

“The Exhortation to the Apostles” by James Tissot

TRANSFIGURATION

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

I'm writing this week's column from beautiful Winona, Minnesota, where I am participating in the biennial presbyteral assembly of the Archdiocese of Saint Paul and Minneapolis. Every two years, all the priests serving the Archdiocese gather together with the archbishop to share in fraternity, prayer, and mutual support. I always enjoy these days, and I look forward to them. While for most of my priesthood we have gathered in Rochester, MN, since 2021 we have met on the campus of Saint Mary's University (SMU) in Winona, surrounded by the majestic hills of southeastern Minnesota. While living in a college dormitory 21 years since my own graduation from college has its inconveniences and challenges, the campus is beautiful, and the staff have been more than accommodating. The current president of SMU is a priest of our Archdiocese, and Father Burns has been eager to make our stay as pleasant as possible. The assembly began on Monday evening and will conclude on Thursday, allowing me and Father Lynch to get home just in time to participate in the Oakdale Summerfest Parade.

We've been blessed this week by some fine speakers, most notably the bishop of Winona-Rochester, Bishop Robert Barron, who spoke to us on Tuesday morning about figures from the Old Testament that shed light on the mystery of Christ and the priesthood. It was a very moving presentation, combining the intellectual satisfaction of a well thought out exegesis with spiritually challenging and inspiring insights. On Tuesday afternoon, the bishop of Duluth, Bishop Daniel Felton, spoke to us about the power of the Holy Spirit in the life of the Church and the priest. Regrettably, Bishop Felton had two strikes against him – not only did he have to follow Bishop Barron, but he was also condemned to speak at 1:30 in the afternoon, after a full morning and right after lunch. I am sorry to say that he probably did not find the most attentive audience... Shocking as it may seem to the reader, I even found myself meditating on my eyelids for some of the talk.

Nevertheless, His Excellency is a gifted speaker and clearly a man of great love for the Lord, and we were blessed by his presence and graciousness. This morning, that is, Wednesday, Bishop Chad Zielenski of New Ulm will speak to us. His talk is entitled, "I have called you by name."

But the real heart of the week is being with the brothers. We are a varied bunch, with just about every personality and background you can imagine. We don't all get along, and we aren't all friends. At times, especially out in the field of pastoral work, we can be like old biddies, committed to gossiping about each other and assuming the worst, especially about those brothers who may have a different ideological or liturgical slant than we do. But during this week, it seems to me that we set some of that aside and try to remember that we all have been called by the Lord Who loves us and has summoned us by name to be His priests. The priesthood is a beautiful, challenging gift, and it can never be lived alone. It requires the support and love of the faithful to truly flourish, and I am so thankful to you all for the many ways you offer these precious gifts to both Father Lynch and to me. But in a very real way, I think the support of our fellow brothers is even more needed. At the risk of sounding clerical (that most dreaded word of these days...), only another priest really understands the many dynamics of our life and call. I would imagine in a way that it is the same for married couples or parents, or even members of a specific family of origin – at some fundamental level, only those who have been through it really know what it's like. This is not to say that others cannot speak on these mysteries, and oftentimes the most practical insights into another's life come from those who can look at it objectively and are not affected by personal experience. But still, the experiential knowledge of being a priest oneself allows perspective into the vocation of another priest that really can't be found elsewhere. Added to this is the natural desire to be respected and accepted by one's peers, which is found in every vocation and career, and the importance of the support, challenge and friendship of brother priests becomes clear.

Mercifully, our union as a presbyterate (a technical term that means the collection of priests serving a diocese under the direction of the local bishop) is found in the personal love and invitation of Jesus to be His priests, and not our personality or backgrounds. None of us are worthy of this call, and all of us fall short in some way or another. But the call is not based on our merit or talent or family of origin. It is an unmerited grace from a God who is love. And I am so thankful to Him for this grace, and continue to grow in wonder at its meaning even as I enter my 18th year of priesthood. It is a call to serve and to sacrifice, as the vocation to the priesthood is always for the sake of the faithful and not for our own glory or self-aggrandizement. Please pray for me, and pray for Father Lynch, that we may be the priests we are called to be.

See you soon.

In Christ, the Transfigured and Transfiguring One,

Fr. Erickson

Volunteer for the Festival

The festival planning process is underway and we could use your help. If you would like to volunteer for the festival in any way, please contact Sue Hilo at 651-501-2224 or shilo@transfigurationmn.org.

Sunday Funday Festival Update

Parishioner Pierre Hilo joined his wife Sue, staff member and parishioner, on Monday, June 19 to build a new outdoor bar for the Community Sunday Funday Festival on August 6. Pierre donated his time and they used pallets along with supplies in the parish garage to build it for next to nothing! Sue has plans to paint the bar with the Transfiguration logo in time for the Sunday Funday festival. Thank you, Pierre and Sue!

Do you have ideas and skills that can help us make Sunday Funday amazing? Contact Sue Hilo at shilo@transfigurationmn.org. She would love to hear from you!

Fun Fact from Festival History:

Pierre and Sue are pictured with a treasure found in the garage, a pink flamingo! The pink flamingos debuted in 2001 as a way to create interest in the festival out in the community, and raise some money to help fund it. The flamingoes (there are several) were left in front yards and a ransom had to be paid to have it moved to another yard.

Catholics at the Cinema, 4th of July Edition! Friday, June 30, 7:00 p.m.

Lights, Camera, & the Pursuit of Happiness?

Just in time for Independence Day, come see how three classic American films (It's a Wonderful Life, Ferris Bueller's Day Off, and There Will Be Blood) explore the Declaration of Independence's inalienable rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Fr. Nate Meyers from St. Francis Xavier in Buffalo, and an amateur film critic, will discuss these movies from a Catholic point-of-view showing how they can teach us how to pursue our rights as informed Catholic citizens.

TRANSFIGURING SUNDAY EXPERIENCE

We recognize that the Sunday Mass is the true Source and Summit of our liturgical life in the Church, and we are committed to providing transcendent and transfiguring worship that also builds up our community as one.

Pray for the success of our 2023 Festival

Heavenly Father, as we plan our Sunday Funday, we ask for Your guidance and wisdom through the Holy Spirit.

May Your divine agenda come to fruition. Bless us with good weather, many volunteers, and help us evangelize our neighbors, and bring them closer to Christ.

We humbly pray for the Father's blessing on all aspects of our Sunday Funday, so we may glorify You through our work together. Amen.

Transfiguration Catholic School News

Our School Mission Statement

As an Apostolate of Transfiguration Catholic Church, Transfiguration Catholic School exists to lead our students to Christ through Christian Discipleship, Academic Excellence, and Great Love.

Enrollment is open for the 2023-2024 academic year

Considering Catholic education for your children? Transfiguration Pre-K through 8th grade enrollment is open for our 2023-2024 academic year. Transfiguration exists to lead all those in the East Metro to Christ, The Source and Summit of our Daily and Eternal lives, and we are here to offer families a great Catholic education for their children. Please call 651-501-2220 or email tiger@transfigurationmn.org for more information.

Summer Stress?

While students get excited about the prospect of Summer Break, when it’s finally here, it can also bring frustration and bickering. Here are a few suggestions to decrease stress this summer:

- Schedule a few things each day, so children generally know what to expect. A schedule, even a loose one, can really help children settle into the new routine.
- Set two or three goals for the summer, and help children monitor their progress.
- Lean on the Lord! Prayers such as, “Jesus, be with me and guide me;” “Mary, be a mother to me now;” “Guard me, O Holy Spirit, that I always may be holy.” This helps them get into a habit of prayer, and turn their thoughts to the Lord.

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Sunday Funday August 6
