FROM FR. MIKE'S DESK

As the holiday season passes on and I begin to get my tax information to prepare this year's income forms I find myself pausing in thanksgiving for all the kindnesses I received over these past months. I received many Christmas greetings from parishioners as well as old friends from the many years of my ministry. I enjoy seeing the family pictures that many included; though for the first year it struck me how old some of these folks are getting! There are several couples whom I married thirty or more years past and their pictures now include both the grown children with their grandchildren. (I suspect I have noticed this previously, though as I attempt to stave off the reality of aging, I put it in the back of my mind.)

I enjoyed the Christmas/New Year's holidays watching our church transformed for the feasts; participating with our youngsters as they related the arrival of the Magi in the Nativity story during Mass; listening to the gorgeous music produced by our multi-talented music ministry. We have so many occasions of blessings here at St. Joe's it always amazes me that there are still those who can find things to complain about.

The Archdiocesan synod process continues its consultation with a parish synod leadership meeting toward the end of February. I have asked several parishioners who attended most of the synod meetings this Fall to join me in this next phase of the consultation. This is all in anticipation of the actual synod taking place over Pentecost weekend. Once this takes place the Archbishop will publish a pastoral letter in which he will be giving the direction of the archdiocese for the next several years. We continue to pray for the success of the Synod at Mass, and I am asking you to keep our parish synod leadership team and the synod in your personal prayers. Pray especially for the Holy Spirit to guide this time of consultation.

STAFF CORNER

Love Bears all Things

Our second reading this week is a familiar one and is popular to hear at weddings, but we should be reminded of this in our everyday lives.

“Love is patient, love is kind.
It is not jealous, it is not pompous,
it is not inflated, it is not rude,
it does not seek its own interests,
it is not quick-tempered, it does not brood over injury,
it does not rejoice over wrongdoing but rejoices with the truth.
It bears all things, believes all things,
hopes all things, endures all things.”

How many times in the last year or two have we been impatient with those around us, our friends, our neighbors and our family members? I know that I have. I overreact to something right away and fail to look at the other side and see Christ within.

Does this mean I have to change my mind and agree with someone all the time or change plans for someone else? No, it means I need to work on being with another. in the moment, and “seeing” and “listening” to them. So many times I jump ahead and try to finish someone’s sentence or I really only half listen and I am distracted or anxious about what I “should” be doing which leaves me impatient and definitely not kind.

So, I am working on this. Every day. And I wish you all plenty of patience, kindness, hope and endurance.

Blessings on your week,
Anne Serwe
