FROM FATHER TOM

Brothers and Sisters ,

You and I are made in the image and likeness of God. This means that each one of us is a unique and personal creation of God's love. The Second reading from Mass today, Rev 21:1-5a, speaks about how God wants to dwell, live, be with us and how this desire of God to live with us brings about an outpouring of His love that comforts, heals, and makes for us a place of peace. St. John describes it the reading as "a new heaven and a new earth." We often think of that as a place of future residence, some place that we attain at the end of our life. It is true that God desires for us to be with Him forever in the Kingdom of Heaven. Yet, I think St. John is speaking of a reality for us that exists now in this moment of our life. Jesus' Passion, Death, Resurrection destroyed the old order of sin and death. We are now free to live in "a new heaven and new earth" right now. Our souls have been freed by Jesus' sacrificial love to dwell with God in everyday life. The obstacles of sin and death have been lifted from us and in their place, we find freedom and joy.

From this reality flows the words of Jesus in the Gospel today, "I give you a new commandment: love one another." If we only think of the new heaven and new earth as a future place it is difficult to see the importance of Jesus words in the new commandment, he gives us. But, if we see this new heaven and new earth as our current reality in the light of Jesus Passion, Death, and Resurrection we understand that the new heaven and the new earth are now and forever. We live, right now, in this reality, so the love Jesus commands of us is not just for a future purpose, it is for everyday life right now. Love one another.

This is the life of freedom that Jesus won for us. The constant pride, competition, comparison, rivalry, factions and judgment belong to the old order of sin and death. The new order of love is a bringing together, a harmony, of how we are to live in this current moment and for eternity. This is the image and likeness of God fully alive in us. I encourage you to ask the Holy Spirit to help you see where this life of love is growing in you. Ask Him to foster in you the life of love. Ask Him for the courage and motivation to live it now. Jesus' new commandment "love one another" is for today and this moment, so that we may be able to live with God now and forever. What could change, grow, heal, and strengthen in your life if the love of God grew to maturity in your daily activities, thoughts, and attitudes?

"I give you a new commandment: love one another."

God bless you,
Fr. Tom

LIVE THE LITURGY

Inspiration for the week

The resurrected Christ gives us the strength to do things we can never have imagined. Life will often give us mountains to climb, and we wonder how we will find the energy, ability, and determination to forge ahead. But, with a good dosage of faith and a fervent life of prayer we find ourselves succeeding and ascending to heights that once frightened us. What we realize after we have reached the other side is that this hardship we once saw as an obstacle has become a vehicle for something better and greater. We are stronger. The same is true with the Gospel. The prospect of loving one another may seem idealistic or unobtainable. Yet, when we risk moving beyond just looking out for or helping each other to actually LOVING each other, miracles happen. There is something wonderful that occurs with love. We see people in ways we never saw before, understanding and appreciating each other's journey. Love leads to reverence. Faith is strengthened and we move on to try again.

ST. MARGARET OF CORTONA

FEAST DAY
MAY 16

SAINT OF THE WEEK

Though St. Margaret of Cortona (1247 – 1297) is today known as being an incredibly pious Catholic, she didn't start out that way. Born into a farming family in Laviano, Tuscany, her mother died when St. Margaret was seven. Her father remarried, but life with her stepmother was so difficult that St. Margaret moved out of the home and instead chose to live with a man named Arsenio, though they weren't married. They had been living together for nine years when she gave birth to a son. Knowing in her heart that this wasn't the life that God intended for her to have, she prayed for purity.

One day while waiting for Arsenio, his dog led her into the forest where she found Arsenio murdered. So shocked was St. Margaret that she fell into a life of penance. She and her son returned to Laviano, but still found her stepmother to be as unwelcoming as ever. They then went to Cortona, and eventually her son became a friar.

Three years after her conversion, St. Margaret followed in her son's footsteps and became a Franciscan tertiary. During her life, St. Margaret established a hospital and founded a congregation of tertiary sisters. She was canonized in 1728.
