MISSION STATEMENT

"We, the community of St. Gregory Barbarigo, are called forth in Baptism to follow the mission of Jesus to teach, to love, and to serve."

From the Pastor's Desk 2

There is a story about my paternal grandfather that was recounted to me some years after he passed away. He was doctor who specialized in neuro-pathology. In any case, as the story goes, he got word that a fellow doctor had performed an abortion. He went to this colleague and in the ensuing "discussion" punched the other doctor, knocking him to the ground. Apparently there were no other ramifications – no law suit, no suspensions, no disciplinary action for either of them. The society as a whole would have considered doing an abortion as wrong – the mores of society were more or less Christian, and so Christian thought and values carried the day.

I tell this story not to promote violence in opposing abortion (please do not!), but to illustrate the fact that times have changed. Today a doctor who performs an abortion does it as part of his/her job. There are segments of society who do not approve, others who don't care, and others who consider that s/he has a right to serve others in this manner – it has been, after all, the "law of the land" since 1972. The point? Society is no longer predominantly Christian in its thought and values. We are in transition from being a predominantly Christian society to becoming a secular society.

The change in society affects us as Catholics. Our institutions (schools, churches, family life, organizations like the K. of C.) are not as many or as robust. Many people are leaving or have left churches, and have joined the ranks of the famous "nones" who are "spiritual but not religious." Traditionally Wednesday nights were set aside for religion, but that is no longer respected. Sunday mornings are filled with the busy-ness of extracurricular activities, and people are spending more time relating on cell phones or computers than in person.

I say these things not as one who wants to lead a movement to "take back Sundays and Wednesday evenings," though I would not mind seeing that happen. Rather I come to you as one who recognizes the direction American society is heading, that we are going to have to operate in a different fashion now that Christianity is not the predominant paradigm in our culture. We are going to have to think out what we are doing and why, especially where our thought process involves an expression of the invisible values of the Kingdom of God that Christ came to found. We live by the Beatitudes, not just by the quest for money; we live by the golden rule, not just by "winner takes all;" we live for an eternal prize, not just a temporal one. We will not be able to look around at others in society to see if they approve or not, but rather come to see our value as coming from the spiritual realm, and our decisions must give witness to the spiritual values we espouse as Children of God.

This is in part why we have joined the Dynamic Parish movement, why we have instituted the Catechesis of the Good Shepherd, why we are trying to establish smaller groups within the parish to support one another. I invite you to think creatively about how we can live and express our faith in the present culture, and how we can become a more effective witness to Christ's presence in Maryville. These are indeed challenging times.

It is always a joy to celebrate the Eucharist with you!

Father Albert, O.S.B.

Weekend Mass Attendance: 505

In my day to day life I used to think I went through cycles of struggling and thriving. As I get older I am finding out that just because I am struggling with something does not mean I am not thriving. The fact that I am struggling with an issue can actually mean I am getting stronger, better, more aware.

I spent many years away from church, not aware that I was struggling. During that time I thought I was doing just fine. I was making the best choices I could at the time, with the people I had around me. In hindsight I see that in many ways I was struggling, resisting faith, and in general choosing a harder path. While I thought I was content without a church, looking back, I realize that a lot of what was right during that time away was the result of the strong moral formation I had as a child. I didn't understand it, but it was there.

My personal experiences have changed the way I look at others who have left the church, or otherwise rejected their faith. I remember reluctantly and resentfully sitting through Mass because my parents did not give me a choice. I remember thinking, why do I have to sit through this boring repetitive ritual every week? If only I knew then what I know now. If my parents or other adults could have reached me on a deeper level than obligation, had helped me understand the beauty and transcendence of Mass. I know they tried, but I did not "get it". I think there were a lot of people in my generation that did not "get it".

I hope that my children respect me as much I respected my parents and do things I ask even when I can't help them understand why. I never wanted my parents to be disappointed in me. Even though they did not agree with all of my choices, I know they respected my decisions. They loved me unconditionally and knew that I was not making those decisions lightly. They also knew that I would be accountable for the consequences.

I hope my children will make good choices all through their lives. While I want them to respect me, that is not the right reason to choose goodness. I want them to firmly believe that Jesus loves them beyond words. I want them to not fear disappointing me, because I love them unconditionally. I want them to fear disappointing God. I want them to know they belong to Him. I am simply the steward, here to help them thrive even when they struggle.

Thank you for sharing your gifts. –Chris Kuhlemeyer

UPDATE ON LITTLE SAINTS/CGS

Wednesday night religious ed is going to look a little different this year! Instead of having Little Saints classes for kindergarten through 4th grade with a separate CGS class being offered, we'll be having pre-k through 2nd grade in the atrium (doing CGS) and 3rd /4th graders will be involved in Little Saints as usual.

Our parish has been in a natural time of expansion being as many children are aging out of our current CGS program that we've been offering. Catechesis of the Good Shepherd has three levels: level one is for ages 3-6, level two is for ages 6-9, and level three is for ages 9-12. To meet this need for expansion, we have added a second atrium and will be offering both level 1 and level 2 on Wednesday nights. 3rd and 4th graders will be doing a series on Salvation History involving activities/games and a bible study.

The best time to introduce someone to Jesus and have them develop a personal relationship with Him is during childhood. It is when we are children that we are primed developmentally to foster a meaningful relationship with our loving God. Perhaps this is why Jesus says, "Amen, I say to you, unless you turn and become like children, you will not enter the kingdom of heaven." (Matt 18:3) Catechesis of the Good Shepherd is a program formed specifically to allow the child to come to Jesus and develop a personal relationship with Him. There, in my opinion, is no greater program available that aids in children developing this relationship than CGS. With more than 60 years of study and prayer backing everything that's done in CGS, it's one of a kind in it's beauty, depth, and effectiveness. With this in mind, it is my hope that we can continue to grow this program in our parish and give the children the very best start as a life-long disciple of Jesus.

If you have any questions, please email Megan Johansen at johansenmegansg@gmail.com

The schedule for Little Saints/EPIC for the year is on the parish website!

First Reconciliation/Communion Parent Meeting

Do you have a child wanting to receive their first reconciliation/communion this year? Traditionally, children in 2nd grade (or around that age range) will take the next step in their walk with God and receive these two incredible sacraments. If your child is wanting to receive these sacraments this year, please join us for a parent meeting happening September 13th at 7pm in the Parish Hall. This meeting will be mandatory for parents of those kiddos wanting to receive their sacraments. It is essential that you are present because we will be sharing changes that are happening this year and other important information.

Start having conversations with your child now about their desire to receive the sacraments and their readiness! If your child is younger/older than 2nd grade but expressing interest about receiving the sacraments or hasn't yet received them, please email Megan Johansen at johansenmegansg@gmail.com

SALVATION HISTORY BIBLE STUDY

You're invited to a Salvation History bible study!

Salvation History is simply a walk through of the Bible from Genesis to the coming of Christ! We'll explore the different prophets, Biblical types, and the presence/meaning of covenant!

Going through salvation history was one of the best things I ever did for my faith life/prayer life/walk as a disciple. It helped me make sense of God's plan and scriptures I had heard my whole life but never fully understood.

If interested, please reach out to Megan Johansen at johansenmegansg@gmail.com or 816-550-1876. Day/time TBD!
