We, the Holy Trinity Parish Community, seek to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ by sharing our faith through committed efforts to know, love and serve God. Mission Statement

The apostles gathered together with Jesus and reported all they had done and taught. He said to them, "Come away by yourselves to a deserted place and rest a while." So they went off in the boat by themselves to a deserted place.

FROM THE PAROCHIAL VICAR'S DESK

Eucharistic Adoration, Part 3: Thoughts on Prayer

Brothers and Sisters,

In my previous articles, I discussed the origins of Eucharistic Adoration and Exposition, as well as the relationship between Adoration and Holy Communion. This week, I simply want to share three ideas about prayer which can help a lot with Eucharistic Adoration.

First: "Pray as you can, not as you can't; or else you won't." My spiritual director told me this during my first year in seminary when I was having struggles in prayer. It was a kind of prayer that doesn't come easily to me, so I got frustrated and prayer became an anxious endeavor. He wisely saw it was simply a matter of this prayer method not matching my personality. I just needed to give it up and try something else. The Catholic Church carries with it over 2,000 years of spiritual theology and methods of prayer. A spiritual director can be helpful but, even without one, do your own research to find what works. If it works, you'll probably keep doing it.

Second: "There are some souls and minds so scattered they are like wild horses no one can stop. Now they're running here, now there, always restless." This line is from St. Teresa of Avila. As one of the spiritual masters, she knew that not everyone is suited to long periods of silence in prayer. For them, it is helpful to bring a good spiritual book or the scriptures to prayer. You don't sit and read the whole time however; you allow the text to spark conversation. You read a few lines, set down the book, and speak to God about what you read and what it makes you think of, and you listen, allowing thoughts and prayers to surface. Then, just as your thoughts are beginning to dry up or wander, you read a few more lines, and start the process over. The book serves as an aid to prayer.

Third: "...It is a very small thing that I should be judged by you or by any human court... I do not even judge myself... It is the Lord who judges me." We can apply this line from St. Paul to our practice of prayer as well. It is easy to sit and constantly judge our prayer, as if we were standing over our own shoulder and judging how well it's going. Most of the time, however, we should try hard not to. Realize: You set aside time for God, you came with a good will, and you're trying to make it a habit; ninety percent of the work is already done, and God is there to help you. The real test of one's prayer is the change of the heart. Whether pious thoughts and feelings arise or not, remain faithful to the time you've committed to, and you will grow in peace and holiness.

In summary: come to prayer with a good will, trying not to compare your experience to what you imagine other people's experience to be, or to some imaginary ideal. Have some time dedicated to silence, but also use reading to spark your prayer. Never doubt this: God knows how to speak to you in the way you will hear him. I hope you will consider spending time at our parish in Adoration. Our parish plans to kick off Perpetual Adoration in September and we welcome more Adorers.

May God bless you all in your prayer.

Fr. Andrew Williams

THE STEWARD’S WORK IS NEVER DONE

We are all shepherds of a kind, called to tend our own sheep: our families, our parishes, our communities. But it’s exhausting. Don’t we all sometimes just want to take a break from being a steward? The excuses are so familiar: we’re tired, we’ve done enough, we’ve given all we can, what more does the parish (or my spouse, or my kids, or my boss, or my friends, or my community) want? We give ourselves permission to be selfish. So, what if the flock scatters just a little? Jesus gets that. We can just imagine him weary with exhaustion, can’t we? We see him on his boat, attempting to sneak away for a quick break — maybe just a chance to eat a bite of food in peace. He is God, but he was still human, after all. Even the most dedicated shepherds need to sleep. But people couldn’t leave him alone. They were hungry for him. They needed what he could offer, and they needed it now.

As tough as it is, that’s the example we are tasked with imitating. Everyday Stewardship demands accountability. It demands our showing up even when we are tired. It demands that we look at our lives, our time, our energies, our talents, our hearts, our bank accounts and think: where do I still have more to give?

Thank You for Supporting our Parish

We thank you for the many ways you support our beautiful parish, please know that your gifts go a long way to make a difference for good and through your generosity, the gospel continues to be preached here in Springfield and beyond. We bless and thank you for your kindness and generosity.

COVID-19 CONTINUED PROTOCOLS & PRECAUTIONS

Missouri has recently been in the national news as a COVID-19 hotspot due to the Delta variant of the virus. The Delta variant affects younger populations (teens and young adults) more frequently, is more contagious, and has led to an increase in hospitalizations of younger, unvaccinated patients. Hospitals in central and southwest Missouri are becoming overwhelmed with COVID patients, nearly half requiring critical care, and it is only a matter of time before impact is felt in southeast Missouri. As a reminder, all clergy/extraordinary ministers are required to follow the precautions outlined below.

- Refrain from the sign of peace.
- Offer the Sacred Host only.
- Sanitize and wear mask for the distribution of Holy Communion.

If you or your family members are at particular risk, the dispensation still applies.

Most Reverend Edward M. Rice June 30, 2021

DIVINE MERCY SIGNS

St. Francis Borgia Catholic Parish in Washington, MO brought Holy Trinity this beautiful sign. Holy Trinity parishioners Gerald Bremer and Pat Toplikar placed our sign in concrete near the main entrance of the church in front of a stone wall. This sign was at no cost for our parish. The sign will help spread the good news of Jesus' unending love and mercy for everyone! If you are interested in purchasing a small version of this sign for your home the proceeds from the signs are used to provide large images to parishes and religious orders, as well as evangelization along major highways. On Facebook search for Divine Mercy Wash MO to locate their group. We thank Bill and Kenn from St. Francis Borgia Parish for their outstanding ministry sharing these Divine Mercy signs. You may contact Patricia Liermann in the parish office for further details.

Faith Formation and Youth

Sharing the Gospel in the Domestic Church

Have you ever just wanted to be alone for a while? Jesus and his disciples knew what that felt like. They wanted to be alone to talk and rest, but crowds of people were surrounding them. Even when Jesus and his disciples tried to slip away unnoticed, people followed them anyway. They arrived only to find more crowds of people. This was certainly not the quiet time they had planned on. Being patient and kind, Jesus gave up what he wanted, and he began to teach the crowds.

Prayer

Dear God, thank you that Jesus gave up what he wanted, just so he could help other people. Help me to follow his example. Amen.

Something to Draw

Draw a picture of Jesus surrounded by large crowds of people.

Mission for the Week

Spend some alone time with Jesus tonight. If you get interrupted because someone else needs help, that's okay. Go help, and then come back to your alone time with Jesus again.
