

St. Therese of Deephaven Catholic Parish

St. Therese Parish and School is a powerful Catholic witness, committed to vibrant growth by living out Jesus Christ's call to "Go and make disciples" (Matt 28:19) through our sacramental life, prayer, catechesis, fellowship, evangelization and financial stewardship.

3RD SUNDAY
IN ORDINARY TIME

He walked along a little farther and saw James, the son of Zebedee, and his brother John. They too were in a boat mending their nets. Then he called them. So they left their father Zebedee in the boat along with the hired men and followed him. - Mk 1:19-20

A Message from Father Andrie

Two Ships

One of my favorite icons depicting the Church is Christ with His Apostles in a boat. Our Lord holds the rudder with the sails up, completely at ease and full of confidence as He looks ahead. Along with the Apostles, the Blessed Mother prays peacefully with her eyes fixed lovingly on her Son.

The idea that the Church is a ship sailing through the waters of time is nothing new. One of the most beautiful churches in the world, Paris's Notre Dame Cathedral, was built in 1163. The magnificent church is one of the finest examples of French Gothic architecture. Interestingly, it is built on a little island reminding the faithful to stay on board the boat with Christ.

The blessings of being with Christ in the boat are extraordinary. Not only does Jesus protect, but He provides His passengers with a vision that addresses the most fundamental questions in life: Where did I come from? What's my identity? What is happiness and how do I obtain it? Why is there evil? How do I find meaning in suffering? Why is there division and how is it resolved? Where am I going? How will the world end? Is there life after death? With a supernatural vision of the world, including their own place in it, Christ's passengers joyfully "row together with Him" and experience the fullness of life that only He can give.

As everyone is well aware, however, storms batter Christ's little boat regularly, disturbing the joy and peace of passengers. In Mark's Gospel, it is natural to identify with the apostles in their near meltdown as the boat is nearly submerged in the violent squall. And yet, the divine Captain, likely fatigued from a long day's work, rests soundly on a cushion (Mk 4:38). Waking Jesus, they plead, "Teacher, do you not care that we are perishing?" It's an accusation we have all hurled at the Lord from time to time.

Over the centuries, Jesus' little boat has been riddled with storms. Sometimes those storms come from the outside (e.g., persecutions, plagues, ideologies, cultural and political upheavals, etc.), while at other times they come from the inside (heretical teachings, moral failures, worldliness, etc.). And when things are really rough, as it feels in recent times, those storms come from the outside and inside. During such unstable times, one would do well to interiorize more deeply the Lord's words, "In the world you will have trouble, but take courage, I have conquered the world" (Jn 16:33).

In the last 50 years, the cultural and spiritual upheavals have swept up new winds causing massive waves to beat against Jesus' little boat that has shaken the lives of His passengers. Thousands have left the church, including many young people, a flow that continues to the present day. This, coupled with the spiritual confusion and moral corruption of bishops, priests, and laity, has left the Church listless in the water. In short, during times like our own, one wonders whether Christ is asleep or in a coma.

As many passengers abandon Christ's boat for various reasons, another ship gladly waits in the water to bring them onboard. This new ship, the US Secular, has much to offer with its spacious deck and captivating amenities. Admittedly, those Christians who board it may get a little homesick and restless now and then. Thanks be to God; however, the new ship has a little museum in the lower deck with a few relics, a little incense, and a page or two of Sacred Scripture to alleviate their nostalgia.

But alas, they shouldn't spend too much time there. After all, there is much to see and to do on this new ship! Passengers are no longer bound by a divinely imposed story, but instead have the privilege of creating their own stories, i.e., of determining the meaning of their own lives. They are the directors, producers, and editors of their lives. In fact, if they so choose, they can determine the very essence of who they are. Self-creation, in short, is in vogue on this vessel. In terms of sexual expression, possibility is restricted only by one's imagination (and a little common sense).

Additionally, the new ship has a lovely décor. Posters and signs are plenty with catchy phrases such as imago Dei and Be safe, reminding all passengers of their common values. Indeed, each person is made in the image of God and the well-being of passengers is truly important. Of course, one should not ask too many questions. For example, it would be terribly impolite to begin an unpleasant conversation about sin and the sickness of the soul.

In our own day, then, there are two ships that sail, each carrying a different vision and reaching different destinations. The little boat of Christ, despite the storms, is heading east to the rising sun, and a land can be glimpsed there. It is the land of promise, of all true fulfillment, with sunshine breaking through and strains of music in the air.

Captain
Goldy

Meanwhile, the US Secular, impressive in its immediate impact, has no instruments for navigation. It steams along without much attention to where it's going. The rocks in the distance, the vast waterfall ahead, and the dark clouds on the horizon are of little concern. Instead, there is a simple raising of glasses and a great cheer, "To us! Live for the moment!" There is, after all, lots to do on board!

Indeed, what a gift and what a responsibility to be able to choose which vessel to sail on through the waters of time. The choice, each day, is yours!

Abandoning Our Nets

In this week's Gospel (Mk 1:14-20) Jesus started to build his band of disciples. As he was walking the shores of the Sea of Galilee, he saw Simon (Peter) and his brother Andrew casting their nets into the sea. Jesus said to them, "Come after me, I will make you fishers of men." The Gospel says that they "abandoned their nets and followed him." It is easy to skip over the great risk and sacrifice that Peter and Andrew were undertaking to follow Jesus. Their life and livelihood were in those nets. They were being asked to leave behind their families, friends, the comfort of their village and their only source of income - to follow Jesus. Do you ever wonder if you could have abandoned the nets like Peter and Andrew did for Jesus? I think it would have been really tough to do. It reminds me of the rich man, who was asked by Jesus to sell all that he owned to follow Jesus. The rich man went away sad – because he couldn't sacrifice what Jesus was asking of him. Jesus is asking Peter, Andrew, and the rich man to place God first - ahead of all other priorities. Jesus asks us to do the same. He asks us to drop "our nets" to follow him. Often our nets are filled with priorities from this world. Dropping our nets does not mean that we must completely abandon all things in this world. But we do need to make sure that nothing in our nets is placed above God.

Faith Formation

Twenty-five years ago, Pope St. John Paul II wrote that the Gospel of life is at the heart of Jesus’ saving message to the world (Evangelium vitae 1). In taking on human flesh, dwelling among us, and sacrificing his very life for our redemption, Christ reveals the profound dignity of every human person. This God-given dignity does not change with our stage of life, abilities, level of independence, or any other varying circumstance.

Rather, it is rooted in the permanent fact that each of us is made in the image and likeness of God, created to share in the very life of God himself. The human person is a “manifestation of God in the world, a sign of his presence, a trace of his glory” (EV 34). And we must reflect this truth in how we act and how we treat one another.

The truth of the Gospel of life is at the foundation of who we are as followers of Christ. In his earthly life, Jesus provided the perfect model for how we are to love our neighbor and live out the Gospel call: “Truly, I say to you, as you did it to one of the least of these my brethren, you did it to me” (Mt. 25:40).

Jesus calls each of us to “care for the other as a person for whom God has made us responsible” (EV 87). The Gospel of life is intrinsic to the whole Christian life and foundational to the decisions we make on a daily basis. For, “the Gospel of God’s love for man, the Gospel of the dignity of the person and the Gospel of life are a single and indivisible Gospel” (EV 2, emphasis added).

In his encyclical on the Gospel of life, Pope St. John Paul II recognizes the full range of threats against human life, from poverty and malnutrition to murder and war. He places particular emphasis, however, on threats to life at its beginning and end—precisely when it is most in need of protection. In modern times, children in their mothers’ wombs and those approaching the end of their lives are certainly among the “least of these” in our world’s estimation. Practices such as abortion and assisted suicide tragically reject the truth that human life is always to be cherished and defended with loving concern.

As the Church celebrates the 25th anniversary of Pope St. John Paul II’s prophetic encyclical, let us reflect on how we personally live out the Gospel: Do I talk about and act towards others as I would talk about and treat Jesus himself? Do I inform myself of the Church’s teachings and engage in the civic arena as first a follower of Christ? Do I support and advocate for laws and policies that protect and defend human life? Do I help pregnant and parenting mothers in need? Am I ready to support a loved one nearing death?

Through the intercession of Our Lady of Guadalupe, may Our Lord grant us the grace to truly and courageously live his Gospel of life.
