

July 18th, 2021 — 16th Sunday in Ordinary Time

St. Therese of Deephaven Catholic Parish

St. Therese Parish and School is a powerful Catholic witness, committed to vibrant growth by living out Jesus Christ's call to "Go and make disciples" (Matt 28:19) through our sacramental life, prayer, catechesis, fellowship, evangelization and financial stewardship.

16TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

When he disembarked and saw the vast crowd, his heart was moved with pity for them, for they were like sheep without a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things.
- Mk 6:34

A Message from Father Andrie

Respecting Life Fifth Commandment

We continue our summer series on the Ten Commandments by looking at the fifth commandment: You shall not kill (Ex 20:13). Our Lord raises the bar by teaching, “You have heard that it was said to your ancestors, ‘You shall not kill; and whoever kills will be liable to judgment.’ But I say to you, whoever is angry with his brother will be liable to judgment (Mt 5:21-22). In short, God creates human life, and therefore it is sacred. The Catholic Catechism says that “God alone is the Lord of life from its beginning until its end: no one can under any circumstance claim for himself the right directly to destroy an innocent human being” (CCC 2258).

Unfortunately, we see the taking of innocent human life shortly after the fall with Cain’s murder of his brother Abel (Gn 4:8-12). The deliberate taking of an innocent human life is gravely contrary to the dignity of a human being, to the golden rule, and to the holiness of God our Creator. The law to respect life is binding on everyone, always and everywhere (CCC 2261). In His Sermon on the Mount, Jesus forbids anger, hatred, and vengeance as they are gateways to the grave sin of murder (Mt 5:22-26).

Of course, people have a right to legitimate defense, which may or may not involve taking the life of an aggressor. Additionally, legitimate authority has a right to use arms to repel aggressors against the civil community entrusted to their responsibility (CCC 2266). In the long tradition of the Church, there has even been recourse to the death penalty by legitimate authority, following a fair trial, as an appropriate response to the gravity of the crime and to protect the common good. Recently, St. Pope John Paul II and Pope Francis have advocated for prison sentences to commensurate with the crimes committed instead of the death penalty given the advancement of systems of detention and the possibility of redemption.

Unfortunately, as we know too well, there have been and continue to be serious attacks on human life in our country and throughout the world. In his encyclical Evangelium Vitae (The Gospel of Life), John Paul II listed several crimes against humanity. Specifically, he says:

Whatever is opposed to life itself, such as any type of murder, genocide, abortion, euthanasia, or willful self-destruction, whatever violates the integrity of the human person, such as mutilation, torments inflicted on body or mind, attempts to coerce the will itself; whatever insults human dignity, such as subhuman living conditions, arbitrary imprisonment, deportation, slavery, prostitution, the selling of women and children; as well as disgraceful working conditions, where people are treated as mere instruments of gain rather than as free and responsible persons; all these things and others like them are infamies indeed. They poison human society, and they do more harm to those who practice them than to those who suffer from the injury. They are a supreme dishonor to the Creator (EV 3).

The late pontiff provides an extensive list of threats to life. There are those opposed to life itself (e.g., genocide, abortion, euthanasia, and willful self-destruction) and those that are harmful to the integrity of the person (i.e., mutilation of the body, e.g., forced organ harvesting).

John Paul II also lists insults against human dignity (subhuman living conditions, arbitrary imprisonment, deportation, slavery, prostitution, the selling of women and children, disgraceful working conditions). In other words, there are attacks against life itself, and then there are situations contrary to the quality of life as God wills.

According to John Paul II, actions against life and conditions contrary to human dignity poison human society. Interestingly, he says that they do more harm to those who practice them than to those who suffer injury. Those who attack the gift of life and/or insult human dignity are in need of conversion. God, who is the giver of life, challenges us to trust Him as He works through us to convert hearts.

Goldy celebrating the gift of life!

Obviously, this is extremely challenging given the current state of our culture. Unfortunately, we are also well aware of politicians, sometimes even Catholic, who promote or advance policies contrary to human dignity under the guise of reproductive health or freedom. As disciples of Jesus Christ, our challenge is to bear witness to the truth about human dignity and willingly offer some acts of penance or sacrifice for their conversion. In doing so, we unite our hearts with Christ’s, who offered His life for sinners.

St. Teresa of Calcutta reminds us that God does not ask us to be successful, but to be faithful. No one is perfect, so we ask God to be merciful and patient with those who fail to see the great gift of life and dignity of every human person. Knowing God will help us, we pray, remain confident, and work hard to promote and protect a culture of life.

~St. Therese, pray for us!

The Hard Truth

I generally like to say things to other people that I think will make them comfortable. I don’t like to make someone feel uneasy. I think most of us are peacemakers. We usually don’t like to create waves or anxiety in others. This is not a bad thing – and often it is a good thing.

However, in this week’s first reading (Jer 23:1-6), we are warned “Woe to the shepherds who mislead and scatter the flock of my pasture.” God goes on to say that “I will take care and punish your evil deeds.” It really doesn’t take a lot of time to unpack the meaning of the message in this reading. If we lead others away from God, we will be punished. Yikes! What does that mean in our lives?

There are many beliefs that as Christians, we are called to accept through reason and/or faith. Our culture spends a fair amount of time “scattering the sheep” away from these beliefs and God. To speak out against our culture is often seen as not respecting someone else’s point of view. But, don’t we as Christians also have a right to have a point of view that aligns with our desire to follow God’s plan? We not only have a right to peacefully stand up for our beliefs, but “woe” to us if we don’t. The hard truth is hard. It may make others uncomfortable – but Jesus didn’t come into the world to make us comfortable. Jesus came into our world to save our souls.

Introducing Ms. Nicole Nicpon - our New Kindergarten Teacher!

We are excited to welcome (back) Ms. Nicole Nicpon as the newest member of our kindergarten team! Ms. Nicpon is a St. Therese graduate and is so excited to be returning to St. Therese School! At left is her kindergarten picture here at St. Therese! Ms. Nicpon received her undergraduate teaching degree from Winona State University and is in her final year of graduate school at Hamline University for a Masters of Arts in Literacy Education and a Reading License. Ms. Nicpon has served these past four years at Breck School where she most recently taught first grade. She currently lives in Hopkins with Prince, her 19 month old puppy and he is excited, too! She cannot wait to get to know everyone!

St. Therese Faith Formation has many opportunities for volunteers to support our children and youth and nurture their faith. Please prayerfully consider whether God may be calling you to serve in one of these roles:

K – 5 Catechist: in teams of two, lead Faith Formation classes for elementary students (weekly on Wednesday afternoons/evenings)

Middle & High School Core Team: act as the leader of a small group of Middle School students or Confirmation candidates. Facilitate discussions, share your own experience as a Christian, take part in games and activities, and mentor the next generation of Christians. (Middle School Core Team meets weekly on Wednesday nights; Confirmation Core Team meets monthly on Sunday afternoons)

Chaperone Squad: Make our youth events possible by joining our roster of certified chaperones and substitutes. (Volunteer only for those events you are able to make; even 1 or 2 a year is a huge help)

Prayer Team: Support our ministry and our intentions by your prayers! (Receive a weekly update with prayer intentions)

We are so grateful for your help! Training will be provided for all positions; anyone working directly with youth will also be guided through the VIRTUS certification/background-check process.
