Fifth Sunday of Lent

FROM FR. MIKE'S DESK

My journey to the Saint John Vianney Center began in 1992 after I had become the pastor of Holy Name parish in South Minneapolis. It was my first pastorate. The immediate challenge of the parish was that the grade school enrollment was diminishing and there was no easy solution to meeting this need. There were four other parishes in South Minneapolis that had similar issues so the Archdiocese began an intervention to find a solution to the declining enrollment. We talked as pastors and leadership of the parishes to find the solution, but after a years worth of discussion we had nothing to propose. One of the great weaknesses of the individual parish system is that each entity looked out only for that which would be of benefit to that particular parish. To think broadly as a neighborhood or a part of the larger Archdiocese is darn near impossible.

The Archdiocese grew impatient with the lack of progress and the growing need for something to be done, so they put us all in one room and told us that we would not be leaving until we found a solution to the problem. After several failed attempts to sort this out finally the Archdiocesan representative announced "the plan". We would close the five schools and reopen one school in its place. The tuition would be $700. For the year and the teachers would be paid eighty percent of what the public school teachers were paid. The remaining needed money to make the school run would come from each of the five parishes, each paying a little over $100,000 a year. The Archbishop endorsed this idea and we were basically told to go along with it (especially the five pastors who were pledged in obedience to the Archbishop). Thus the decision was reached and we began to prepare for this to happen in the next year. Every Archdiocesan institution has a canonical administrator (a priest who is in charge). The Archdiocese contacted each of the five pastors in order of seniority and asked each one if he wanted to be the administrator. Each refused, so when I got the phone call I was told that I was the administrator. Here I was in my second year as a pastor, having no experience of running a school, and now I was in charge.

We went through the process of closing the schools at the end of the year and hiring the staff to run the new school. We began with less students than the budget predicted but we did have a full complement of teachers. As the first month passed it became clear the three of the five parishes were not going to contribute to the new school's operation. One began its own smaller school; one remodeled its facilities; and the third did not have the income to contribute. We began operating at a deficit from the first day of the semester.

After three months we did not have enough income to meet the cost of payroll. I was forced to go to the Archdiocese for help. Those in charge told me that it was my job to hold the other pastors accountable (a ridiculous idea given my lack of experience and standing with them). I pleaded and begged until they "loaned" the shortfall money to the school. This happened several times that first year. This anxiety, along with general issues of doing something I had no idea of what should be done caused me to have sleepless nights. (Many and consistent).

I discovered that if I drank a glass of whiskey before I went to bed I could sleep. I began doing this regularly until it became my evening habit. I tried quitting several times, but on those nights I could not sleep, thereby confirming that alcohol was my "sleep aid" and without it I would not sleep. This began a practice that I regularly followed until October 4, 2020. This is the first installment of the story of my journey to Saint John Vianney Center. There are several other contributors to this journey, some of them you have witnessed, others have happened quietly. Over the course of the next weeks I will outline this journey in greater detail.

CHARITY & JUSTICE

Thank You

To the parishioners of St Joseph of the Lakes we thank you for your generous donations.

From the Every Third Saturday website:

Faith is the keystone to everything done at Every Third Saturday and will always be our bedrock. Modern medicine can treat the physical injuries a vet sustains in service, psychiatry can assist with the emotional difficulties, such as PTSD, depression, and anxiety, but we believe that the wounds to the soul many veterans struggle with cannot be healed without divine intervention and a belief that we are all here for a purpose.

Thank you and God Bless You.

Our Feed My Starving Children Shipment

The food has left the port in Texas as I write this and there are people anxiously awaiting its arrival. There is more demand for food than we can provide right now so please pray with us for its safe arrival. If you would like to contribute for these lifesaving meals we would be ever grateful. Please direct checks made out to St. Joseph’s c/o Denise Walsh or pay online by credit card at www.mystjoes.me and choose the food shipment category to contribute.

Alexandra House

We are still collecting a few items for Alexandra House through the end of March. They are in need of hand towels, wash cloths, full size sheet sets, hair conditioner (full size) – Cantu or similar products for curly hair and women’s deodorant. Collection bins are located in the gathering space and by the office. Thanks everyone!

STAFF CORNER

Just a quick thought as we are moving from the final days of Lent into Holy Week and Easter. It's been a difficult year for everyone. I think 99.9% of us can agree on that. And part of being "church" means that we welcome everyone where they are at in that moment and that part of their journey. We are to provide comfort, food, shelter, community and give a "guide" to spiritual life, but it is God's job to change hearts and minds. We are the ones to walk the path, gently with each other, being respectful, caring and acting with charity.

This task of ours is not an easy one. We have our own hopes, dreams and thoughts of the way "things should be". Let us be gentle with each other and ourselves.

Blessings on your week,
