"There is a boy here who has five barley loaves and two fish; but what good are these for so many?" Then Jesus took the loaves, gave thanks, and distributed them to those who were reclining, and also as much of the fish as they wanted. - Jn 6:9, 11

AMERICAN EUCHARISTIC WITNESS

MICHELLE DUPPONG AND EUCHARISTIC JOY

This week's Eucharistic Revival Column about Servant of God Michelle Duppong is written by Colleen Schena, a writer at Relevant Radio. Read more at www.eucharisticrevival.org

Servant of God Michelle Duppong's cause for canonization was opened in 2022. This four-wheeler-loving, farm-grown young woman could be the first saint from North Dakota.

Michelle Duppong was born on January 25, 1984, one of six children lovingly raised by Ken and Mary Ann in Haymarsh, North Dakota. She grew up tending to the farm's many gardens, shepherding the sheep, and going to the Holy Mass with her family at St. Clement Oratory. After her daily tasks, she had fun with her sisters and brother climbing hay bales and riding four-wheelers. She was an ordinary little girl with exceptional wonder and joy in the Lord.

Connor Miller Woodcut

"Aside from constantly opening her own home to share her faith and enthusiasm for music and dancing," her obituary states, "one of her greatest joys was sharing her love for Haymarsh and the family farm."

After graduating from Glen Ullis High School as valedictorian, Michelle studied horticulture at North Dakota State University. It was there that she first encountered the Fellowship of Catholic University Students (FOCUS), which took her spirit-driven faith to a new level. She graduated with her degree in 2006 and was hired to be a full-time FOCUS missionary. With docility and joy, Michelle moved from campus to campus inviting all to enjoy the love of the Lord, especially in the Eucharist.

Michelle's unyielding confidence in God's call led to a career change in 2012 when she accepted the position of Director of Adult Faith Formation for the Diocese of Bismarck. She worked directly with Bishop David Kagan to create new Eucharistic encounters for adults.

In spirit, Michelle was prepared for what was to come when she began experiencing sharp, consistent abdominal pain in 2014. While doctors initially diagnosed her with ovarian cysts, it was quickly proven to be far worse than ovarian cysts: 30-year-old Michelle had stage IV colon cancer. Doctors estimated she had two months to live.

Two months came and went, and Michelle still greeted her visitors and care team from her hospital bed, even after surgeries or long treatments. She still sang praise and worship with colleagues and friends, and her laugh was still a staple of her family's day. Monsignor James Shea, who had worked with Michelle to establish FOCUS at the University of Mary in North Dakota, was awed by her: "How beautiful to have the example of someone who accepted, with serenity, both the joys and suffering of her life."

Michelle's clear understanding of her suffering was simple: if God wanted this for her, and she was meant to endure it, then endure it she would. And she would do so with a smile for the sake of souls until she met the Lord face to face.

Michelle died on Christmas Day in 2015, one year after her diagnosis. She was 31, and her reach has continued nearly ten years past her departure. Mary Ann and Ken Duppong receive letters, emails, and many, many stories of people touched by Michelle's life, even if they had never met her face to face.

Her cause for canonization was opened by Bishop Kagan seven years later, on November 1, 2022.

Michelle was a cousin to St. Patrick parishioner Steve Duppong. They were neighbors growing up.

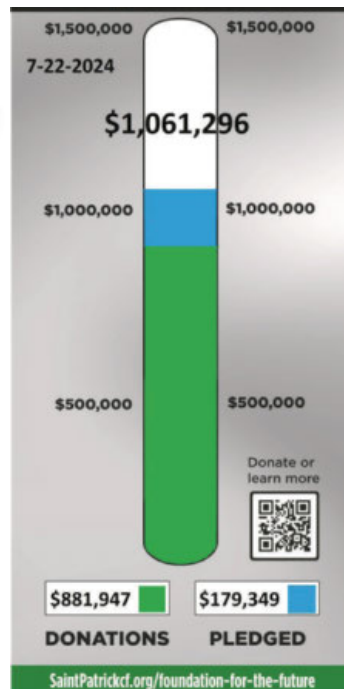

"Michelle was a delight," said Dani, Steve's wife. "She always asked about everyone by name with a genuine spirit. She liked connecting people and the Holy Spirit through faith materials and the holy mass. Her last months were dreadfully painful, but her smile brought comfort to all. I said goodbye days before her death. It was a somber and beautiful time."

St. Patrick parishioner Kelsey Kersting met Michelle when she was a FOCUS missionary. "When I think of Michelle, her true joy is the first thing that comes to mind," Kersting said. "It was clear it was a joy that came from deep within, a joy that only Jesus can bring. Everyone who knew her could see it."

CATHOLIC FAITH FOR ADULTS

Whether you are just starting to explore the Catholic faith, have been considering becoming Catholic, or were baptized Catholic but haven't received the other sacraments, we are here to walk with you on your journey of faith. At St. Patrick, Catholic Faith for Adults (CFFA) is for those adults seeking to learn more about the Catholic faith and possibly join the Church. There is no formal commitment or promise to become Catholic; just a genuine interest in finding out if the Catholic faith can best help you respond to Jesus's invitation to follow him.

If you are interested or have questions, please contact Deacon Al in the parish office at 319-266-3523 or by email at: aweber@saintpatrickcf.org.

SAY HELLO TO PAULINE

Pauline, daughter of Nicolas and Caroline Robert de St. Vincent, is visiting Iowa this month. She has recently graduated from high school and wished to visit and reminisce. Pauline's family, who are from France, lived in Cedar Falls and attended St. Patrick Church from spring 2012 to summer 2015. Please make an effort to say hello at coffee and donuts between 9:30 and 11:30 Mass this Sunday (July 28). If anyone is interested in inviting Pauline to any additional events or meals, please contact Dani Duppong to discuss at 319-988-1047.

MORE OPTIONS ADDED FOR ONLINE GIVING

Three new electronic payment options – PayPal, Google Pay, and Apple Pay – are now available for online giving to the parish through the WeShare app. These new payment methods are in addition to the current electronic payment options to set up payments from your bank account using WeShare or a direct Electronic Fund Transfer (EFT) option. Please consider automating your giving. It's an easy and convenient option to consistently give to the church. Contact Justin Krieger in the church office at 319-266-3523 if you have questions. More information and links for setting up automated payments can be found on the parish website: <https://www.saintpatrickcf.org/online-and-eft>

RAISIN' AWARENESS

SOCIETY OF
ST. VINCENT
DE PAUL,
ST. PATRICK
CONFERENCE

By Pat Bogenski

In June, we had 5 calls for help, with St. Pat's Conference spending $517.29 to assist 11 adults and 11 children.

Here's where your donations went for the first 9 months of our fiscal year:

Rent Assist: $2605.00 helped 24 neighbors
Utilities Assist: $4633.76 helped 9 neighbors
Phone Minutes: $119.28 served 2 clients
Vehicle Gas: $197.96 helped 4 clients
Misc. Assisted/referrals 22 calls
Total for June: $7556.00

We had 91 calls for help. Many calls can't be helped because they are beyond what our limited resources can do. We always try to give them phone numbers of other human service agencies. Sometimes that's all they need. We expect them to make the contacts to resolve their problems.

Waterloo Council Stats DO include St. Pat's Expenditures for 9 mos.

Rent Assist.	$18,805.99
Utilities Assistance	54,790.86
Misc. (Gas cards, motel rooms, phone minutes, etc.)	15,026.24
Total	$88,623.09

Rod's Community Meals at Queen of Peace served 1,232 people in June. A record 193 food boxes were given out of the Outreach Pantry, serving 535 individuals.

August 17/18 we will be handing out raisins after all the masses. We are an all-volunteer organization depending on donations, large or small. Please be generous so that we may continue God's work.
