LIVE THE LITURGY

INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Good dietitians will remind us that we are not only the product of what we eat but the disciplines we undertake. Many people spend a great deal of time and effort eating a healthy diet, getting a sufficient amount of rest, and engaging in regular exercise. Experts tell us that attending to these increases our chances for a longer life. While this is certainly a worthy pursuit, is our earthly life really the one that requires the most attention and effort? Faith kicks in to remind us that we are meant to live forever with God. Hence, isn't it our eternal destiny that requires most of our effort and attention? The food and nourishment we need to achieve this goal and fine tune our souls for this promised inheritance are the Body and Blood of Christ. Only this heavenly sustenance will unite us with God and our brothers and sister, strengthen us to do what the Gospel asks us to do and prepare us for life eternal.

Through the discipline of prayer, our desire to receive our Lord is deepened. It is this yearning, above anything else, that we want clearly seen and front and center when we close our eyes in death. God loves us so much that he gave us only begotten Son. Let us rush to receive him!

ST. MARY'S ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

St. Mary's Alumni Association is taking wine donations for this years Alumni Banquet! If you would like to donate a bottle, you can drop it off at the Parish Center or contact Peg Gray at 402-340-4308.

THE BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST

THE MOST HOLY BODY & BLOOD OF CHRIST

FROM FATHER STARMAN

Dear Parishioners and Friends of the Catholic Parishes of Western Holt and Boyd Counties,

What we celebrate today is God's hospitality in the gift of Jesus, shared with the world in his personal fullness, in his "body and blood." Luke's account which we here this weekend (Luke 9:11b-17) of the feeding of the five thousand is situated in the part of his gospel that focuses on mission (9:1-50), and it can be seen as symbolic of the outreach of the church. There is no special invitation to this Bethsaida meal, no house or dining hall in which to eat. Even though Jesus had planned a kind of ministry "debriefing" session with his apostles, everyone who had found out where they were and followed them is welcomed at Bethsaida, and Jesus teaches and heals them until late in the day. The Twelve tell Jesus to send the crowd away to find shelter and food, neither of which is available in the lonely place, but Jesus responds with the challenge: "Give them some food yourselves." Having just completed their first missionary field work of preaching, healing, and exorcising, the apostles are now called to partnership with Jesus in another apostolic mission: feeding the hungry crowds.

Jesus's command that the Twelve seat the crowd in a hundred groups of fifty each is an image of the local churches gathered as the church universal. Just as Jesus has taught the crowd throughout the day, so he will now teach his disciples something more about the kingdom in action when he takes, blesses, breaks, and places the five loaves and two fishes into the hands of the disciples to give to the crowd. Luke obviously wants his community, and all hearers of the gospel, to connect this meal with the feeding traditions of his ancestors: the miraculous manna in the wilderness (Exod 16:15) and the story of Elisha who fed a smaller crowd with loaves of bread, some of which were left over (2 Kgs 4:42-44). Into this past, the present of the Gospel Bethsaida and all our eucharistic "Bethsidas" are gathered.

When the fragments of the meal are collected, they fill twelve baskets. Such is the superabundant hospitality of God in Christ, that there will always be more than enough to feed the future church of the Twelve when it gathers for its "Bethsaida" meal. But one thing is needed: hands to give the food to the people. The church, guided by the Spirit (about whom we have heard so much on the last two Sundays), needs a creative conversation with the words of Jesus at Bethsaida about the present shortage of ordained ministers to feed the hungry people of God and the right of the people to have access to the Eucharist.

There are other "Bethsaida" questions this gospel prompts us to raise: how are we to celebrate Eucharist in a world wounded by so much injustice? Before Jesus fed the people, he taught and healed and exorcised. What are the paralyzing hungers of people who are physically starving, spiritually deprived, or psychologically damaged that we need to feed? What are the "demons" that need to be exorcised from ourselves and our communities, so our celebration of the Eucharist is not hypocritical?

Ad multos annos!
