Love Without Counting the Cost

We live in a world that is desperately in need of the Love of Christ and the peace that only He can give. But how do we bring Christ's love to the world? It first begins by knowing that we, ourselves, are loved unconditionally by our Lord. As we hear in our first reading this weekend, "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I dedicated you." Jeremiah 1:5 When we truly allow the love that God has for us to permeate our hearts, our very beings, then we can give what we have received to others. Sometimes memories of past hurts and sins cloud our judgment and, therefore, receptivity of God's love for us. But He never stops loving us, even in the depths of sin or the darkest of moments. But when we finally allow His love for us to reign in our hearts and transform our lives, then we can help show others what we, ourselves have come to know. St. Paul in his first letter to the Corinthians, gives us a fruitful teaching on love and what it truly is. We can use this passage to help examine our consciences and our motives for serving others. As he says, love is patient, kind, not jealous, not seeking its own interest, rejoices in the truth, etc. May we all come to know the infinite and unconditional love God has for us, and may that love transform us, so that we may bring His love to a world so desperately in need of it!

-Fr. Tim
