From Fr. Ellis

Many people are familiar with Fr. Mike Schmitz, a dynamic speaker from the Diocese of Duluth. In a recent written article, he responded to someone asking about bringing young children to Mass. The parent was wondering if it was worth it, given that there's a lot of "wrangling" involved and not a lot of "getting anything out of it." Given that we have a good number of families in that situation, I thought I would share excerpts of his advice and encouragement.

"I completely understand why you would be tempted to believe that it is all just a waste of time. But if we understood one thing clearly, I believe that it would change everything about how we approach the Mass.

"I would maintain that the heart of religion is worship. In every world religion, worship has been the central and most important action a people could participate in. Worship is the thanks, praise and honor we give to God. And for virtually all of human history, the heart of worship has been sacrifice. So, if the heart of religion is worship, and the heart of worship is sacrifice, then we realize that going to Mass (the most perfect form of worship we have been given) has nothing to do with what I get out of it. In fact, it is the opposite. The point of the Mass is all about what I can give."

"The primary gift (sacrifice) that we offer to God the Father is the once-for-all sacrifice of the Son. When the bread and wine truly become the body and blood, soul and divinity of Christ, we offer him to the Father in the power of the Holy Spirit. This is why the "high point" of the Mass is when the priest elevates the Eucharist, and, speaking to the Father, prays, "Through him, with him, in him, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, all glory and honor is yours, almighty Father, forever and ever." And all of the people say, "Amen!" This is the moment the sacrifice is offered! This is the heart of the Mass!

"So, what does this have to do with wrangling children in church? Everything. What is every parent doing by bringing their rowdy children to Mass? They are making a huge sacrifice. And what is the point of Mass? To offer the sacrifice. What every parent can do is take all of the sacrifices they are making for their spouse, for their children, for their parish and unite them to the One Great Sacrifice of Christ. Even if a person is distracted, they can offer the distraction (that's a sacrifice). Even if they are frustrated, they can offer the frustration (that's a sacrifice).

"Get this, even the people who can't hear anything because someone else's children are making a fuss and causing a ruckus don't have to be upset. They get to offer that as a sacrifice. If the people next to you at Mass smell, or sing poorly, or look at you out of the corner of their eye, nothing to worry about and nothing to lament. All of those are opportunities for sacrifice. And sacrifice is the heart of worship."
