-Hope, Trust, & Blessings-

The place we encounter The Ascension the most is in contemplating the second Glorious Mystery of the Rosary. 'Hope, Trust, and Blessings,' give a good summary of the good fruit we can receive from meditating on this mystery. The ascension increases our hope in many ways. Hope is the confident expectation of some desired good, that something will happen, or trust in a person will bring about that desired good. Hope as a theological virtue is the supernatural confidence that we will attain the kingdom of heaven by placing our trust in Christ's promises and relying upon the grace of the Holy Spirit rather than our own strength. The Ascension gives hope in Jesus, that we will one day see Him return to earth at the end of time, we hope in Jesus's promise that on this earth '[He] will be with us until the end of the age,' we have the hope that as He goes up to heaven, we are now able to follow with Him to heaven, we have the confidence that as we preach and proclaim the gospel others will come to believe. By our faith, hope, and love of Jesus, and His life and authority flowing within us, we will be able to do great things, because bearing His name and acting in His name, He will do great things through us, things that we would not ordinarily expect to happen. The Ascension increases our hope in all these ways. "We have this hope as an anchor for the soul, firm and secure. It enters the inner sanctuary behind the curtain, where our forerunner, Jesus, has entered on our behalf." (Heb 6:19-20)

In trust we acknowledge another's stable character, that they are reliable, that they will follow through on what they say, that they are just, uncompromising with the truth. Saying we trust in God, means we know God will be consistent with His character, that He will never deviate from who He is. The Ascension helps us grow in trust by reminding us of what God promises, that He will always be with us, not that we will never experience trial and difficulty, not that we will always prosper in wealth, but that He will guide us through everything to Himself.

Blessing, Luke's account of the Ascension tells of Jesus blessing the disciples as He is ascending. The simple word blessing, remind us of the power of God's words, that as God speaks His words effect change. What God says of us is true. The deep significance of Jesus blessing the disciples as He ascends into heaven is that His blessing, His word speaks truth about them and changes them that they will have the strength to live out the mission that He has entrusted them with. Jesus's blessing gives them courage as they wait for the promised advocate, and it gives them the confidence that Jesus has confidence in us, that with what we have to offer and give back to God will be enough for the building up of His kingdom, that through us others will experience His power, His blessing.

Hopefully these few points will deepen your understanding of the increase in hope, trust, and blessing that the Ascension gives us.

May God richly bless you!

-Fr. Jeremy
