Dear Friends in Christ,

It is no accident that the Second Sunday in the Octave of Easter is Divine Mercy. At the beginning of the new millennium, then pope and now St. John Paul II inaugurated Divine Mercy Sunday together with the canonization of St. Faustina Kowalska.

Divine Mercy celebrates our trust in the saving power of Jesus and His great desire to have all sinners depend wholly and completely on His mercy. In His Resurrection, Jesus has conquered sin and death. The mercy of Jesus must be seen as a fruit of the Resurrection—the sharing of Christ's own Risen Life with us through forgiveness of sins.

We need to remember the importance of depending on the mercy Jesus offers us in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. There are a number of Catholics today who rarely, if ever, receive this sacrament. Failing to receive healing from the Divine Physician for sin is akin to choosing to permit disease to devour the body. In this Easter Season, and in light of the glory of the Resurrection, I commend to you the practice of regular and faithful use of this sacrament of healing.

In Christ Jesus,

Fr. Pat

Queridos amigos en Cristo,

No es una coincidencia que el Segundo Domingo en la Octava Pascua sea la Divina Misericordia. Al comienzo del nuevo milenio, el entonces papa y ahora San Juan Pablo II inauguró el Domingo de la Divina Misericordia junto con la canonización de Santa Faustina Kowalska.

La Divina Misericordia celebra nuestra confianza en poder salvador de Jesús y su gran deseo de tener todos los pecadores dependan total y completamente de su misericordia. En su resurrección Jesús conquistó la vida y la muerte. La misericordia de Jesús tiene que ser vista como un fruto de la Resurrección—al compartir la propia vida resucitada de Cristo con nosotros a través del perdón de los pecados.

Necesitamos recordar la importancia de depender de la Divina Misericordia que Jesús nos ofrece en el Sacramento de la Reconciliación. Hoy en día hay una gran cantidad de católicos que raramente, o nunca, reciben el sacramento. No recibir sanación del pecado del Médico Divino es similar a elegir que la enfermedad devore tu cuerpo. En este tiempo de Pascua, y en la luz de la gloria de la Resurrección, os encomiendo practicar el uso regular y fiel de este sacramento de sanación.

En Cristo Jesús,

P. Pat

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

The World Is Watching

If you're a parent, you know this to be true: the world is watching. All it takes is one slip-up — one bad word, one selfish action, one uncharitable commentary, and that's the thing your child seems to notice.

When he or she calls you on it, the only thing you can do is come clean. "Yep, I did that," you have to say. "I'm a work in progress, but luckily, God never stops working."

I think it's fair to say that we don't think enough about the wounds of Christ. It's a little understandable, of course. Our human bodies flinch at the sight of such pain and mortification. It's a lot to handle, the physical trauma of a crucifixion. It carries an R rating in a PG world.

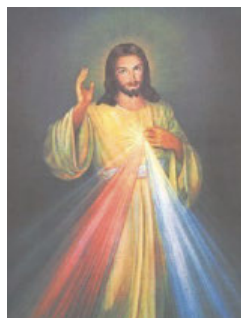

But the wounds of Christ are the only thing that could make Thomas believe. Literally nothing else was so powerful, not even the testimony of his most trusted friends. Only by looking at and feeling the torn flesh — by beholding that messy reality — did this Apostle, this actual companion of Christ, come to believe in the Resurrection.

"Christ has no body now but yours," goes the famous quote attributed to St. Teresa of Avila. What she's saying is that we have become the means through which God chooses to accomplish His will in the world. Us, the broken. Us, the weary. Us, the imperfect. Yes, miraculous events and apparitions still occur from time to time, but by and large, if a person is going to come to believe in Jesus Christ in this day and age, it will be because of something we Christians do or say.

Christ has no wounds now but ours. Our brokenness, our weariness, our imperfection — our reality. It all belongs to him, and the world is watching.
