Our Mission

The Mission of The Church of the Immaculate Conception is to proclaim and celebrate our Lord Jesus Christ. We fulfill our mission as Christian disciples by intentionally responding to God's call to grow in holiness.

From the Pastor's Desk

The Basics of Religion

When you hear the word “religion” what comes to mind? Do you immediately think of ritualistic forms of worship with a gathered assembly on a weekly basis? Perhaps you ruminate upon bold declarations of faith and moral codes for living? At the fundamental level isn't it really about having a good relationship with the Lord of the Universe? All of those aspects are rightly considered to be dimensions of religion and have been core components of our Catholic Christian faith tradition for nearly two thousand years. For the Second Reading at Mass on Sunday we will hear an intriguing definition for religion that lines up well with those ideas and expounds upon them.

Within the Letter of St. James we will hear, “Religion that is pure and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to care for orphans and widows in their affliction and to keep oneself unstained by the world” (1:27). We could look at that definition and recognize the personal call to holiness that each one of us has. Our dynamic relationship with God who has revealed Himself as Father, Son, and Holy Spirit entails prayer and a certain withdrawing from popular practices so as to remain “unstained by the world.”

We could also look at the definition of religion put forth by St. James and see that our concern for “orphans and widows in their affliction” pulls us out of ourselves and helps us to build up the Kingdom of God. We ought to have an empathetic approach for those around us as they go through their own times of trial and tribulation. In its essence this is our faith in action and living as, “doers of the word and not hearers only” (1:22). Elaborating upon this principle, St. James wrote later in his Letter, “So also faith of itself, if it does not have works, is dead” (2:17). May the Lord bless us in our efforts to truly be a religious people in our thoughts, words, and works of merciful love.

Mercy with Christ,
Fr. James

“Religion that is pure and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to care for orphans and widows in their affliction and to keep oneself unstained by the world. - Jas 1:27

Parish News

Welcome Fr. Neil Pezzulo!

We welcome Father Neil Pezzulo of the Glenmary Home Missioners, who will speak at all the Masses this weekend. This special collection will provide support for Glenmary's ministry in the home missions of the United States.

Ordained to the priesthood in 1999, Father Neil has served as pastor for Glenmary missions in Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Tennessee. Father Neil served two terms as Glenmary's First Vice President while traveling each weekend to three diocesan parishes in three different counties in eastern Kentucky to provide sacramental support. Father Neil currently serves as the pastor for Glenmary's missions in Grainger and Union Counties, Tennessee, where he oversees the building of St. John Paul II mission's permanent church building and the growth of pastoral and outreach ministries for two diverse mission faith communities.

We invite you to share your prayers and financial support for Glenmary's important ministry. Thank you for your generosity.

Council of Catholic Women

Council Meeting

On September 9 at 6:30 pm, the first meeting of this year's Council of Catholic Women (CCW) will take place in Fellowship Hall. The gathering will begin with a Rosary at 6:30 pm. Archdiocesan Synod

Join the Journey this Fall!

Here we are in the heart of summer enjoying those long-awaited gatherings we missed last year and looking forward to squeezing all we can out the season. We give little thought to anything beyond the next event, let alone anything beyond Labor Day! But should your mind venture ahead a little, consider joining us this fall to help shape the future of our local Church through the ongoing Archdiocesan Synod process. Archbishop Hebda needs your input in how to best form:

- Parishes that are in the service of evangelization.
- Missionary disciples who know Jesus’s love and respond to his call; and
- Youth and young adults in and for a Church that is always young

In the meantime, pray that the Holy Spirit will continue to guide and inspire His people. “Come Holy Spirit, Come!”

Eucharistic Adoration

“O Lord, you are good and forgiving, full of mercy to all who call to you”
(Psalm 86:5)

Adorers, during their hour of Eucharistic Adoration, often pray for forgiveness and mercy for themselves and for others. They know when they leave the chapel, their prayers are heard and leave with a peace only Jesus can give. Our chapel is open to anyone who would like to come and pray before Jesus, present in the Blessed Sacrament on the chapel altar, Monday through Friday beginning at 7:00 am.

We are looking for volunteers to cover Mondays at 2:00 pm, Thursdays at 6:00 pm and Fridays at 10:00 am. Visitors are also welcome; however, they will need the door code to enter the chapel. If you would like to schedule an adoration hour, are unable to attend your scheduled adoration hour or if you would like to visit our chapel, please call Sandy at 763-789-3246.

Note: The chapel will be closed on Monday, September 6 for the Labor Day holiday. It will reopen on Tuesday, September 7 at 7:00 am.

Reflections

Why Do We Do That?—Catholic Life Explained

Question: My friend has never heard of Christ and I want to share the Gospel with her but I'm afraid to. How do I share my faith?

Answer: There are a lot of ways to bring up the topic of religion, without being judgmental or pushy. Begin by asking what her thoughts are about religion, or what her experience was growing up. Finding common ground is often easier than you think, because the questions and problems we have about God, the presence of evil, our purpose in life, and our relationship with God are universal concerns.

Why are you afraid? If you do not want to insult or offend someone, don't be pushy or judgmental. If you are uncertain about how to explain your own faith, do a little reading or practice with a friend. If you measure success only by this person converting, focus your attention more on beginning the conversation, not on bringing it to a perfect close! Faith is a journey of many acts of belief, many discussions about God, and many choices about how we practice what we preach. In some we will have great success; in others we will need forgiveness and perseverance. The most important thing to keep in mind is that the Holy Spirit is always at work and our most humble efforts can bear great fruit. Have faith in God because he has faith in you!

Live the Liturgy—Inspiration for the Week

What makes a person wise and intelligent? Certainly it is not the ability to memorize facts or minute details about a situation. What makes a person wise and intelligent is when their words and actions harmoniously unite and produce virtue. A person can know many facts and even do the right actions but still have a grave flaw in their character. We sometimes want to delude ourselves into thinking that as long as we are "doing" everything correctly, we are automatically in right relationship with all. Such is sadly not the case in the kingdom of God. We are called not to be just hearers of the Word, but doers as well. That means getting to the heart of what laws and rituals are meant to signify and nurture. If we do not bring the actions home, where they belong, and allow them to speak of the goodness, mercy, compassion, and love of God, then they are simply empty worthless gestures. Welcome the Word that has been planted within you so that you can be a truly wise and intelligent disciple of Jesus Christ.

Word of Life

"No sin or crime is greater than God's mercy. The sacrifice of the Cross reveals that Christ's greatest desire is to forgive those with a repentant heart."

—USCCB Secretariat of Pro-Life Activities, "Death Penalty: Catholic Q&A"

“All good giving and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom there is no alteration or shadow caused by change.”

Gospel Meditation

22nd Sunday in Ordinary Time

Albert Einstein said that the “true measure of intelligence is not knowledge but imagination.” Being a disciple of Jesus Christ requires a great deal of imagination. It is not enough to simply attend to facts, rules and rituals and consider the job done. Quite contrarily, the Gospels demands creativity, of trying to discern how to put flesh on the Beatitudes and properly serve God’s children. Jesus never doled out a top down agenda. Not once did he ever demand conformity over conversion or sacrifice over mercy. The Gospel is always about putting people in touch with their compassionate, forgiving, and unconditionally loving God and meeting them where they are.

For Jesus, it often meant breaking a few rules. Well respected and time-honored traditions had to be set aside in order to attend to what really mattered. God’s compassion, mercy and true conversion were always the trump cards. The story of the Good Samaritan, healing on the Sabbath, and bypassing of purification rituals all display this theme. Human beings can get too hung up on protocol and tradition. This is so much so that often preserving all of these things is of greater concern than the beggar knocking on our door or the sinner looking for mercy. It is no wonder, then, that we can easily become hypocritical. Many can see us on our knees in prayer while our true heart and actions, rooted in judgment and self-preservation, are hidden from others. It is a trap into which we can easily fall. Who cares how we live our lives as long as our hands are properly washed!

Here enters the need for imagination and the distinction of truly being a wise and intelligent person. It takes a good measure of creativity and a lot of guts to really be a doer of God’s word and not merely a hearer. Being a person who doesn’t just tell people about God but shows people God requires courage and ingenuity. That’s why people like St. Francis of Assisi and St. Teresa of Calcutta are timeless. Their genuineness speaks volumes generation to generation. It’s risky business taking the step to allow God into our hearts. Permitting God to release us from the grip of our evil thoughts, infidelity, greed, malice, sexual improprieties, licentiousness, envy, arrogance, folly, and the like takes courage. That’s why we prefer to spend our energy rearranging the future rather than take measures to secure a foundation that is most certainly crumbling.

Give it all Back

Pop culture has given us a unique idea of the term justice. Justice, we often think, is about taking. Taking what's owed. Taking revenge. Taking what we deserve. This worldview tends to make mincemeat of our Catholic social teachings. Seeking the good of the poor, a call to community and participation, solidarity — on the face of it, in a society where everything must be earned and we are encouraged to hoard for ourselves whatever success we can achieve, these principles look a lot like highway robbery.

But when you remember the presence of an omnipotent, all-loving and all-merciful God, it turns our gunslinging sense of justice on its head. For how does justice inhabit the same universe as a God who is so quick to give and indeed to forgive?

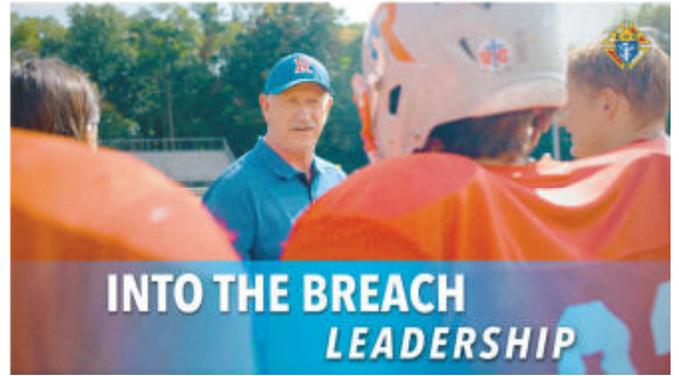

Well, very easily, when we remember Who exactly is the source of every good and perfect thing in this world. There is no law that cannot be traced back to the Word. And the Word saves our souls.

Is that justice? No, that is a gift. It is the reckless, indulgent gift of a father whose love is greater than His anger. What is justice in the Biblical sense?

The answer is simple. Look at your life. See the hours in your day? See your spouse, your kids, your grandkids? See the house they live in, the money in your wallet, the food in your fridge, the breath in your lungs?

Calling it all your own, refusing to share any of it — that's robbery. Giving it all back to the One who gave it to you — that's justice.
