Know Your Catholic Faith

Local Church

If you were asked what local church you belonged to, would you have the correct answer? The answer to this question is that you belong to the local church of the Diocese of Des Moines, unless you are visiting from another area. The Second Vatican Council describes the local church as a "community existing around an altar, under the sacred ministry of the bishop." The local Church is that of a particular locality, thereby, identified as a particular church. The universal (catholic) church is a communion of all those particular churches that are spread throughout the world. In other words, the local church is the archdiocese or diocese as a local community of Christ's followers led and served by a bishop with the assistance of his priests and deacons (at parishes) and is one of the core realities in the Catholic understanding of what it means to be a church. Giving support of time, talent and treasure to the Local Church at both the parish and at diocesan level help fulfill our individual mission of evangelizing the Word of God to others. (11:17)

Next week: Church

OUR SOULS THIRST FOR GOD

We have all experienced thirst before, and we continue to be thirsty in our lives as human beings and as creatures. We all know what happens to our fields when there is no irrigation to water them when it does not rain.

Jesus in the gospel speaks of new water, the new life that he is about to give us. We hear the incredible account of his encounter with the Samaritan woman at Jacob's well. The woman is at the well presumably to look for water to quench her thirst, but Jesus will soon reveal to her that she thirsts not just for water but for knowledge.

It is interesting to follow her progress in discovering the person of Christ. At the start, he is merely a Jewish traveler; he then becomes Sir; later, he is a prophet, then the Messiah, and finally, the Savior of the world. As a result of this encounter, the woman has become a missionary bringing others to Jesus.

It is easy to see in the spiritual journey of the Samaritan woman the way every catechumen journeys. Like the Samaritan woman, the catechumens go through various stages until they recognize Jesus as the world's Savior. At the end of this journey, they receive baptism.

Like the Samaritan woman, every Christian is in desperate need of God. We are needy human beings wandering in the desert of our secular and materialistic world. Let us acknowledge our thirst and pray with the Psalmist: "O God, you are my God for you I long. For you my soul is thirsting. My body pines for you like a dry, weary land without water. So I gaze on you in the sanctuary to see your strength and your glory" (Psalm 63:2-3).
