A Message from Father Andrie

Remaining Grateful

Ninth and Tenth Commandments

We conclude our summer series on the Ten Commandments by looking at the ninth and tenth commandments on coveting. The ninth commandment says, "You shall not covet your neighbor's house; you shall not covet your neighbor's wife, or his manservant, or his maidservant, or his ox, or his ass, or anything that is your neighbor's" (Ex 20:17). Concerning coveting, our Lord teaches in the Sermon on the Mount, "Everyone who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart" (Mt 5:28).

Given our fallen nature, we have inordinate desires for people or possessions that are contrary to reason. St. John refers to these desires as lust of the flesh, of the eyes, and pride of life (1 Jn 2:16). Christ reminds us that the battle against lust takes place in the heart. We are to strive for purity of heart by God's grace. It is the pure of heart who will see God (Mt 5:8).

The Catholic Catechism speaks about the following areas in purity of heart: the virtue (and gift) of chastity, purity of intention, and purity of vision (CCC 2520). Chastity is the virtue that moderates the desire for sexual pleasure according to faith and reason. Only a chaste person has the freedom to make a sincere gift of himself or herself. In other words, your "yes" doesn't mean much if you can't say "no" to your sexual passions. Purity of intention is about motivation, i.e., the reason why you choose to do or not do something. Purity of vision, for its part, includes thoughts, imagination, and vision that are in accord with God's will.

The Catechism speaks about modesty or moderation of appearance so as to protect one's dignity. While serving as a chaplain at Visitation School, I once received a question from a high school girl, "Why should I dress modestly? Guys should just deal with how I dress." I replied, "Charity is willing the good of the other. In this case, charity is making a sacrifice to help your brother in Christ who may be struggling to grow in purity of heart." Dressing modestly protects one's dignity, i.e., it communicates that one is not an object to be lusted, but rather a person to be loved. The Catechism says, "Modesty protects the mystery of persons and their love (CCC 2522).

We typically associate modesty with dress and the body. The Catechism says that modesty "protests, for example, against the voyeuristic explorations of the human body in certain advertisements, or against the solicitations of certain media that go too far in the exhibition of intimate things. Modesty inspires a way of life which makes it possible to resist the allurements of fashion and the pressures of prevailing ideologies" (CCC 2523). As we are all well aware, our culture really struggles in this area. Parents, teachers, and even friends should help our young people appreciate and embrace a culture of modesty that highlights the dignity and mystery of every person.

The tenth commandment focuses not so much on coveting people, but rather on their possessions. It says, "You shall not covet . . . anything that is your neighbor's ... You shall not desire your neighbor's house, his field, or his manservant, or his maidservant, or his ox, or his ass, or anything that is your neighbor's" (Ex. 20:17). Jesus reminds us, "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also" (Matt 6:21).

The Catechism says that the tenth commandment "forbids coveting the goods of another, as the root of theft, robbery, and fraud, which the seventh commandment forbids" (CCC 2534). In other words, by healing the sin of coveting, you also heal the sin of stealing. The ninth and tenth commandments are concerned with the intentions of the heart.

Again, we have disordered desires given our fallen human nature. We overeat, overdrink, or amass more material goods than we need. There is an old saying that "He who loves money never has enough money" (CCC 2536). Envy, a deep and dark sin, must be banished from the heart. When unchecked, it can lead to theft or even violence against others such as when Cain killed Abel (Gn 4:5-8).

According to the Catechism, envy is a capital sin (i.e., gateway to other sins) and when it wishes grave harm to a neighbor it is a mortal sin (CCC 2539). St. Augustine referred to envy as the diabolical sin because from envy are born hatred, detraction, calumny, joy caused by the misfortune of a neighbor, and displeasure caused by his prosperity (CCC 2539). There is an element of sadness in envy in that someone has something that you want.

Goldy keeping his eyes fixed on Christ.

The antidote for envy is admiration. Admiration regards someone or something with respect or warm approval. While envy is cold and saps the soul, admiration uplifts and motivates it. To combat envy, you must keep your eyes on Christ, your true treasure. Christ and He alone satisfies the deepest longing of human hearts. May you always remember that you are not made for this world, but for God, who is the fullness of satisfied desire, eternal gladness, consummate delight, and your perfect happiness. ~St. Thérèse, pray for us!

Deacon John's Corner

To Whom Shall We Go?

In this Sunday's gospel (John 6:60-69) Jesus watches as his followers begin to walk away over the teaching about the presence of His body and blood in the Eucharist. As Jesus' followers start to walk away, he turns to his disciples and asks them if they too were going to leave him. Peter responds, "Master, to whom shall we go? You have the words of eternal life. We have come to believe and are convinced that you are the Holy One of God."

To whom shall we go? During our times of suffering or struggle, this is often a question that is natural to ask. When burdens come into our lives, which happen to all of us, we have the option to turn to the false gods of this world, or we can turn to God, our Father. It may seem like a simple answer, but the instant relief that we can get from worldly temptations can often cloud our thinking. We may cover our sufferings with alcohol or chemicals, or even sin. But these just mask our pain and suffering. The only true peace in our suffering comes through God.

I have often wondered how much more difficult the last year might have been without our Faith. Last year was certainly full of challenges for all of us. But knowing that we have God as our rock in any storm in life, is peaceful and reassuring.

Peter asked the right question, "To whom shall we go?". If we stop and pray about it, the answer is pretty simple.

St. Therese Catholic School

Sights & Sounds of CONSTRUCTION! Our construction workers continue working hard to improve our school. The classroom walls are up on the lower level and nearly finished. You can now see the structure for the new media center. This new space will be a great gift to our whole community as it will serve as an additional place for learning, social and educational events.

The NEW & Gently Used Uniform Store opened on August 16 with NEW HOURS of operation in the SCHOOL GYM. There's a lot of inventory and great prices for you to dress your growing kiddos.

Open: Monday, August 23 to Friday, August 27
Hours: 9am to 6:30pm

Only cash and checks are accepted as payment.

For more in-depth information on the school uniform policy, please refer to: www.st-therese.org, click on school, then click on parents, then click on 2021 Information Packet and proceed to pages 8 - 13.

Early Learning Center

The Elephant toddler class is in transition now. We are currently in Ms. West's room in the middle school while our brand new classroom is being constructed. We've thoroughly enjoyed watching all the work going on and continue to enjoy exploring all over campus.

The Early Childhood Program at St. Therese is a fun and enriching place to be! Want to join the fun?

Faith Formation

WE NEED YOU.

BECOME A CATECHIST

Many adults are needed to walk with the children and youth of our parish as they come to know Jesus Christ and build their relationship with Him and others. Is God calling you to deepen your relationship with Jesus, live out your baptismal calling, and experience conversion through ministry as a catechist for Grades K-12, chaperone, or member of our prayer team?

For more information, please contact Liz Lammers (llammers@st-therese.org) on K-5 opportunities, Joe Schiltz (jschiltz@st-therese.org) for middle-school opportunities, and Addy Diaz (adiaz@st-therese.org) for high-school opportunities.

Questions of the Week

Adult: To whom do you go when you are looking for meaning or answers to life's questions?

Child: Who and what help you believe in Jesus?

Be part of the Synod process that will shape our local Church. In small groups this fall, our parish will:

1. Pray for God's guidance on how we can more vigorously proclaim the Good News of Jesus Christ!
2. Learn the Church's wisdom on the Synod focus area topics.
3. Discuss your perspective and ideas with other parishioners.
4. Respond with your feedback on Archdiocesan priorities to proclaim the Good News in our culture today.

Contact Angie Wilz in the St. Therese Parish office to find out how to participate. See more at archspm.org/synod

The Most Remarkable Miracle of the Middle Ages

In 750 AD, a priest experienced a terrible temptation to doubt the True Presence while he was saying Mass. As he pronounced the words of consecration, the bread and the wine transformed into what appeared to be flesh and blood.

In 1970, more than 1,200 years later, scientists began a thorough examination of the miraculous substances, and in 1973, the World Health Organization (WHO) of the United Nations began their own barrage of five hundred tests, which took fifteen months. The scientific tests revealed:

- The coagulated substance is human blood, AB blood type, with the same protein distribution as found in normal, fresh blood.
- The Host is human muscular striated tissue of the myocardium, left ventricle (heart); arteries, veins, the branch of the vagus nerve and adipose tissue all can be identified.
- Like the blood, the flesh is also fresh, living tissue, because it "responded rapidly to all the clinical reactions distinctive of living beings."
- Most remarkably, the blood is divided into five unequal-sized parts, and yet each part weighs exactly 15.85g, and all parts together also weigh the same 15.85g.

After their tests, the Medical Commission of WHO and UN reportedly published results in 1976, stating: "Science, aware of its limits, has come to a halt, face to face with the impossibility of giving an explanation."

It's hard to imagine that the UN would get involved with a religious miracle nowadays, let alone admit defeat in explaining it away. (media.ascensionpress.com)

Annual Men's Retreat at Demontreville

There are a few slots left for the Group 35 Annual Men's Retreat at Demontreville located in Lake Elmo on September 16-19. This is an excellent opportunity to read and reflect on the Word of God and get a reprieve from the distractions of our busy daily schedules.

The silent retreat is comprised of fourteen 30-45 minute conferences based on the Spiritual Exercises of Saint Ignatius. The retreat begins on Thursday evening at 6:30pm and concludes Sunday evening at 7:15pm. Please see the parish website to contact Mark Lucke or Bob Byers.

Discernment Opportunity for Young Women Retreat Friday-Sunday, September 24, 25 & 26

Single women ages 18-28 who are seeking to do God's will are invited to attend this Fiat Ministries Discernment Retreat. Religious sisters from various religious orders assist at the retreat by giving talks, leading small groups, giving their testimonies, and providing a joyful witness of what it means to be a consecrated religious sister. Cost is $100 which includes meals, lodging and materials. Register online at the archspm.org website.
