MESSAGE FROM THE PASTOR

BE PERFECT AS YOUR HEAVENLY FATHER IS PERFECT

Monsignor
Michael J. Gorman

How often, after making a mistake, does someone say, “Nobody’s perfect”? Or perhaps, “I’m no saint”? As true as these statements may be, we cannot be complacent with our lack of perfection or holiness. Jesus says in today’s Gospel, “So be perfect, just as your heavenly Father is perfect.” Through Moses, God says in our First Reading, “Be holy, for I, the LORD, your God, am holy.” These are commands from the highest authority—God himself—and they cannot be ignored.

Aside from the fact that all human beings have been created in the image and likeness of God (cf. Genesis 1:26)—Saint Paul, in today’s Second Reading, gives us another basis for these imperatives: “You are the temple of God, and...the Spirit of God dwells in you...the temple of God, which you are, is holy!” This flows directly from our baptism into Christ.

Today’s Responsorial Psalm praises the kindness and mercy of God. Jesus’ teaching in today’s Gospel takes us beyond the demands of “retributive justice”: the concept of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. This occurs three times in the Old Testament: in Exodus 21:24-25, Leviticus 24:20 and Deuteronomy 19:21. This is known as the lex talionis or the law of retaliation. In theory it is meant to limit retaliation for an injury by keeping it proportionate to the crime. However, when will the violence end? The newly-inflicted injury, even if it is payback, invites another violent response. On the contrary, Jesus’ teaching seeks to put an end to retaliation by calling for mercy and forgiveness instead of returning insult for injury. He calls us to live in a way that sets us apart from those who are “pagans”: to be good even to those who may not be good to us. The word of God today forces us to ask ourselves, “Can we, who have been forgiven much evil by a kind and merciful God, fail to forgive those who hurt us?” When we pray in the Lord’s Prayer, “Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us”—that “as” means “just as” or “to the extent that.” When we read it that way—“Forgive us our trespasses to the extent that we forgive those who trespass against us”—we see the obligation that asking for God’s forgiveness places upon us.

Lent begins this week on Ash Wednesday, February 22. The regulations for fast and abstinence on Ash Wednesday and the Fridays of Lent are found elsewhere in the bulletin as well as the schedule of Masses and services for both parishes. Students in the religious education programs are to attend Mass in their parishes that evening. Of course everyone is welcome to attend any of these Masses.

While fasting and abstinence are good Lenten penances that enhance our self-discipline, they go hand in hand with works of charity or almsgiving. The children of our diocese traditionally have their “mite boxes” in which they may put a daily offering. These proceeds go to the Missionary Childhood Association, a papal missionary society. We have something similar for adults called Operation Rice Bowl. The idea is that what we save by fasting or “giving something up for Lent” we can use to feed the poor. So this weekend and on Ash Wednesday you are invited to take home a “rice bowl” into which you can put these daily savings or, as I do, just write out a check at the end of Lent. These proceeds go to Catholic Relief Services, an agency of the United States Catholic Bishops. CRS is sending aid to the victims of the recent devastating earthquake in Turkey and Syria in which tens of thousands have died or are homeless. So let’s all—child or adult—make a difference as we strive to grow in holiness and charity this Lent.

Pray the Rosary this week for the families of our parishes, especially those who are experiencing any kind of turmoil; and for the survivors and relief workers in Turkey and Syria. As always pray for peace and the safety of military personnel serving abroad.

May God bless his people with peace.

Monsignor Gorman

Hello and a blessed Sunday to you all!

Alexis Pomietlo

If you're anything like me (and I hope there's at least one of you out there), you are guilty of recommending a novena or litany to someone without ever praying it once yourself. My most recent experience with this involved the Surrender Novena. After recommending it to other people at least two or three times, I thought, Okay it's time to pray this myself.

It was put together by Servant of God Fr. Don Dolindo Ruotolo, the spiritual director of St. Padre Pio. He was an incredibly humble man who sought God's will and really nothing else in life. In his personal prayer, he was given extraordinary communication with Jesus and these serve as the basis for the nine reflections given throughout the course of the novena. The goal is to remind us that we can truly entrust our lives to God— every single facet (money, relationships, dreams, heartaches, etc.)— and He will take care of us. This reflection on Day Three stopped me in my mental tracks:

In pain you pray for me to act, but that I act in the way you want. You do not turn to me, instead, you want me to adapt to your ideas. You are not sick people who ask the doctor to cure you, but rather sick people who tell the doctor how to. So do not act this way, but pray as I taught you in the Our Father...

God wants us to trust that He both can and will take care of us. He wants us to surrender our need for control at the foot of the Cross. Learning how to relinquish our desire for control is most definitely a daily practice, but this is where true peace comes from. I'm extremely grateful God gave me the grace to actually follow through with this novena, and can now legitimately and wholeheartedly endorse it to all of you!

“The Screwtape Letters” Lenten Discussion Group

Join with other Chippewa Falls area Catholics as we explore C.S. Lewis' book, “The Screwtape Letters”. By looking at corruption of a human soul from the perspective of a devil, we'll learn how to not be a Christian while at the same time discovering how to be a Christian through loving things the devil hates and hating things the devil loves.

Our adventure begins Saturday, February 25 and runs each Saturday until April 1. Meetings will be 9:30am-11:00am in Holy Ghost Elementary School (come in the back door off the big parking lot). Bring your own book or purchase one at the first meeting ($10). No reading necessary before the first meeting. Bring your own coffee, we'll provide the rolls. Members of all area parishes are welcome.

RSVP to Paula Hanson <phanson@ourladyofthefalls.org> or Alexis Pomietlo <dre@stcharles-cf.com>.

Eucharistic Revival - A minute with Jesus

We can always deepen our understanding and devotion to this great mystery of Jesus' true Presence in the Eucharist.

18) Jesus teaches us that He is truly present in the Eucharist.

It is normal for us to struggle to believe this mystery. Uncertainty (doubt through lack of understanding) can be a healthy part of faith. When you are seeking God in prayer, hesitation in accepting the true Presence of Jesus in the Eucharist plays an important role in growing in faith because He will always come in to strengthen our faith in response to our desire to believe this Truth.

Let's pray this right now and every day this week: Jesus, please strengthen my faith to believe that You are truly present in the Holy Eucharist.

This week, read how Jesus responds to those who are questioning the mystery of the Eucharist in John 6: 52-59.

Eucharistic Revival Conference - March 3-4 (Free)

Here we are halfway through February already! We definitely are enjoying the warmer days and more sunshine.

Recently, Gracie Simon, Madelyn Wahl, and Lacie Simon represented St. Peter School at the Regional level of the Spelling Bee. We thank them for being great representatives of our school.

Our entire student body spent a Friday afternoon making cards for residents of the Chippewa Veterans Home and Meals on Wheels with the help of Jan Loew and Vicki Ruff. Everyone worked very hard and we made approximately 250 cards!

The fifth through eighth grades went to the Chippewa Moraine Ice Age Center in New Auburn. They enjoyed hiking outside, playing games, and roasting hot dogs and marshmallows. They also learned a lot about the geography and history of the land in the area. It was a great day. Thanks to our chaperones who helped out!

Are you ready to get out your grill? We are selling brats, hot dogs, and beef stix from Mike's Star Market as a school fundraiser. Please contact a school family or the school office if you are interested in ordering or see our school Facebook page for more information.
