MONTHLY SOCIAL TEACHING - Care for God's Creation

We show our respect for the Creator by our stewardship of creation. Care for the earth is not just an Earth Day slogan, it is a requirement of our faith. We are called to protect people and the planet, living our faith in relationship with all of God's creation. This environment challenge has fundamental moral and ethical dimensions that cannot be ignored.

WEEKLY VIRTUE: PRUDENCE (SOUND JUDGEMENT)

KNOW IT:

Enables one to reason and to act rightly in any given situation - "right reason in action"

LIVE IT: Pray for guidance. Seek sound advice. Think about the situation. Act upon the decision.

PRAY IT: God our Father, you gave Robert Bellarmine wisdom and goodness to defend the faith of your Church. By his prayers may we always rejoice in the profession of our faith. We ask this through our Lord Jesus Christ, your Son, who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

ST. ROBERT BELLARMINE - this Italian theologian and Jesuit (1542-1621) was a cardinal, an adviser to popes, and a strong defender of the Roman Catholic position in the controversies stemming from the Protestant Reformation. At 18, he entered the Jesuits and was ordained a priest in 1570. The young, talented, and religiously sincere Jesuit quickly became known for his effective presentation of Roman Catholic beliefs. He worked in Rome at the new Jesuit College for 12 years to consolidate the Church's theological positions, and out of this came his most important publication, the three volume Disputations on the Controversies about the Christian Faith against the Heretics of This Time. In 1597, he became Pope Clement VIII's personal theological adviser. In 1602 he was sent to Capua as archbishop but in 1605 was recalled to Rome, where he spent the rest of his life as a respected papal counselor. In 1610 he wrote a book defending the power of the pope. His careful thinking on the natural rights of men had wide influence in political philosophy for the next 200 years. When Galileo's theories of the earth revolving around the sun created a sensation, Bellarmine advised that they be withheld until they could be more solidly proved. It was the 75-year-old cardinal's sad task to tell Galileo later that the Office of the Inquisition had found his theories opposed to the Bible. Bellarmine was a man of strong self-control, putting aside his own feelings in the interest of his duty to the Church. He was kind and particularly concerned about the poor. It was discovered at his death that he had quietly given away all his money; there was not even enough left to pay for his funeral. He was canonized a Saint in 1930.

Our mission is to invite, form, and equip missionary disciples of Jesus Christ.

PRAYER

Prayer is the joy of the Christian life. Here are some basic steps to get there:

1. Start simply with 10 minutes each day in prayer or reading the Bible. It is so doable !
2. Transforming your relationship with God is next. The Prayer 101 experience is the concrete step.
3. The final step is complete commitment. This is achieved when we take a 1/2 hour of meditative/ contemplative prayer each day to nurture our relationship with God.

THE RESURRECTION-IT IS EVERYTHING

A number of years ago I received a call from my then 8 year old grandson. What he exclaimed to me with fire and great zeal rocked my complacent world. He said, "Grandma! Grandma! Jesus rose from the dead! He died and came back to life!" In the following expert from an article by Bishop Robert Barron, we find the answer to why a young boy (indeed all of us) should truly be set on fire by this good news.

The resurrection of Jesus from the dead is the be-all and the end-all of the Christian faith. If Jesus didn't rise from the dead, all bishops, priests, and Christian ministers should go home and get honest jobs, and all the Christian faithful should leave their churches immediately. As Paul himself put it: "If Jesus is not raised from the dead, our preaching is in vain and we are the most pitiable of men." It comes down finally to this: if Jesus was not raised from death, Christianity is a fraud and a joke; if he did rise from death, then Christianity is the fullness of God's revelation, and Jesus must be the absolute center of our lives. There is no third option.

I want to explore, very briefly, a handful of lessons that follow from the disquieting fact of the Resurrection. First, this world is not it. What I mean is that this world is not all that there is. We live our lives with the reasonable assumption that the natural world as we've come to know it through the sciences and discern it through common sense is the final framework of our lives and activities. Every living thing dies and stays dead. Indeed, everything in the universe, scientists tell us, comes into being and then fades away permanently.

Here's a second lesson derived from the resurrection: the tyrants know that their time is up. Remember that the cross was Rome's way of asserting its authority. Roman authorities declared that if you run afoul of our system, we will torture you to death in the most excruciating (ex cruce, from the cross) way possible and then we will leave your body to waste away be devoured by the beasts of the field. The threat of violence is how tyrants up and down the centuries have always asserted their authority. Might makes right. The crucified Jesus appeared to anyone who was witnessing the awful events on Calvary to be one more affirmation of this principle: Caesar always wins in the end. But when Jesus was raised from the dead through the power of the Holy Spirit, the first Christians knew that Caesar's days were numbered. Jesus had taken the worst that the world could throw at him and he returned, alive and triumphant. They knew that the Lord of the world was no longer Caesar, but rather someone whom Caesar had killed but whom God had raised from death. This is why the risen Christ has been the inspiration for resistance movements up and down the centuries. In our own time we saw how deftly John Paul II wielded the power of the cross in Communist Poland. Though he had no nuclear weapons or tanks or mighty armies, John Paul had the power of the resurrection, and that proved strong enough to bring down one of the most imposing empires in the history of the world. ...

The third great lesson of the resurrection is that the path of salvation has been opened to everyone. Paul told us that "though he was in the form of God, Jesus did not deem equality with God something to be grasped. Rather he emptied himself and took the form of slave... accepting even death, death on a cross." In a word, Jesus went all the way down, journeying into pain, despair, alienation, even godforsakenness. He went as far as you can go away from the Father. Why? In order to reach all of those who had wandered from God. Then, in light of the resurrection, the first Christians came to know that, even as we run as fast as we can away from the Father, all the way to godforsakenness, we are running into the arms of the Son. The opening up of the divine life allows everyone free access to the divine mercy. And this is why the Lord himself could say, "When the Son of Man is lifted up, he will draw all people to himself," and why Paul could assert in 1 Corinthians, "When everything is subjected to him, then the Son himself will also be subjected to the one who subjected everything to him, so that God may be all in all." The resurrection shows that Christ can gather back to the Father everyone whom he has embraced through his suffering love.

So on Easter Sunday, let us not domesticate the still stunning and disturbing message of resurrection. Rather, let us allow it to unnerve us, change us, set us on fire.

Bishop Robert Barron March 24, 2016 Word on Fire Institute

The priests and staff of Holy Spirit wish you and your family a most blessed Easter!

Jesus told her, "I am the resurrection and the life; whoever believes in me, even if he dies, will live, and everyone who lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?"

Scripture Meditations: Week Four-Resurrection Accounts

We have reached the final week of our Lenten pilgrimage. He is Risen! He has risen from the dead. He has risen out of the very sins we have committed that have killed our souls and He has given us new life.

Grace to ask for at beginning of each prayer period this week: The grace to encounter the Risen Lord and hear Him call my name.

APRIL 17-23

JOHN 20: 1-9 EMPTY TOMB

JOHN 20: 11-18 MARY MAGDALENE

LUKE 24: 13-35 ROAD TO EMMAUS

JOHN 20: 24-29 DOUBTING THOMAS

Repeat 3 passages After having prayed with each passage from this week's list, choose 3 of the passages to return to in prayer. Your choice may be determined by a deep experience in prayer, or a dryness in prayer indicating you need more time in order to hear what God is speaking to you.

RECORDING YOUR THOUGHTS, INSPIRATIONS, OR FRUSTRATIONS IN YOUR PRAYER JOURNAL WILL BE HELPFUL.

One Person's Experience While Praying with Scripture

In visiting with a young religious Sister recently, I asked if she had an experience in praying Lectio that she would be willing to share, one that might benefit others. After giving it some thought she shared the following experience:

As I was praying the gospel story of Jesus with Martha and Mary, where he is a dinner guest in their home, I became the person of Mary in the story. I was sitting at the feet of Jesus and heard his words to Martha, "Martha, Martha, Mary has chosen the better part, and it will not be taken away from her." As I heard Jesus speak these words to me (Mary!) specifically His words, "It will not be taken away from her." I came to understand that He has given me my vocation, I have chosen to accept it freely, and He will not take it away from me. I am free to relinquish it. The evil one may try to tempt me to leave, but it cannot and will not be taken from me. I am the only one who can let it go.

Sister's experience in prayer was a gift for her; but also for us. We are free to accept God's loving will for our lives, but he will not stop us from turning away from it. Like Sister, may we also choose to open our hearts to receive God's love for us.

Stewardship Moment

"...He went about doing good and healing all those oppressed by the devil, for God was with him."

- Acts 10:38

We cannot give what we do not have. Open your heart to receive God's love, mercy and forgiveness. Then, show the same to others. As God's adopted sons and daughters, we are made in His image and likeness. As Pope Benedict XVI says, "we are made for greatness." Let our lives reflect His light to others. Pray to live a grateful and generous life. Strive for greatness! We are made for more! We are made for God!
