FROM THE DESK OF FATHER DAVE

WHAT HAPPENS TO OLD PRIESTS?

I realize that the above question may be a loaded question, and that the answer to that question has changed over the years. So let me refine that question a bit more. Let me re-phrase it to “what happens to priests after they retire?” Do they just fade away into oblivion? Do they move in with some member of their family? Or are they supposed to just keep working until they drop dead?

In the olden days, (let’s say pre-1960’s) retirement was a kind of fuzzy concept for priests. Usually when they reached an age where they were not able to pastor a parish any longer for physical reasons (can’t walk or stand), theological/spiritual reasons (too out of touch, living in the past), or psychological/emotional reasons (too crabby), the priest would often try to find a parish where the pastor would let him live in the rectory during his “golden years” and help the parish by offering daily Masses. I jokingly realize that some people would claim they know current pastors who already exhibit the above criteria – but that’s another issue.

Officially, the Archdiocese defines retirement age for priests as 70. They can stay on as Pastor beyond that age, but Church law says that if they are still a Pastor at 75 they must submit a resignation to the Archbishop which he can accept or reject, depending on the health of the priest. Nowadays, when many priests retire as Pastor they move into property that they own (family cabin or home, townhouse/condo), or perhaps move in to live with a family member or relative.

However, for those priests without either the family connections or financial means, the Archdiocese owns a retired priest’s residence called the Leo C. Byrne Residence named after the Archbishop from 1964 -1974. It exists on the campus of the University of St. Thomas overlooking the Mississippi River sitting right next to the St. Paul Seminary student dorm. The current building was constructed in 1995 and consists of 29 one bedroom apartments, as well as a common dining room, community room, chapel, library and exercise room, plus underground parking for those who still own a car. It is home exclusively to some of the retired priests from the St. Paul/ Minneapolis Archdiocese. The priest’s pay an affordable rent pegged at slightly less than the priest’s pension. The rent covers the apartment, common meals, laundry and housekeeping. As you can imagine, it is a place of camaraderie and the sharing of priestly fraternity and “war stories”. Many of the priests residing in the Byrne Residence still fill a valuable role by helping out through driving to parishes that are in temporary need of a priest because of sickness or vacation.

The current challenge is that as the Leo Byrne Residence approaches 30 years of age, its systems are at or exceeding their life expectancy. That fact along with deferred maintenance over the years has caused deterioration requiring an urgent need for substantial renovation, including:

- Repair and updating of the building’s exterior, windows, electrical and lighting systems.
- Updating roofing, flooring and landscaping.
- Remodeling and painting of individual and common rooms

Updating/upgrading of security, internet access, phone system and elevator equipment.

In light of the above needs, a GRATITUDE Campaign for the Leo C. Byrne Residence Renovation Project has been launched and is being coordinated by the Catholic Community Foundation to fund the $6.5 million renovation project. The theme of the campaign is: Sharing our gratitude for those who have fostered our faith.

The Archbishop is asking that each current Pastor invite his parishioners to support this campaign by providing information on the project and available envelopes to facilitate contributions. There are a number of ways to contribute and multiple sponsorship levels available for contributors. I can provide more information for those who are interested.

Obviously, having entered my “golden years” I would heartily endorse this project. Thanks! Fr. Dave “Everyone should be able to experience the joy of being loved by God, the joy of salvation. It is the gift that one cannot keep to oneself, but it is to be shared.” (Pope Francis)

A few weeks ago I was searching for quotations to place on our tables to celebrate the feast of St. Bridget. I wanted to find reflections that lift the spirit. Here are a few of the gems I found:

“The day of my spiritual awakening was the day I saw and knew I saw all things in God and God in all things.”
(St. Mechthild of Magdeburg)

“When we accept what happens to us and make the best of it, we are praising God.” (St. Teresa of Avila)

“Trials help us detach ourselves from the earth; they make us look higher than this world.” (St. Theresa of Lisieux)

“Start by doing what’s necessary; then do what’s possible; and suddenly you are doing the impossible.”
(St. Francis of Assisi)

Blessed Pope John Paul I put a smile on the face of Christianity.

“The world is charged with the grandeur of God.”
(Gerard Manly Hopkins)

“Enjoy God loving you.”

“Use me, God. Show me how to take who I am, who I want to be, and what I can do, and use it for a purpose greater than myself.” (Martin Luther King, Jr.)

“Stars are holes in the sky from which the light of the Infinite shines.” (Confucius)

“God hugs you. You are encircled by the arms of a loving God.” (St. Hildegard of Bingen)

We are just a few days away from the first annual Wild Mountain Extravaganza (that means it’s big). Please make it bigger. On Tuesday, August 9th, St. Bridget’s Youth Group will be hosting an all-parish water park, mountain park event at Wild Mountain Recreation Area. All that means is, St. Bridget’s has rented a 20’ by 40’ tent at Wild Mountain Rec area on August 9th, from 11:00 AM-6:00 PM, and all parishioners are invited. With a group discount, the regular cost of 39.00 per person will be 29.00 per person, not too bad for up to seven hours of sun and fun. This will be a great opportunity for family, friends and neighbors to get together, where noise and fun are the order of the day.

Those of you that have not been to Wild Mountain, there really is something for everyone, Alpine slides, go-carts, the freefall XP along with multiple water slides for the young at heart, and body, and for us mature Americans, we have the lazy river. Get on the google and check it out.

Wild Mountain does have food available there, hamburgers and hot dogs and such, so feel free to let them do the cooking. However, we will have a lot of space, and we can bring our own food and beverages, so I plan to pack a cooler with sandwiches, snacks and refreshments and save a few bucks on that end. If you have the where-with-all, and talent for baking, a batch of something sweet would be welcome by all.

Because of our proximity to Wild Mountain, many of our parishioners have season passes to the park, which is awesome. If you have paid your money and signed Wild Mountain’s waivers, all I need is a parental signature on St. Bridget’s athletic waiver, so I hope that you will make August 9th one of your days to use your pass. For those of us that need to purchase tickets, like myself, I have registration and waiver forms. I will have them at the office on Monday and will bring some to the park on Tuesday. Please let me know if I can save one for you.

We will be at Wild Mountain, having fun and frolicking all day, but I hope you will be able to cut a few hours out of your Tuesday and join in the action with your family, friends, and neighbors. Please let me know if you have any questions. Thanks!
