Love Expressed through Deeds

To borrow a phrase from popular culture, "Talk is cheap." We can say all kinds of nice and eloquent things about being good people and caring for others and living out our Catholic Christian faith. However, if those words do not correspond to our actions, then there is a real disconnect and we need to reevaluate how we are really living. At the same time it should also be noted that it's not always easy to put into practice the things that we believe and the things that we say. There are many counterexamples and negative influences and temptations in the world around us to prevent us from doing so. And yet it is not an impossible task that is set before us. We have the Grace of Christ to support and sustain us. Within the Second Reading for Mass we have this inspired message for us to ponder, "Children, let us love not in word or speech but in deed and truth" (1 John 3:18).

As human beings we use words to express what it is that we are thinking and feeling and hoping for but our actions are oftentimes the clearest way to show it. A quote attributed to St. Francis of Assisi emphasizes this in that we are to, "Preach the Gospel at all times. When necessary, use words." Gifted poet and author Ralph Waldo Emerson powerfully stated, "What you are doing speaks so loudly that I cannot hear what you are saying." A rock band from the 90s called Extreme wrote a song called, "More than Words" which also commented on the reality that our actions speak louder than our words.

As followers of Jesus Christ, He who was/is/will be Love incarnate, we are enabled to love God and those around us through our words and deeds. May the Risen Lord continue to help us and guide us throughout this Easter season to be a people of heartfelt and sincere love.

Joy with Christ,
Fr. James

"And his commandment is this: we should believe in the name of his Son, Jesus Christ, and love one another just as he commanded us."

(1 Jn 3:23)

Eucharistic Adoration

“I am the true vine and you are the branches, says the Lord.”

(John 10:14)

As the vine, Jesus leads adorers, as branches, to grow in holiness and to do His will. Through prayer and adoration, we ask Jesus to direct our lives. Come and join this prayer-filled group of followers of Jesus by signing up for an hour of adoration in our San Damiano Adoration Chapel.

Our chapel is available Monday through Friday, with some regulations we must follow:

- Only registered, scheduled adorers are allowed in the chapel (No walk in visitors will be admitted at this time)
- Masks are required
- All adorers are asked to sanitize any surfaces they touch during their adoration hour
- If you are not feeling well, please stay home

If you would like to register and schedule an adoration hour, or if you are an adorer unable to attend your scheduled hour, please call Sandy at 763-789-3246.

Volunteers are needed to cover Mondays at noon, Tuesdays at 2:00 pm, Wednesdays at 7:00 am, 10:00 am, 11:00 am and 1:00 pm, and Fridays at 9:00 am and 2:00 pm.

Branching Out Isn't Always What It's Cracked Up to Be

“That’s a really beautiful tree branch. Man, would you look at the bark on that thing? The others are real duds, but that low-hanging branch has really got it all together.”

I’ve never heard anyone say this. Maybe I just need to hang out with more arborists, but I can’t recall ever hearing someone admire the particular beauty of a single branch. When someone comments on a tree, it’s usually the whole tree — perhaps a visual element of it, like the color of the leaves or its height. But people don’t usually zero in on one branch.

Maybe that’s because usually, if one branch is looking a little weak, chances are every other branch is, too.

The Bible tells us that when we bear fruit as good everyday stewards, it is for the Father’s glory. We are the branch on His magnificent tree. What we have is from Him, and what we do likewise points back to Him. We also tend to reflect how well the other branches around us are incorporating the nutrients coming their way. That’s all fine and good in theory. In practice, it can be an arduous exercise in humility.

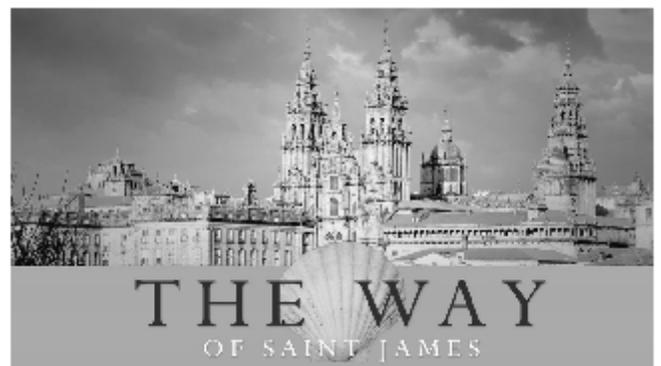

When I do something virtuous or charitable or kind, there is a part of me that wants to stand out for it. I think that’s true for all of us. We’ve given of ourselves in some way or overcome some human temptation to accomplish a little bit of good in this world, and even though we know God sees us, we’d really love for everyone else to see it, too.

It’s a struggle, for sure. But we need to remember that our fruit belongs to the whole tree.

Reflections

Why Do We Do That?—Catholic Life Explained

Question: Is gossip a mortal sin?

Answer: To really ask this question, we must consider the Eighth Commandment: “You shall not bear false witness.”

In its reflections on this commandment, The Catechism of the Catholic Church invites us to not only think about what bearing “false witness” means, but to also consider how we understand the truth and how we communicate more broadly. This is why so much of this section of the Catechism has to do with the gift of language. With this in mind, we will notice that the word “gossip” isn’t used by the Catechism. Instead, we find the words “detraction” and “calumny,” which are actually two forms that gossip can take, and both can be quite serious.

First, detraction is the of revealing “another’s faults and failings to persons who did not know them,” without morally valid reasons. Calumny, by extension, is saying something about another person that is untrue, and it is sinful because it “harms the reputation of others and gives occasion for false judgements” (see no. 2477).

In all of our communication, we have to always recognize that we have a moral obligation to the truth and to always work to protect the reputation and honor of our neighbors (see no. 2479).

Gossip can, in fact, prove to be a very serious sin. After all, the Catechism reminds us: “No one is bound to reveal the truth to someone who does not have the right to know it” (no. 2489). When we have gossiped, especially if we are aware we have damaged another person’s good name or reputation, we want to make every effort to undo the damage we have done, including seeking the grace and forgiveness offered in the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

Live the Liturgy—Inspiration for the Week

Anyone familiar with gardening knows that proper and timely pruning is essential. The health of the plant depends upon it. An unpruned tree can quickly produce suckers that zap many of the essential nutrients from its body. Pruning requires patience and vision. Studies reveal that plants often respond defensively to being pruned, displaying reactions that are similar to hurt or discomfort. Pruning is not easy but necessary. A hard lesson for us to learn is that we also need to be pruned. We become far healthier when we allow God to stretch, refine, and form us into the best version of ourselves. The fruit that then comes from our vines will be more abundant, nutritious, and robust. Left to our own devices we can easily find ourselves running amuck and spiraling out of control. Without a proper vision and trust in the Master Pruner, we will never find the contentment we desperately desire. Nor will the work of the Gospel stand a chance of succeeding.

Word of Life

“Even the weakest and most vulnerable, the sick, the old, the unborn and the poor, are masterpieces of God’s creation, made in his own image, destined to live forever, and deserving of the utmost reverence and respect.”

Gospel Meditation

Fifth Sunday of Easter

“Spiraling out of control,” is a phrase that can easily describe the current display of human existence. In addition to the violence, unrest, uneasiness and turmoil that are common elements of our daily news, other essential pieces are misplaced or missing. Many lack an objective center around which to order and structure their lives or a clear set of definable goals or mores to act as guideposts and life directives. It appears that “feelings” have become a “new god” and traditional structures and ideals set aside. It is almost as if history only shows that we got this whole thing wrong and many are determined to finally set things right. The real truth, however, is that while wrongs and errors are certainly a part of our often-checkered past, it is hardly the case that all was wrong. It is not our task to rewrite the history of our lives, but to learn from mistakes that were made, and preserve the perennial wisdom at the root of our successes. Learning is an essential part of being human.

The question becomes, however, from whom do we learn? Some have such a hard time placing God in that position, but that is precisely where God needs to be. God is the Master Teacher from whom all of humanity learns and gets its cues. It is in and through this relationship with the Gardener of Life that we are fashioned and pruned into the people we are intended to be and can be. It is only in God that we are able to find our best selves. Sadly, many think that religion too, as well as history in general, has also gotten all this wrong. Yet, our resurrection faith tells us differently. We are reminded, today especially, that we are meant to remain in Christ as Christ remains in us. We are also reminded that Jesus, the Incarnate God, is the vine upon which we grow, the branches that flow from the source of God’s life.

Giving up our will to God’s can be a painful endeavor. It is not easy to set our own desires and wants aside and allow God to step in and direct and guide our growth. But this is the only way to prevent deadly weeds from overtaking us and bringing us to a place of self-destruction. God’s commandments are the very guideposts and benchmarks we need, yet many seek to remove them from all public view because they appear to limit self-expression and suppress what is considered by many to be “human freedom.” They are the only way we can find freedom, however. And, until we learn this fundamental lesson, we will continue to spiral out of control, never really knowing who we are, what our potential can be or how life really can be lived. We will not know peace.

Blest Art

The weekend of May 8 and 9, Blest Art will be visiting our parish on behalf of the Christian families in Bethlehem, Palestine.

For centuries, the Christians in and around Bethlehem have earned a living by carving religious olive wood art to sell to visiting pilgrims.

Blest Art Inc helps the struggling Christian families of Bethlehem by marketing their artwork in the United States. Due to this work many Christian families maintain their livelihood and their ancestral homes in the land of our Lord.

They kindly invite you to visit their display, available after all Masses, of hand-carved nativity sets, statues, crosses, rosaries, and many other pieces of beautiful olive wood art, and to consider purchasing a piece of art from the Holy Land to help support the many families who depend on this form or art for their living.

Blest Art gladly accepts cash, checks, and all major credit cards. Please note that they do not ask for, nor do they accept, any donations.
