All Saints Day

FIRST READING

After this I had a vision of a great multitude,
which no one could count,
from every nation, race, people, and tongue.
They stood before the throne
and before the Lamb,
wearing white robes and holding palm branches
in their hands. (Rev 7:9)

PSALM

Lord, this is the people that longs to see your face.
(Ps 24)

SECOND READING

We do know that when it is revealed
we shall be like him,
for we shall see him as he is.
Everyone who has this hope based on him makes himself pure, as he is pure. (1 Jn 3:2b-3)

GOSPEL

“Blessed are the poor in spirit,
for theirs is the Kingdom of heaven.” (Mt 5:3)

MY GOOD PEOPLE,

The following is a summary of chapter two of Pope Francis' new encyclical, Fratelli Tutti (on Fraternity and Social Friendship – we are all brothers and sisters).

Chapter 2: A Stranger on the Road (the numbers in parentheses refer to paragraphs in the document)

“Each day we have to decide whether to be Good Samaritans or indifferent bystanders (69).”

The challenges named in the previous chapter highlight the need to reconsider our priorities on a personal, communal, and global level, before it is too late.

We can only succeed when we come together in love as sisters and brothers, with care like that shown by the Good Samaritan (Luke 10:25–37).

The Good Samaritan is a parable about a Jewish traveler who is stripped, beaten, and left wounded alongside the road. First a Jewish priest and then a Levite come by. (The Tribe of Levi is one of the twelve tribes of Israel descended from Levi, son of Jacob. The Levites were the priestly class). Both the Jewish priest and the Levite avoid the man and continue on their way. Finally, a Samaritan comes upon the traveler. Samaritans and Jews despised each other, but the Samaritan helps the injured man. Jesus told the parable in response to the question from a lawyer, "And who is my neighbor?" The neighbor is the Samaritan who shows mercy to the injured man – he is the Good Samaritan.

The parable is a lesson not just about charity, but also a transformative encounter of mercy. The pope provides a detailed description of each character in the story so each of us can ask “Who am I, who are we, in this story?”

So, who is my neighbor? Francis concludes this chapter by calling for catechesis (religious instruction) and preaching that "speak more directly and clearly about the social meaning of existence, the fraternal dimension of spirituality, our conviction of the inalienable dignity of each person and our reasons for loving and accepting all our brothers and sisters."

Next week we will move on to chapter three, Envisaging and Engendering an Open World.
