PASTOR'S REFLECTIONS

This weekend Fr. Bruno Piccolo from PIME (Pontifical Institute For Foreign Missions) will be with you making an appeal for support. This is our once-a-year Missionary Appeal. Since Fr. Bruno will be here to say Mass for you, I will be taking the chance to join a few of my close friends for Mass at their parish.

Fr. Bruno will be speaking to you about their missionary works and at the end of the Mass there will be a second collection to support PIME Missionaries in their work. The normal second collection for the building fund will be moved to next weekend. I invite you to consider being generous in supporting the needs of PIME. Being in a small town like Clearwater, this is a wonderful way of being able to support the work of Foreign Missions.

We are also a week closer to our parish festival. PLEASE be bringing in bottled water, 12-packs of pop, bottles for the Bottle Bonanza, prizes for kids games, and even your baskets for Baskets from Heaven if you've got them. My stress goes up daily as we get closer to the Festival until many of these needs are met. With not having the Festival last year, it is hard to know how that will affect the Festival this year. I would like to thank those who stepped up to fill some holes. As things started to come together, there were a few areas that we found were uncovered. I am always impressed by those who step up and fill the need. I believe we are on track or will be when these donation items start coming in.

It is so nice to see things happening again. In a few weeks we will be having our Vacation Bible School, another event that was canceled last year. I hope your children or grandchildren are signed up for this fun, faith-filled week. I have always been impressed with how much of the work for VBS is done by our young people in the parish. Thank you to all that helped support them with supplies, and please support them with your prayers the week of VBS.

I will be back with you for daily Masses this coming week. It can be hard to find priest coverage for Masses here at St. Luke's. We are out on the edge of the Archdiocese and priests from St. Cloud would have additional paperwork to receive permission to minister here at St. Luke's, so when there is a priest like Fr. Bruno coming, it is a great chance to get a break and get away. I love all of you dearly, but sometimes we all just need a break. As I said, my plan is to spend the morning with a couple of families I know and just relax and visit. One young lady I may be seeing has asked me to preside at her wedding Mass next month. I have been truly blessed in my time as a priest to make so many wonderful connections - people who mean so much to me, who state that I mean so much to them. The Lord has shown me so much love through these many special relationships connected to past ministry.

Blessings,
Fr. Backer

*The Church of St. Luke is a Catholic Community, centered in Christ through baptism and formed by the Eucharist.
We strive to always be a community where every heart is touched by our Christian fellowship.*

Faith and Family

In today's Gospel, we read the report of the return of the Twelve, who were sent by Jesus to preach repentance, heal the sick, and drive out demons. When the Twelve return to Jesus, he invites them to come away from the crowds and rest. But the crowds will not give them peace. As the Twelve have shared in Jesus' ministry, they now appear to share in his popularity. The crowds continue to approach them, and Mark reports that the disciples don't even have time to eat. In an effort to get away, Jesus and his disciples board a boat in hopes of finding a deserted place. But the crowds notice this and arrive ahead of them. The crowds are so persistent that Jesus and his disciples cannot find a place to be alone. Mark's Gospel tells us that Jesus is moved with pity and begins to teach the crowds. Our Gospel for today stops here, but Mark's report of the unyielding demands of the crowd continues in the verses that follow. If we were to continue reading from Mark's Gospel, we would hear Jesus instruct his disciples to feed the crowd in the familiar miracle of the multiplication of the loaves and fishes. The work of Jesus and his disciples appears to be a round-the-clock job. In the next few weeks, we will hear the story of Jesus' feeding of the multitude, but our Lectionary will turn to the sixth chapter of the Gospel of John to report and reflect on this story. In today's Gospel, we hear the Twelve referred to as "apostles." The word apostle is a Greek word meaning "one who is sent." Jesus chose twelve men from among his disciples whom he sent to share in his ministry of preaching and healing. The first report of this is found in the third chapter of Mark's Gospel, where the Twelve are also called apostles and the names of this select group are listed. We who are Jesus' disciples today have also been sent to share the Gospel with others. Perhaps our commitment to following Jesus as his disciple leaves us feeling tired and overwhelmed. In today's Gospel, we hear Jesus affirm the importance of times of rest and renewal. Jesus wanted his disciples to come away and spend time alone with him. This is what we seek and find in our life of prayer and in our celebration of the Eucharist. -The Sunday Connection
