

PASTOR'S MESSAGE

In the difficult moments we have to listen to the voice of Christ as he tells us to leave the boat and start walking towards him. But what if we begin to sink? It's then that, like Peter, we have to cry out to him for help. He is not a ghost like figure from the past. He is the Son of God who lives among us. If during our lives we never really make that kind of decision even once, what will happen when death comes, and Christ asks us to come to him across its dark waters? Christ was the first to walk on the waters of death without being swallowed up. One day we will have to leave the earthly 'boat' that has carried us through the sometimes stormy waters of this world, and set out across the waters of death. If at difficult moments during life we have opted for Christ, then at death it will come naturally to us to reach out and take his hand so that he may haul us onto the shores of eternity, where there will be no more storms, and where a lasting peace will descend on our troubled lives and restless hearts. 'In normal times we do not realize how little faith we have. When the time comes to enter the darkness in which we are naked and helpless and alone; in which we see the insufficiency of our greatest strengths and the hollowness of our strongest virtues; in which we have nothing of our own to rely on, and nothing in our nature to support us, and nothing in the world to guide us or give us light then we find out whether or not we live by faith'.
