanity is characterized by an excessive desire for human respect. But like pride of superiority/authority, it is assertive and arrogant, seeks to impress others, be held in high esteem, and to influence in order to maximize attention and self-love.

- Am I vain about my talents, my status, my looks?
- Do I seek attention or am I anxious to be liked?
- Do I exclude others for their lack of status, etc.?
- Do I give God due credit for my gifts and abilities?
