THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

They were overjoyed at seeing the star, and on entering the house they saw the child with Mary his mother. They prostrated themselves and did him homage. Then they opened their treasures and offered him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. - Mt 2:10-11

The Truth Speaks Every Language

This weekend we celebrate the Feast of the Epiphany, which recognizes the revelation of the Jesus to Gentiles—initially, to the three Magi from the East who follow a star to adore the infant Savior. The following excerpt from The Life of Christ by Venerable Archbishop Fulton Sheen, addresses the universal nature of Christ’s saving mission, and how His birth and life, death and resurrection, speaks to everyone in every place:

Simeon had foretold that the Divine Babe would be a Light to the Gentiles. They were already on the march. At His birth there were the Magi, or the scientists of the East; at His death, there would be the Greeks, or the philosophers of the West. The Psalmist had foretold that the kings of the East would come to do homage to Emmanuel. Following a star, they came to Jerusalem to ask Herod where the King had been born. It was a star that led them. God spoke to the Gentiles through nature and philosophers; to the Jews, through prophecies. The time was ripe for the coming of the Messiah and the whole world knew it. Though they were astrologers, the slightest vestige of truth in their knowledge of the stars led them to the Star out of Jacob, as the ‘Unknown God’ of the Athenians later on would be the occasion for Paul preaching to them the God Whom they knew not, but dimly desired. Though coming from a land that worshiped stars, they surrendered that religion as they fell down and worshiped Him Who made the stars. The Gentiles in fulfillment of the prophecies of Isaiah and Jeremiah ‘came to Him from the ends of the earth.’ The Star, which disappeared during the interrogation of Herod, reappeared and finally stood over the place where the Child was born. At the sight of the star they were overjoyed. Entering the house, they saw the child with Mary His mother, and bowed to the ground in homage to Him; then they opened their treasures and offered Him gifts: gold, frankincense, and myrrh. They brought three gifts: gold to honor His Kingship, frankincense to honor His Divinity, and myrrh to honor His Humanity which was destined for death. Myrrh was used at His burial. The crib and the Cross are related again, for there is myrrh at both.

-----> -----> -----> ----->

On Saturday morning, we also celebrated the Solemnity of Mary, Mother of God. As our Blessed Mother illustrates by her apparitions—appearing differently to different peoples around the world—the Good News of Christ resonates in every language and culture. The God of love and mercy longs to be with us so much so that He sends His only Son to live with us and die for us. We may be broken, but each and every one of us is worth saving.

That a message everyone can understand.
